THREE VOLLEYS FIRED AT MOB

First Serious Clash In Anthracite Coal Region.

Twenty Men Wounded, Some of Whom May Die.

Shot By Platoon of State Constabulary Force.

MINERS HAD THROWN STONES.

Mount Carmel, Pa., April 30.—The first serious collision in the anthracite coal regions since mining was suspended on April 1 occurred here to-day between a mob of idle mine workers and a platoon of the new State constabulary force, and resulted in the injuring of probably twenty men, three of whom will likely die. The disturbance was caused by an attack on a detail of State police by several hundred foreigners, who became incensed at the presence of the constables. They threw stones at the policemen and otherwise endangered their lives to such an extent that they were forced to fire on the crowd, which had swelled into thousands. The riot caused the greatest excitement in the many mining villages of the southern coal fields when it became known that mine workers had been shot down, but to-night the affected territory is comparatively quiet.

While it is believed that a score of persons were injured during the day, only ten are accounted for. The three who it is thought will die are:

R. Miserevich, shot in the stomach.

Stanislaus Watakoski, shot in the groin.

Louis Wilson, shot through the body.

Wilson was standing in front of his home, a block from the scene of the conflict. R. H. Gibson, trooper, was struck on the head with a stone and seriously hurt.

* * *

Origin of the Clash.

To-day's affair is the result of an attack upon nonunion men made at various times last week. The attacks became so numerous that Sheriff Sharpless, of Northumberland county, appealed to the State constabulary for help. In accordance with orders from Capt. John C. Groome, the superintendent of the State police, Troop C, which was marching from Reading to Hazleton, was divided, and half of the men, under Lieut. Smith, were sent to Mount Carmel, arriving here this morning.

After looking to their mounts, the troopers started out to get breakfast and immediately ran into trouble from an unexpected source. At the first hotel they went to the dining-room girls refused to serve them and they received the same treatment at two other places. In most of the small mining towns the helpers about hotels and other places are related to mine workers or in sympathy with them, and during strike times they do all they can to help the workers.

* * *

Crowd Throws Stones.

The presence of the troopers on the main street of the town caused a crowd of mine workers to gather about them and the bolder ones in the crowd began to stir up trouble. The crowd closed in on the state police and began throwing stones. The troopers charged the mob and scattered it, but not before several men were hurt, including a trooper, Lieut. Smith drew his men into line and threatened to shoot if the mob renewed the attack. In the meantime, local leaders of the mine workers circulated through the crowd and ordered the infuriated foreigners to disperse and keep the peace. The chief burgess, who is a member of the miners' union, addressed the crowd from a window and advised them to go home. This action had considerable effect and the detail of troopers started for the Sayre colliery of the Lehigh Valley Coal Company on the outskirts of Mount Carmel, where nonunion men had been attacked by foreigners Saturday night.

* * *

Three Volleys Fired.

Some of the mob persisted in following the troopers, and some one threw a stone at them, which was followed by a shower of others. Lieut. Smith wheeled his men about, gave the order to fire and it is said sent three volleys into the mob before it broke and ran. Half a dozen men were left lying on the ground and they were later picked up and cared for. The troopers did not pursue the crowd, but continued on their way to the Sayre colliery. From that place Lieut. Smith communicated with State police headquarters at Pottsville, and word immediately came back to hold his ground until re-enforcements arrived. In the meantime local Constables on behalf of the mine workers arrested Lieut. Smith on the charge of assault and battery with intent to kill. He was held in $500 bail, which was furnished. Three foreigners were also held on the same charge.

The troopers encamped to-night at Stuarisville, near the Sayre colliery.

* * *

Sheriff Counsels Peace.

Sheriff Sharpless and the borough authorities were busy to-night advising the foreigners, through interpreters, to keep away from the camp of the troopers. The mine workers' leaders are also counseling peace and greatly regret the disturbance of the day.

No one has ventured near the Sayre colliery since Lieut. Smith and his men went into camp near there, and it is the general opinion that there will be no further trouble.

Strike In Clearfield Region.

Punxsutawney, Pa., April 30.—By resolutions adopted at mass-meetings held to-day by members of subdistrict No. 5 of district No. 2, United Mine Workers of America, a strike is on in the soft-coal region of Clearfield, and although several thousand men are involved, there has been no trouble. Notices were posted by the operators that the scale of 1903 would be paid but the miners held out for the recognition of the union and the collection of the check off by the operators.

JUDICIARY COMMITTEE HEARS ARGUMENTS

BILL TO TRANSFER POWERS CASE TO FEDERAL COURTS.

COMMITTEEMEN ASK QUESTIONS OF MR. LANGLEY.

ADVERSE REPORT EXPECTED.

Washington, April 30. [Special.]—The House Judiciary Committee this morning heard arguments on the bill introduced by Representative Hughes providing for the transfer of the case of Caleb Powers to the Federal Courts. After the conclusion of the argument Representative Henry, of the committee said he was satisfied that the committee would unanimously report against the measure.

"I think there is no doubt," said Mr. Henry, "that the statement made by Mr. James, of Kentucky, against the bill effectually disposes of it."

John W. Langley, who advocated the bill, was interrupted many times by Chairman Jenkins, Representative Littlefield and other members of the committee. Their questions indicated that they did not consider advisable any legislation looking to broader provisions for the removal of causes from State courts to Federal tribunals.

Mr. Langley seemed unfamiliar with the Kentucky Statutes, and Representative James helped him out frequently in the answers as to the laws relating to changes of venue and other matters of interest in connection with the Powers case. Mr. Langley said that he was not a practicing lawyer and discussed the bill as a layman.

Representative James followed Mr. Langley. He discussed the Powers case in detail and many questions were asked by members of the committee. Mr. Littlefield, of Maine, took occasion to say that the Taylor pardon was one of the strongest bits of evidence against Powers. With the exception of Mr. Palmer, of Pennsylvania, none of the committee seemed in sympathy with Mr. Langley's objections or in sympathy with Powers. Mr. Langley made the statement that all of the Powers juries were solidly Democratic. Mr. James said that was untrue, and challenged Mr. Langley to prove his statements.

Mr. Langley offered no proof. Mr. Hughes, who offered the bill by request, was not present.

Mr. James said that neither of the Republican Representatives would father the bill. Mr. Langley's reply was that it had been agreed that it would be better for no Kentuckian or Indianian to introduce the bill, and that Representative Crumpacker would have gladly introduced it.

HOBSON'S BOOM

LAUNCHED BY FRIENDS FROM THE SOUTH.

Naval Hero To Be Put Forward For the Democratic Presidential Nomination.

New York, April 30.—[Special.]—The presidency of the United States is now Hobson's choice, and his boom reached New York to-day. Norman E. Mack, of Buffalo, N. Y., member of the Democratic National Committee, candidate hunter, platform builder, rainbow constructor, pacemaker and political harmonizer in general, has been down to Alabama to investigate the Hobson situation.

Capt. Richmond Pearson Hobson, United States Navy, retired, recently won in the primary election in the Sixth congressional district of Alabama the Democratic nomination for Congress, which is equivalent to election.

His success has so impressed his friends that they at first started to put him in the race for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Morgan, whose term expires next year, but after the visit of Mr. Mack, of Buffalo, the Hobson enthusiasts changed their minds and decided to make him a candidate for the nomination for President in 1908.

While in Alabama Mr. Mack had a long talk with L. B. Musgrove, one of the leading Democratic politicians of that State and the chief backer and political manager of Hobson. As a result of that conference Mr. Musgrove is now in this city to confer with the leading Democrats of the State. He is in charge of the Hobson presidential boom and is here to push it along.

JEROME ASKS FOR DELAY

April Grand Jury Passes Up Insurance Cases.

District Attorney Wants Decision From Courts.

Recorder Goff Says Responsibility Has Been Placed.

HIS SIGNIFICANT COMMENT.

New York, April 30.—The grand jury for April, upon the completion of its term to-day, returned a presentment to Recorder Goff in which it declared that it had failed to investigate political contributions by insurance officials because District Attorney Jerome had advised the jury not to do so. The jury stated also that it had asked Mr. Jerome for the evidence against the insurance officials and that he had opposed action because he desired first to secure an opinion from the appellate division of the Supreme Court of this State on the question whether such political contributions constituted larceny. Such an opinion, Mr. Jerome had told the jury, would be given early in May and the cases then could be taken up by a special grand jury for which he had asked.

Justice Greenbaum, the District Attorney informed the jury, had already decided that the contributions were larceny, but Mr. Jerome expressed his doubts whether this ruling would be sustained by the appellate division. Mr. Jerome said it was in order to secure such a ruling before indicting any of the insurance officials and attaching to them an indelible stain that he took the case against George W. Perkins direct to the court instead of before the grand jury in March.

"If Justice Greenbaum's ruling be sustained," the District Attorney said, "it will be necessary to call as witnesses Cornelius N. Bliss, treasurer of the Republican National Committee, and George B. Cortelyou its chairman, and Postmaster General, and indict a large portion of the officers of every financial institution in this city."

* * *

Reconsiders Sharp Comment.

Recorder Goff accepted the presentment and discharged the jury, but informed it that it had not done its duty, although it had rendered a signal service in accentuating the "unequivocal responsibility which now rests upon the District Attorney."

The jury in its presentment reported that it had called on Mr. Jerome to present the insurance matter which he already had presented to the previous jury.

Mr. Jerome advised the jury to let the matter go over to the special grand jury in May and the jury assented, "because," it reported, "for the grand jury to proceed against the advice of its legal adviser might involve a miscarriage of justice."

In his argument to the grand jury to induce it to withhold action Mr. Jerome reviewed his action and that of the March grand jury in asking the court for a ruling as to whether political contributions were criminal. Mr. Jerome said the court's ruling was such that the March jury could not comprehend it and decided to do nothing.

* * *

Jerome's Argument.

"An indictment is not simply an accusation in the eyes of the public," said Mr. Jerome. "Whatever is done with that indictment, it remains and always will remain an indelible stain."

"The court not being willing to make a definite ruling," he continued, "I was unwilling to present to another grand jury the questions involved in the contributions to political funds until I had an authoritative and definite ruling by a court. It made no difference to me which way the court ruled, but it seemed to me that there should be a ruling so that the grand jury might not find indictments against persons unless their acts constituted an offense."

Mr. Jerome then recited the arrest of G. W. Perkins and said as a result Justice Greenbaum ruled "that if a trustee of a corporation, especially a life insurance corporation, contributed its funds to a political party, that constituted larceny."

* * *

Quotes Folk and Deneen.

"That was the ruling of one Judge," said Mr. Jerome. "It is not a clear and simple proposition of law. A lawyer as eminent as ex-Judge Tracy, who does not represent any insurance company or any person connected with an insurance company, says that it is perfectly plain that it does not constitute larceny. Among others, I may mention Gov. Folk, of Missouri, and Gov. Deneen of Illinois, from both of whom it has been possible to get their opinions. Gov. Folk having been Circuit Attorney for St. Louis and Gov. Deneen having been Prosecuting Attorney for Cook county, Ill.; and there are a number of others.

"The moment Judge Greenbaum's decision was rendered, an order was entered the next day and appeal at once taken, which will be brought up for argument before five Judges of the Appellate division, on the first Friday in May. We will then have an authoritative decision on the apparent facts of this case, which will enable a grand jury or a District Attorney to act, and act at once. If Judge Greenbaum's decision is upheld, it will at once become necessary to call such people as Cornelius N. Bliss and George B. Cortelyou, men like that who were connected with the political campaign, within the statute of limitations, have them produce their bookks, see from what corporations they received contributions, and promptly proceed to indict the officers of these corporations. That would mean the indictment of a large portion of the financial officers of every large financial institution in New York.

"Why This Absurd Haste?"

"Now, why this absurd haste and desire when about the first of May this thing is to be passed upon by five Judges? My personal opinions or suspicions are not to be laid before you, gentlemen, but you understand perfectly well that there is a bitter conflict between the Morgan and the Harriman interests. You know that the most prominent person in connection with this whole matter of contributions in the public eye is George W. Perkins, a partner of Pierpont Morgan; but as a matter of fact it would involve the chief financial officers practically of every great financial institution in the country."

Commenting on the presentment, Recorder Goff said the jury had acted within its authority and it was the duty of the District Attorney to have submitted the evidence. Said the Recorder: "It would not be the truth for me to say that you performed your whole duty. Nevertheless you have rendered a signal service in accentuating the unequivocal responsibility which now rests upon the District Attorney. I appreciate fully the difficulty which would beset an investigation of this character by the grand jury unless you were aided earnestly by the co-operation of the District Attorney, your legal adviser, whose duty it is to prefer evidence formulated and presented to the grand jury. Whenever a public duty plainly devolves upon an official or an authority, the way to perform that duty is to do it, and not delegate the performance of it to somebody else."

INITIAL STEPS TAKEN IN FIGHT

AGAINST INDIANA STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

MAYOR HOLTZMAN AND PROMINENT DEMOCRATS VS. TAGGART.

A PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 30.—[Special.]—Prominent Democrats from all parts of Indiana, responding to a call from Mayor Holtzman, of this city, met here to-day and took the preliminary steps in the fight, the purpose of which is to depose the present State Central Committee and put the management of the coming campaign into other hands. The feeling out of which the meeting grew began in January, when the present commission was organized and State Senator O'Brien was made chairman. It was charged that the commission was dominated by National Chairman Taggart and when he was chosen treasurer much feeling was expressed. Since that time there have been forces quietly at work to undo the work of organization and thirty or more Democrats met here to-day to devise means for deposing the commission.

A permanent organization was found and a committee appointed to issue a manifesto against the further nomination of the party by Mr. Taggart and rules were suggested which the State Convention, which meets in June, will be asked to adopt. One of these provides that the present State Central Committee, which was chosen for two years, shall cease to exist after July 1; that the delegates to the State convention shall select the members of a new committee and that it shall take charge of the State campaign at once. The fight is aimed principally at National Chairman Taggart, and it is hoped to reorganize the committee in such a way as to make his re-election as National Chairman impossible. With two exceptions, the present committee is friendly to Taggart and a determiner fight will be made to prevent the reorganizers from carrying out their scheme at the State Convention.

BONDHOLDERS FILE SUITS FOR RECEIVER

For American Reserve Bond Company of Kentucky—Investigation In Boston.

Boston, Mass., April 30.—A bill in equity asking for the appointment of a receiver was filed in the Superior Court to-day by a committee of bondholders against the American Reserve Bond Company of Kentucky.

The State Savings Bank Commissioners are investigating the company, which, on February 24, was forbidden by the Massachusetts Commissioners to do business in this State.

Two suits have been filed in Kentucky for the appointment of a receiver for the American Reserve Bond Company of Kentucky. One has been filed before Judge Watts Parker, of the Circuit Court, at Lexington, which, it is thought, will be decided within the next week. A similar suit has been filed before Judge A. M. J. Cochran, of the United States Court for the Eastern district of Kentucky. The aim of all the suits is the same. The allegations are that the company does not fulfill its contracts or agreements. The headquarters of the company now are in Chicago, having been removed from Lexington some time ago.

FACING SHORTAGE IN FOOD SUPPLY

Mayor Schmitz Springs a Painful Surprise.

Feeding of Able-Bodied Male Adults a Problem.

Gen. Greely's Distributing Plans Effect Saving.

CLEARING DEBRIS IN 'FRISCO.

San Francisco, April 30.—A feeling akin to consternation was created at the meeting of the General Municipal Committee to-day when Mayor Schmitz stated that the city faced a shortage in the food supply. It had been the popular belief and that of many officials also, that San Francisco, through the supplies of various description had been placed in a position above want for a long time to come, and the Mayor's declaration came in the nature of a painful surprise. Mayor Schmitz informed the general committee that from information in his possession it appeared that 700 carloads of food and supplies of various rescription had been distributed since the morning of the earthquake on April 18, and the Southern Pacific, the Santa Fe and other transportation lines had information of only 108 cars on the way.

"If," said the Mayor, "this information is correct, and I have no reason to doubt it, we will soon be worse off than we were a week ago. If the information has gone abroad through the country that we are amply supplied, it is most unfortunate, for it is apparent that we are not."

* * *

Chairman Phelan's Statement.

Chairman Phelan, of the Committee on Finance, supplementing the remarks of the Mayor, said he had as yet received no reply to his telegram to Secretary of War Taft, asking what the relief committee might expect out of the fund of $2,500,00 appropriated by Congress, and, in the absence of such reply, he continued to assume that this would be available. He had information, however, that the $300,000 transmitted Saturday by Secretary Taft, was given him as president of the National Red Cross and was in no sense a contribution by the Government. As to private funds which had been placed in the hands of individuals here, he had received $25,000 from Gen. Funston, being part of the Guggenheim contribution. In transmitting this the General had said that he saw no further reason for any great expenditure on his part, and preferred to have the money disbursed by the Relief Finance Committee.

* * *

Gen. Greely's Calculations.

Basing his calculations upon reports received within the past twenty-four hours, General Greely stated this morning that the entire available food supply including shipments on hand and those en route, would be sufficient for the present population during a period of fifteen days. This reckoning is made upon the rate at which supplies have been consumed since the fire. Under the army ration system that will hereafter prevail, General Greely stated his belief that the same amount of food would last twenty-one days.

"Within the next seventy-two hours," said Gen. Greely, "we shall be obliged to deal with another vigorous problem—the question of feeding able-bodied male adults. The difficulty will be to distinguish in the cases of clerks, stenographers, music teachers and others who are actually unable to return an equivalent for a day's wages at hard labor. The men who are able to work will have to find occupation as fast as it is presented."

It was decided at a conference held here to-day by Governor Pardee, Congressman Kahn, Gen. Greely and Mayor Mott that the distribution of relief suplies in Oakland should be also placed under military direction similar to that in vogue in San Francisco. Oakland being the nearest large place of refuge from this city has been obliged to attend to the task of feeding and housing thousands of unfortunate people and it is stated that the same misuse of food by unscrupulous and mercenary persons has been unearthed there.

To-day the plan of General Greely for distributing food to people in want was commenced in a number of the newly created districts and there was some diminution noticeable in the output of goods.

* * *

Houses Accidentally Destroyed.

An unfortunate happening to-day was the destruction of a number of homes in the saved section on Van Ness avenue. The blasting gang was notified that certain insecure walls were a menace to pedestrians, and in order to blow up an unusually solidly constructed facade, was obliged to use a large quantity of dynamite. As a result of the tremendous explosion four houses on the other side of the city's broadest thoroughfare were utterly wrecked.

Signs of renewal of industrial activity were apparent in many parts of the burned districts to-day, and the work of clearing away debris preparatory to rebuilding was in progress in a score of places. It was said that plans for more than thirty large buildings had been drawn and will be submitted to the authorities after the new building laws are promulgated.

The Mayor notified the Board of Supervisors to-day that he would appoint a committee consisting of engineers, architects, builders and lawyers to prepare plans for laying out streets and boulevards and reconstructing San Francisco.

* * *

Car Lines Being Extended.

Street car lines are being extended in all directions, and United Railways has promised to give the people within a short time a better system of transit than existed before the fire.

At the meeting of the Finance Committee this afternoon no plans were submitted for solving the financial troubles of the city, and that question still remains open for future consideration.

It is estimated that 500 physicians have been left absolutely destitute. Dentists, too, suffered severely. Measures are being taken for their relief.

Of San Francisco's seventy-six school buildings twenty-eight were wiped out or made useless. The Department of Education has declared the schoolhouses that opened last fall at an end, and has announced an indefinite vacation.

CRUSHING OUT LABOR MOVEMENT

POLICE LAND MAJORITY OF LEADERS IN JAIL.

DOWNPOUR OF RAIN TENDS TO DAMPEN ARDOR.

FINAL MILITARY MEASURES.

Paris, April 30.—The eve of May 1 finds the authorities concluding preparations of unprecedented magnitude to guard the city against violence. As a final measure of warning, a large number of arrests were made to-day, principally of organizers of the Confederation of Labor, imperialist sympathizers charged with fomenting disorder, and anarchists of various degrees of prominence.

The arrests have served their main purpose in disorganizing and discouraging the violent element, which finds itself practically without leaders for the monster demonstration planned for to-morrow. Nevertheless, the Confederation of Labor headquarters to-night gave out a declaration that the demonstration will proceed, each trade pursuing its own course.

The movement, however, appears to have lost heart, as its conspicuous figures are either in jail or have taken to flight. A heavy downpour of rain to-night promises to further dampen the enthusiasm of the workmen.

Mr. Griffuelhes, the virtual head of the Confederation of Labor, was arrested, interrogated and sent to jail. A warrant was issued for M. Levy, the treasurer of the Confederation, but he could not be found. Leon Robert, secretary of a branch of the Confederation, was arrested and his house was searched.

The Imperialists arrested include Count de Bouregard, who is charged with being the head of the plot against the Government; Maj. Feuilient, formerly commander of the imperial guard, and M. Vibert, editor of the imperialist journal, L'Autorite. A warrant was also issued against M. Fromentin, a wealthy anarchist, who has not been found. An order of expulsion has been issued against several lesser anarchists. Searches and arrests occurred simultaneously at many points in the provinces. It is reported that Capt. Tamburin and Capt. Volpert, who figured in a previous plot, are also to be arrested.

The military and police measures for the protection of the city were finally arranged at a conference to-night between Prefect Lepine and the colonels of the various regiments on duty here. The police, supported by the troops, will occupy the principal strategic points of the city at daylight to-morrow. The troops will receive supplies for active field duty, including two packages of cartridges and two days' reserve rations. The light cavalry will carry lances.

FOR HOME-COMING

People of Jessamine County Are Preparing.

Nicholasville, Ky., April 30.—[Special.]—June 20 has been selected as the date for Home-coming day in Jessamine county. An old-fashioned picnic dinner will be served in some woodland spot near town and persons outside of the county who expect to be present are requested to send their names to Secretary J. Norton Fitch.

WITTE MAY BE DISCARDED

More Rumors of Premier's Early Downfall.

He Is Said To Be Disgusted With Situation.

St. Petersburg Newspaper Says He Has Resigned.

SERIOUS BREACH EVIDENT

St. Petersburg, April 30.—While the Associated Press is unable absolutely to confirm the story that Emperor Nicholas has accepted Premier Witte's resignation, it can be affirmed that Count Witte has again asked the Emperor to choose between him and Interior Minister Durnovo.

The correspondent of the Associated Press, moreover, called to-night at the Premier's residence in the Winter Palace. Count Witte was dining out and M. Vouitch, the chief of the chancellory, was suspiciously evasive when questioned regarding the report of the approaching retirement of his superior. "I can say nothing," was all he would say. Such a reply in itself may be regarded as partial confirmation of the rumor.

* * *

Rumors of Retirement.

Rumors of Count Witte's retirement coupled with the assertion that the Emperor would appoint him President of the Council of the Empire, have been current since Saturday, but they have been so frequently put in circulation of late that they have attracted but little attention, especially in view of the fact that Count Witte was believed to have definitely downed his rival, M. Durnovo. It appears, however, that Premier Witte's enemies have been only shamming until the loan negotiations could be finished, and that with the consumation of the loan the court intrigue for the overthrow of the Premier and the restoration of M. Durnovo to power was resumed. One of the chief points of Count Witte's strength during his long struggle for supremacy was the Emperor's firm belief that no financial aid would be given Russia by foreign bankers if the Premier retired. With the loan made, Count Witte's enemies instantly set to work to convince Emperor Nicholas that his usefulness was ended and that he could be discarded like an old boot.

* * *

Witte Disgusted.

The Associated Press is in a position to state that Count Witte is utterly disgusted with the turn of events, and especially with the possibility that the Emperor might not redeem his promise to dismiss Minister Durnovo before the assembling of the National Parliament, and that within a few days the Premier offered the Emperor the alternative of Durnovo or himself. According to the story, Emperor Nicholas is lending his ear to Premier Witte's foes, but instead of permitting him to drop out of public life, wants him to accept the presidency of the Council of the Empire, a position of dignity, but, like the one he occupied when Plehve unhorsed him in 1903, without power.

The organ of the Constitutional Democrats will to-morrow publish a story of the acceptance of Premier Witte's resignation, the editor of the paper, Prof. Milukoff, claiming to have direct information that the Emperor has released Count Witte.

* * *

Probable Successor.

If M. Witte retires at this critical juncture, M. Kokovsoff, formerly Minister of the Interior, who is exceedingly anxious for the Premiership, is likely succeed him. M. Kokovsoff, who is also in favor at court, is a man of little depth, but is a suave talker. The reactionaries believe that such a man is needed to face the National Parliament.

The theratening attitude of the peasants in the Volga provinces is indicated in a telegram received to-day by Premier Witte from M. Stolypin, Governor of Saratof, saying that if the National Parliament is dispersed without settling the land question, he will wash his hands of responsibility for what may happen in the provinces. The telegram is all the more remarkable, as coming from one of the old school of provincial officials whose views are so close to those of Minister Durnovo, that the court camarilla all but forced his nomination as Minister of the Interior instead of M. Durnovo.

Old Council's Last Session.

The last session of the old Council of the Empire, which is to be supplanted by a new council, one-half of the members of which are elective, was held to-day. Very few members held over and the Emperor is having trouble in filling out the number of appointed members, M. Gutchkoff, Senator Koni and several others declining to accept the seats tendered them on the ground that they should be the gift of the people and not of the crown. The composition of the new Council of the Empire is largely undetermined, though it will meet on the same day as the representative chamber.

The great desolate region in the vicinity of Yakutsk has been selected as a new Sakhalin, to which high political offenders will be banished. The site has been selected because it is sparsely settled, remote from railroads and escape is considered almost impossible. The climate approximates that of Sakhalin, but the soil is capable of yielding a scanty living.

HIGHER COLLEGE FOR WOMEN

Indorsed by Kentucky Synod Southern Presbyterians.

Only Contingent Is Raising of $15,000.

Committee Authorized To Carry On the Work.

WOULD BE ON VASSAR PLAN.

Contingent only on the raising of $15,000 by noon of May 30, the Committee on Higher Education of Women of the Synod of Kentucky, of the Southern Presbyterian church, in co-operation with a similar committee from the Synod of Kentucky of the Northern Presbyterian church, will conclude contracts and complete all arrangements looking toward the establishment of a college for the higher education of women at Danville.

All members of the synod of the Southern church are determined that the raising of the fund of $15,000 must not fail. This is believed to mean that Kentucky will have a Presbyterian college for the higher education of women which will take rank with the large Eastern women's colleges.

At the called meeting yesterday morning of the Synod of Kentucky, of the Presbyterian Church in the United States, which is the Southern branch, the report of the committee was received in which the proposals made by James A. Shuttleworth, of Louisville, were recast, and in which were reported the results of the investigation made by the committee appointed by the synod at its last regular meeting last October. The committee is composed of the Rev. W. C. Clark, D. D., of Louisville, chairman; John Stites, Louisville; Col. Bennett H. Young, Louisville; Col. Thomas W. Bullitt, Louisville; the Rev. L. H. Blanton, D. D., Danville; the Rev. Thomas Cummins, D. D., Henderson; the Rev. Edward Muller, D. D., Lexington; the Rev. William Irvine, D. D., Bowling Green; and John Steele, Nicholasville.

The report in full made by the committee is as follows:

Louisville, Ky., April 30, 1906.—The Synod of Kentucky of the Presbyterian Church in the United States—Brethren: Your Committee on the Higher Education of Women would respectfully report that, as outlined in their report to your body in October, 1905, a proposition has been made to them for the establishment of a college for the higher education of women, to be located at Danville, Ky., which they regard as exceedingly advantageous to our church and which is as follows:

The property of Caldwell College, located in Danville, to be turned over to a corporation to be organized under the laws of Kentucky, under the joint ownership and control of this synod and the Synod of Kentucky of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, one-half of the directors to be selected from each synod, and each synod to have the joint oversight and control of the institution, as it now has of the seminary at Louisville and of Central University, at Danville.

The property consists of about five acres of land, with the buildings on it, which cost something in excess of $75,000, and for the purposes of a college could not be replaced for much less. It has, in the opinion of your committee, a market value of about $50,000, and is incumbered by a debt of $30,000.

If this proposition is accepted by the two synods and the sum of $30,000 is raised to pay the debt, James A. Shuttleworth, a citizen of Louisville, will deed to the institution real estate in Danville, Ky., adjoining the college and admirably located for a campus and buildings for the college, which is of a market value of about $30,000, and which will give the college, with its present grounds, a campus of between twenty-five and thirty acres, and for the purposes of a college the whole property will be worth at least $100,000.

Already Raising Funds.

The committee representing the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America have raised their half of the debt, or $15,000, and if this synod will authorize the raising of the other $15,000, the transaction can be closed, and we will have an institution for the education of our young women that we may well be proud of. Your committee, seeing the importance of prompt and vigorous action, appointed a subcommittee to raise the $15,000, needed to secure the generous offer made. This subcommittee in turn appointed the Rev. David M. Sweets, of Shelbyville, Ky., financial agent, to raise the money. It has been reported to us that he has been making good progress, and we suggest to the Synod that the plan of your committee be approved; that our people be urged to respond promptly and liberally to this cause, that we may not fail to secure so valuable a property as is now held out to us; that this committee, in the event the necessary amount be raised, be continued and be authorized and empowered to close the contract with the parties and to take the necessary legal steps to incorporate the college and secure a charter for the same under the laws of the State of Kentucky, and in connection with a similar committee from the other synod, to select a board of trustees, one-half from the members of this synod, and the other half to be selected from the members of the Synod of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America, to be reported to said synods for their approval, the charter to provide that each synod shall have the right to object to the employment or the retaining of any professor or teacher that may be employed in said college, and to be equally and jointly in control thereof. This offer is open to us until noon on May 30, so that prompt action is required, all of which is respectfully submitted to your honorable body.

Immediately after the reading of the report the following resolution was carried unanimously:

Committee Given Power.

Resolved, That the Synod has heard with pleasure the report of the Committee on the Higher Education of Women; that it approves same and that the committee be continued with authority to appeal to our people to contribute the necessary money to secure this most generous offer; and, if the sum is secured, to accept the proposition and in connection with the Committee of the Synod of Kentucky of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America, to incorporate the college under the laws of the State of Kentucky, and agree upon a Board of Trustees as outlined in said report, said charter to conform in general to the terms set out in the report, and to report its action at the next regular meeting or called meeting of the Synod.

The next regular meeting of the Synod of the Southern Church is set for October 9 at Henderson, although it is regarded as more than possible that a called meeting will be held in June in case the $15,000, upon which depends the progress of the plan, is raised by the time set in the proposition made by Mr. Shuttleworth. John Stites is chairman of the subcommittee appointed by the committee of the Synod to raise the money. The Rev. David M. Sweets, who is pastor of the First Presbyterian church of the Southern Assembly at Shelbyville, was appointed some time ago to act as finanical agent. The subcommittee held a meeting yesterday afternoon at the office of John Stites at the Fidelity Trust building, at which further plans for the raising of the fund were discussed. The Synod of Kentucky of the Presbyterian Church of the United States of America, which is commonly known as the Northern branch of the church, has raised the $15,000 allotted to it, and all that remains to be done until definite progress is made in the establishment of the school is for the Synod of the Southern branch to obtain subscriptions for that sum. When asked as to what progress had been made the Rev. Mr. Sweets said yesterday afternoon that he had made some progress, but that the end of the work was by no means in sight.

"Fifteen thousand dollars," he said, "doesn't sound very large, but it is a big sum when you ask people to give it to you, no matter for what purpose. We are negotiating now for several subscriptions and hope to have the necessary sum subscribed by the time set. We shall leave no stone unturned, you may be sure of that."

Would Complete Plans.

The instructions given by the Synod to the committee yesterday morning were final and delegated to the members of the committee the power to complete full arrangements and to arrange for all the details for the establishment and the conducting of the college provided the money is raised. The college is to be patterned after such institutions as Vassar and other of the great women's colleges and will be of the same standard. It will round out the scheme of education entered by the Presbyterians in Kentucky. With the school for men in Central University, at Danville, the school for women, in the college yet to be named, also at Danville, and the Presbyterian Theological Seminary, at Louisville, the consolidated educational institutions of both Synods will be complete.

The session of the Synod yesterday morning was called to order in the First Presbyterian church, Fourth avenue and York street, with fifty members present. The moderator, the Rev. Dr. S. D. Boggs, of Catlettsburg, was absent, and the Rev. Dr. J. S. Lyons, pastor of the church and former moderator of the Synod, presided over the deliberations of the body. The Rev. L. H. Blanton, of Danville, stated clerk, was present, as was the Rev. L. O. Spencer, of Elizabethtown, permanent clerk. The session was short and adjourned before noon. Aside from the hearing of the report of the Committee on the Higher Education of Women, the Synod took favorable action on the plan of the trustees of Walters Collegiate Institute, at Richmond, to transfer the property of the institute to the State for the purposes of a State normal school for the Eastern district of Kentucky. The action was in the form of a resolution, in which was embodied the contract entered into by Central University, at Danville, and Walters Collegiate Institute, at Richmond, and the bond executed by the institute in favor of the university. The resolution, exclusive of the contract and the bond, reads as follows:

"Whereas, An agreement between Central University of Kentucky and Walters Collegiate Institute has been entered into by said parties, which is in words and figures as follows: (Here was inserted a copy of the contract.)

Whereas, Said agreement provides for the execution and delivery by Walters Collegiate Institute and other persons as its sureties to Central University of a certain bond, and the said bond has been executed by Walters Collegiate Institute and a number of other persons as its sureties:

Whereas, Said agreement of April 2, 1906, between Central University and Walters Collegiate Institute provides that same shall become effective when it shall be approved by the synod of the Southern Presbyterian Church of Kentucky.

Now therefore, be it resolved that the agreement and bond aforesaid be and they are hereby approved and Central University is authorized and empowered so far as the interest of this synod is concerned to execute and deliver said agreement and receive said bond pursuant thereto.

Normal Light Offered.

In 1901, Central College, at Richmond, the State school of the Southern Presbyterians, and Center University, at Danville, the State school of the Northern Presbyterians, were consolidated and the seat of learning moved to Danville. The people of Richmond and Madison county objected to the removal of the college from the county unless they were left a school of some kind. So, in the buildings formerly occupied by Central College, Walters Collegiate Institute was established. When the General Assembly divided the State into two Normal School districts, it was suggested that the grounds and the buildings of Walters Collegiate Institute would be an ideal seat for the establishment of the Normal School for the Eastern district. The trustees of Walters Institute favored the plan, as did those of Central University, and on April 2, the agreement was made by them, subject to the approval of the Synods of the two branches of the Presbyterian Church in Kentucky. The Synod of the Southern branch yesterday gave its approval to the plan. The Synod of the Northern branch never had any property interest in the school.

The agreement, the terms of which have been published, provides that the trustees of the Walters Institute may offer the grounds and buildings of Walters Institute to the State for the establishment of a State Normal School. The residences of two of the professors of the school are expected, and it is further provided that if the institute obtains the State Normal School without the granting of the preparatory building, the institute shall continue to be conducted. The bond is given by the institute to the university to indemnify the latter.

NEARLY A YEAR

PARENTS ARE IN IGNORANCE OF DAUGHTER'S MARRIAGE.

Miss Dorothy Bacon and Roy Geoghegan Married In Shelbyville, Ind., Last June.

Despite the fact that their daughter, Miss Dorothy H. Bacon and Roy Geoghegan were married in Shelbyville, Ind., last June, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Bacon were not apprized of the fact until yesterday. The news of the marriage was broken to them by their daughter, who will leave within a few days to join her husband in Atlanta, Ga.

"They had been sweethearts and almost inseparable for years," said Mr. Bacon, when seen at his home, 2033 Brook street last night, "but the announcement on the part of my daughter took both my wife and I completely by surprise. We had no particular objection to the marriage except the age of the couple. My daughter is nineteen, and Mr. Geoghegan is twenty years old. He secured a position with a big tobacco house in Atlanta a few weeks ago."

Roy Geoghegan is the son of R. B. Geoghegan, who lives at 1042 Fourth avenue. The bride's father is the Louisville representative of Ware & Leland, brokers. He has an office on the first floor of the Kenyon building.

"My daughter and Mr. Geoghegan made frequent visits together to Indianapolis last summer," said Mr. Bacon, "and it was during one of these trips they decided to marry. Often since then they have spoken in a joking way of the ceremony, but we never dreamed they were in earnest. I am fond of my son-in-law and am glad to class him as a member of my family."

CONGESTION OF BRAIN CAUSES DEATH.

William Campbell, thirty-five years old, died at the Gray-street Infirmary yesterday morning at 9 o'clock, of congestion of the brain. He was unmarried. The funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of his sister, Mrs. Anderson, 2918 Garfield avenue, where he had resided. The burial will be at Cave Hill.

TUMULTUOUS

Day In House Over Free Seed Proposition.

MR. TRIMBLE COMES TO RESCUE OF FARMERS.

THEY PRODUCE WEALTH AND SHOULD GET SOMETHING.

TO RESUME DEBATE TO-DAY.

Washington, April 30.—[Special.]—The proceedings in the House to-day were more tumultous than they have been at this session. It all came up over the proposition to discontinue the Government issue of free seed to the farmers. Everybody in the House wanted to say something, and in the general confusion few could be heard. The advocates for the distribution would receive constant interruptions from the other side, while every man who spoke in favor of cutting off the seed was virtually howled down by the committee's opponents. In a short speech in favor of continuing the present policy of the Agricultural Department, Representative Trimble, of Kentucky, made the hit of the day. He made a strong plea for the sending out of seed and declared that if members were inclined to regard it as a petty graft it was the only thing the farmers received of a nature of that kind.

"They want it," said Mr. Trimble, "it is a very small sum and the House should not follow the committee in its recommendations.

"You cannot," said Mr. Trimble, "take this course on the plea of economy. There is not a day passes that we do not put through a bill not one-tenth so meritorious. The farmers produce the wealth of the country, and the truth is they pay the taxes. They should get something."

Mr. Trimble declared that the fight against the seed distribution was in the interest of the wholesale seed dealers, and he created a good deal of enthusiasm by citing a report from the Agricultural Department showing that in Representative Wadsworth's district there was a wholesale firm selling seed containing over 60 per cent. of adulterants. The appropriation, he said, should be inserted in the bill. He thought the naval measure would afford a good place to start the work of economy, not the Agricultural Bill.

Eighteen pages of the Agricultural Appropriation Bill were considered and perfected. The debate on the question of free seeds will be resumed to-morrow, when a vote is expected on the amendment to insert an appropriation of $90,000 for the purchase and distribution of "rare and unusual seeds."

LIVELY DISCUSSION

In Executive Session of Senate Over Barnes' Nomination.

Washington, April 30.—The nomination of Benjamin F. Barnes, assistant secretary to President Roosevelt, to be postmaster of Washington was before the Senate in executive session for nearly two hours to-day. Most of the discussion arose over a motion by Senator Culberson to recommit the nomination to the Committee on Post-offices and Post-roads. The Senate adjourned at 6 o'clock without taking any action. Senator Culberson stated that general protests had been filed by citizens against the confirmation of Mr. Barnes and that the Post-office Committee had failed to give to the protests the consideration of an investigation. The charges relate to the action of Mr. Barnes in having Mrs. Minor Morris ejected from the White House and to the fact that Washingtonians believe the office should be given to a citizen. Senator Tillman related his efforts to have the Post-office Committee enter upon a formal investigation. The discussion will be resumed at the next executive session.

ON FRIDAY, MAY 14,

Senate To Begin Voting On Amendments To Rate Bill.

Washington, April 30.—The Senate will begin voting on the amendments to the Railroad Rate Bill on Friday, May 14. An amendment to that effect was reached to-day, but it proved impossible to so extend the understanding as to have it include the fixing of a date for taking a final vote on the bill as a whole. Mr. Tillman first proposed a final vote on May 9 and Mr. Morgan was the only Senator to make objection. His opposition was sufficient, however, to frustrate the design and the next most feasible course, the disposition of amendments, was decided upon. The general impression among Senators is that the final vote will be reached within a week from the time of the beginning of the consideration of amendments.

Most of the time of the Senate to-day was devoted to listening to a speech by Mr. Clarke, of Arkansas, in which he criticised the pending rate bill as ineffectual to remedy existing conditions.

PENSION BILL RECORD

Seems Likely To Be Made By Present Congress.

Washington, April 30.—While the present Congress seemingly has devoted the greater part of its time to consideration of the railroad rate measures and other bills which yet have not been passed upon, the records show that more general and special legislation than is usual at this period of the session has been enacted into law.

In the five months of the session Congress has passed 130 public laws—bills of a general nature, and about 2,250 pension bills. This promises to be a record session for many years so far as pension legislation is concerned. At the long session of Congress two years ago practically 1,800 pension bills were enacted and it has been a good many years since that record was exceeded. Already at the present session that number has been passed by more than 400 and many more pension measures are in sight. Most of these have been signed by the President and now are laws. It is likely he will sign 300 or 400 more this week.

Treasury Statement.

Washington, April 30.—To-day's statement of the treasury balances in the general fund exclusive of the $150,000,000 gold reserve shows: Available cash balance $158,426,085; gold coin and bullion $62,360,702; gold certificates $46,213,440.

PATROLMAN IMPROVING; NEGRO STILL WEAK.

The condition of Patrolman Maurice O'Hearn, who was seriously cut by Albert Overton, colored, whom he was trying to arrest Saturday night, is reported by the attending physician, Dr. A. R. Bizot, to be much improved. O'Hearn was able to be out of bed yesterday and all fever has left him. He is still very weak, however, and will be confined to his home for some time. The condition of the negro, who was shot through the abdomen by the patrolman, and who is not expected to recover, is about the same as it was after he was operated on Saturday night.

A fair vote is that recorded this morning after the rush of Sunday. In District No. 10, Miss Fannie Walker goes to second place, and in District No. 12, Miss Annie May Yonts jumps up two points. Ballots representing one thousand or more votes were cast by Miss Molly Schiffman, No. 6; Miss Katie Borgerding, No. 9; Miss Anna May Yonts, No. 12. Miss Iva Upton, of No. 14, and Miss Cora Morehead, No. 19, have withdrawn from the contest.

Carelessness on the part of friends of contestants is still costing these candidates votes. Packages of ballots were received yesterday from Owensboro and from Lagrange bearing no name or identification marks.

TWENTY YOUNG WOMEN

To Be Taken Abroad For a Seven-Weeks' Tour; All Expenses Paid.

The Courier-Journal will send to Europe, all expenses paid, twenty young women from Kentucky and Southern Indiana. Nineteen of the members of the party are to be selected from nineteen districts, the boundaries of these districts being shown in another part of this paper. Accommodations.

The accommodations to be furnished the Courier-Journal's tourists will be of the very best. The trip from Louisville to New York and return will be in a special Pullman Palace parlor, dining and sleeping car. The ocean passage from New York to Glasgow will be first-class, on the twin-screw steamer "Columbia," of the Anchor Line, with return passage from Antwerp to New York by steamer of the Red Star Line. Rail travel in Europe will be second-class, with the exception of the travel in Great Britain, where second-class does not exist, and third-class is substituted. Accommodations will be at first-class hotels from date of landing at Europe until departure therefrom; accommodation to consist of bedroom, lights and service, meat breakfast, table d'hote lunch and dinner, according to custom of the hotel; transfers of passengers and baggage between railroad stations and hotels, steamship piers, etc., together with free conveyance of sixty pounds of baggage, each passenger on the tour, while in Europe; 250 pounds on Atlantic steamers; incidental fees for sight-seeing in the various cities visited, for hotel servants, porters, etc., carriage drives and local excursions at the various points visited. A competent guide and conductor will be with the party all the time, and a staff representative of the Courier-Journal will also accompany the party from start to finish.

As To Ballots.

A ballot is printed on the second page of the Courier-Journal every day. This ballot is good for one vote. Special ballots good for extra votes are furnished for paid-in-advance subscriptions, ranging from 1,000 for one year down to twenty for one month.

Ballots must reach the Courier-Journal office on or before the date of expiration printed on the top of the ballot—otherwise they will not be counted. Single ballots cut from paper are good only one week from day printed. Special ballots will have a longer limit, the date of expiration being stamped on each ballot.

Candidates or others sending in several ballots at one time, all for the same name, need not fill them all out. Fill the top one carefully, then pin or stick them together. Ballots cut from the paper should be trimmed carefully, on the outside of the black border or margin.

All special ballots calling for twenty or more votes will be filed and kept until the end of the contest. Single ballots, cut from the paper from day to day, will be carefully counted twice, and will then be destroyed. A candidate or a representative may call at the Tour Department of the Courier-Journal at any time and inspect her ballots.

The last ballot or coupon will be printed June 23, and no ballot or coupon will be counted unless received at the Courier-Journal office by noon, July 2. No special ballots will be issued on subscriptions after 12 o'clock noon, Saturday, June 23, under any circumstances.

As To Candidates.

Any woman, over twenty or under forty-five years of age, July 1, 1906, is eligible, provided conditions set forth herewith are complied with.

Every candidate must be regularly nominated, on a blank furnished by the Courier-Journal, on application. Candidates may nominate themselves, or their friends may do so for them. Nominations must be indorsed by three responsible citizens of the town or county in which the candidate lives—merchants, professional men or officials who can easily be reached or found.

Candidates must reside in the district or territory from which nominated. A candidate removing from this district or territory after being nominated will lose all votes received; and no candidate will be permitted to transfer votes to another after received at the Courier-Journal office, under any circumstances.

Paid-in-advance subscriptions will be delivered by carrier where we have carrier service, by mail or through agent, as the subscriber desires. (See the list showing special value coupons or ballots for paid-in-advance subscriptions).

No employe of the Courier-Journal, or member of an employe's family, will be eligible as a candidate.

Any successful candidate shall have the right to name a substitute, subject to our approval, if unable to go herself. Such substitute must be named seven days before the date set for leaving Louisville.

The candidate receiving the largest number of votes in each of the districts will be entitled to the free trip to Europe.

The candidate receiving the largest number of votes will, of course, be the successful candidate from her district. In addition, however, the candidate who receives the second largest number of votes, regardless of district, will also be entitled to the free trip, and will be included as the twentieth member of the party.

In case of a tie for first place in any district, or for the twentieth member of the party, both candidates will be counted successful, and will be taken on the tour.

Any questions or controversies that may arise are to be settled by the Courier-Journal alone.

In accepting nominations all candidates must accept and agree to and abide by above conditions.

Long-Term Subscriptions.

To protect all candidates, and to be fair to everyone, the Courier-Journal has decided to issue no special ballots on subscriptions, new or renewal, for a term extending beyond December 31, 1907. Subscriptions may be renewed or paid in advance beyond that date if desired, but ballots will only be issued for the time up to December 31, 1907. An Important Point.

The Courier-Journal is conducting this Popularity Contest for the purpose of increasing its regular circulation—not merely to sell papers. Therefore, we will not permit any candidate or friend of a candidate to order a number of papers to be delivered to one address, to be thrown away, after ballots are secured. We require a name for every paper subscribed for or sent out. This is a fair proposition for all candidates, and a protection for all.

Subscription Blanks.

The Courier-Journal much prefers that all orders or tour subscriptions be sent in on regular printed blanks prepared for this purpose. We will gladly send blanks and return envelopes to anyone on application.

All mail in reference to the Popularity Contest should be addressed Tour-to-Europe Department, Courier-Journal, Louisville, Ky.

Be certain to prepay postage in full on all mail matter sent us. The Post-office Department will not deliver packages of ballots unless prepaid in full, and consequently these ballots will be lost to the candidates.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR DEMOCRATS

Men Prominent In Party Mapping Out Work.

Tariff To Be a Much-Discussed Issue.

Minority Leader Williams Sanguine of Success.

VIEWS OF CHAMP CLARK.

Washington, April 30.—[Special.]—Chicago headquarters will form an important part of the conduct of the Democratic congressional campaign this year. Chairman Griggs has designated Representative Lloyd, of Missouri, to establish headquarters in Chicago, while Representative Bowers, of Mississippi, and Gaines, of Tennessee, will be here in Washington all the summer to assist the chairman. Representative Champ Clark, of Missouri, who, with Representative Williams and other members of the House, expects to spend much of his time on the stump, is more sanguine of Democratic success than he has been for a long time. The Democrats believe the tariff will be more discussed than any other issue.

Mr. Clark to-day said:

"While there is nothing certain in the world except death and taxes, the signs of the times indicate large Democratic gains in the congressional elections, large enough to give us the Sixtieth Congress. The leaven of tariff revision is working everywhere.

* * *

Affairs In Massachusetts.

"The Massachusetts Republicans, led by Gov. Curtis Guild, Jr., in their platform last year, demanded 'immediate tariff revision,' and in his famous letter to President Roosevelt, after the election of 1905, Gov. Guild declared that had they not declared for 'immediate tariff revision,' the entire Republican ticket would have been overwhelmingly defeated. Acting on this idea, Mr. McCall, of Massachusetts, introduced a bill looking toward tariff revision, and wrote Mr. Chairman Payne inquiring as to the prospects for tariff revision at this session. Mr. Payne sat upon Mr. McCall with great ponderosity. The Payne-McCall correspondence has become historic, and will make a vote-getting Democratic campaign document.

"Then, so Madam Rumor says, certain Massachusetts Republican Representatives felt the congressional Republican pulse to see if the necessary fifty names could be secured to a call for a caucus to consider tariff revision, but finding that many names could not be obtained, the movement collapsed. But, on Gov. Guild's statement as to what would have happened in the old Bay State last year except for the declaration in favor of 'immediate tariff revision' is true, it is a mild prediction. In the light of the failure of tariff revision at this session, that the Massachusetts delegation will be largely Democratic in the Sixtieth Congress.

"Speaker Cannon's celebrated letter will also help Democrats, because he must be dull, indeed, who expects tariff revision at the hands of a Republican Congress. Knowing that they have no hope from a Republican House, tariff revision Republicans will no doubt vote for the Democratic candidates. Last week Gov. A. B. Cummings, of Iowa, though violating all precedents by running for a third term in the gubernatorial office, unhorsed Mr. Secretary Shaw in the Tenth congressional district congressional convention, which is the Secretary's home district. Gov. Cummings is the apostle of tariff revision and Secretary Shaw is the chief of the stand-patters.

"'Coming events cast their shadows before,' and Democratic congressional gains in Iowa are among the probabilities. Reports from New York, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Illinois and Wisconsin are most cheerful for the Democrats. The Democrats are getting together everywhere more completely than at any other time since 1892, while the Republican factions are waging Kilkenny catfights in a half dozen States. More power for their claws."

Patent Office Relief Wanted.

Patent attorneys are calling upon Congressmen to find some way to relieve conditions in the Patent Office. There are over 20,000 applications on hand which have not been acted upon and the office is running behind at the rate of 3,000 patents a year. This caused enormous losses to persons who have invented useful articles, which they cannot place on the market because of their inability to borrow capital with which to manufacture their inventions until their patents are granted.

The present Commissioner of Patents, although having an increase in his force, has not kept up with the business of the country. This, it is charged by the patent attorneys, is due to defective administration, to red tape and the obsolete methods employed.

Senator Clark, of Arkansas, spoke today on the Rate Bill and supported the Bailey amendment against injunction by inferior courts. Senator Daniel, of Virginia, will speak to-morrow and, it is said, will oppose the Bailey amendment. Thus it goes.

* * *

Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, has introduced a bill providing for a thorough inspection through the Department of Agriculture of all fruits, berries, vegetables, potatoes and melons shipped from one State to another. The inspector is to give the consignee a duplicate certificate containing the result of the inspection.

The act requires commission merchants handling these articles to keep a record of receipts, sales and profits which shall at all times be open to inspection. Fines ranging from $100 to $300 are fixed. The bill carries an appropriation of $25,000.

An examination will be held here June 11 for the filling of twelve vacancies in the grade of assistant paymaster in the navy. This is an excellent opportunity for young men who can meet the requirements, which are not excessive.

* * *

The 'Frisco Relief Issue.

The sympathy of the whole world, especially the United States part of it, went out to the stricken people of San Francisco and the generous contributions from every city and hamlet in the country have been made to relieve suffering. All this is as it should be, but when it comes to asking the Government to stand behind a $200,000,000 bond issue to rebuild the city that is a horse of another color. However, the spirit of paternalism seems to have taken a strong hold on the people.

Representative Sims, of Tennessee, to-day introduced a bill allowing patrons of the rural free delivery service to put up for their individual use boxes constructed of such material (wood or otherwise) as they desire.

IN NATURE'S CHURCH, COUPLE WED IN CHEROKEE PARK

With Grassy Slope Their Altar, Miss Annye Stowe and Jesse Burrus, of Hopkinsville, Are Married.

MISS ANNYE STOWE.

With all outdoors for their canopy and with the spreading branches of a big maple tree for the bridal bower, a grassy hill overlooking a ravine nestling down between the slopes in Cherokee Park their altar, Miss Annye Stowe and Jesse Burrus, both of Hopkinsville, were married at 5 o'clock Sunday afternoon by the Rev. Charles W. Knight, a student in the Baptist Theological Seminary. Only the bride's sister, Miss Birdie Stowe and her mother, Mrs. J. S. Pate, were present.

Scores of persons in the park saw the little group, but none suspected that they were witnessing a wedding ceremony. The minister dispensed with ritual and after a few remarks, in which he compared the surroundings of the occasion to that of Adam and Eve, he pronounced the young couple husband and wife.

The unique affair was unpremeditated. The bride's father and mother, the Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Pate, of Hopkinsville, are in Louisville attending the Baptist Seminary, and she came here Saturday night with her affianced husband to make a surprise visit. At the dinner table Sunday, when several guests were assembled, someone suggested that the marriage take place at once inasmuch as the young people to wed soon anyway.

They caught the spirit of the occasion, and the prospective bridegroom and a friend went in search of a license, which was not procured until 4 o'clock. Then they set forth for the park and a nature wedding resulted.

The party then returned, summoned a number of Hopkinsville friends who were in Louisville for the day, and gave a wedding supper at the Willard Hotel, after which Mr. Burrus, who conducts a restaurant at Hopkinsville, returned to his home. Mrs. Burrus is with her mother at 844 Sixth street for a few days after which she will return to her home with her husband, who is expected here again to-day. The bride's sister, Miss Birdie Pate, will herself become a bride, June 4, the invitations to be sent out within two weeks.

CONTRACT LET.

Caldwell & Drake To Build Pearl-Street School House.

SCHOOL BOARD APPROPRIATES $45,612 FOR WORK.

BUILDING AND GROUND WILL COST OVER $50,000.

WORK TO BEGIN AT ONCE.

The contract for building the school on Pearl street, between Floyd and Preston streets, for colored children, was awarded last night to Caldwell & Drake, of Louisville, by the School Board, for the sum of $45,440. This means that the contracting firm will complete the building, including heating and all other appurtenances. Messrs. Caldwell and Drake were present and stated to the members of the Building Committee that they would complete the building within 110 days from the time that the contract is signed. Wallace McKay, attorney for the School Board, will draft the contract to-day or to-morrow, and as soon as it is signed work will begin on the building.

The School Board appropriated $45,612 for the purpose of paying for the structure and paying the architects, Thomas & Bohne, for their services. Of this sum the architects will receive $2,172. The resolution stipulated that this money should be paid at the instigation and order of the architects. The old school for colored children on Main street, between Floyd and Preston streets, was sold to the Louisville and Jeffersonville Bridge Company for the sum of $50,000. The building site for the new school cost $7,980; the contract for the building is $45,440, and the architects' fees are $2,172, making a total of $53,592. This, as the matter now stands, will make the new school cost $8,592 more than the sum for which the old building was sold.

Labor Leaders Present.

The lobby of the School Board building showed an animated scene before the board was called to order. Seven or eight union labor leaders were present and filed into the room as the board assembled, but they were quiet and said nothing. As soon as the contract was awarded the labor leaders left as if nothing had happened. The Building Committee's report virtually settled the awarding of the contract. This committee stood six to one in favor of awarding the contract to Caldwell & Drake.

The board was called to order at 8:30, with all the members present. Immediately after the board was called to order Trustee Stehlin asked that a recess be declared so that the Building Committee could confer. After fifteen minutes of deliberation the committee announced that a report was ready. Chairman Edward Wolff made the report, which recommended that the contract for erecting the school building be awarded to Caldwell & Drake.

Trustee Hoertz wanted to know why the committee did not recommend that the contract be awarded to a home firm, the members of which were taxpayers. Both Trustees Ripy and Wolff said that the committee was in favor of awarding the contract to the lowest bidder, which was Caldwell & Drake. Members of the firm said last night that their headquarters are in Louisville.

Trustee Nolton said he thought that parts of the contract should be awarded to different contractors, instead of all to one firm.

The question was then brought up by Trustee Hoertz that the firm of L. Justi & Co. had offered to erect the building complete for $40,970. He said this bid was before the committee. He said that he wanted the letter of Justi read.

* * *

"An Old Game."

Trustee Atkinson said that the bids were advertised to be opened at a certain time, and that Justi's was in at $40,970, which did not include the heating plant. Said he:

"That is an old game. After Justi & Co. found out what their opponent's bid was they wanted to make another bid, which was unfair and unbusinesslike."

Trustee Ripy said that the board advertised for bids for building the school-house, which were to be in by 12 o'clock, April 18. Said he:

"One bid was received later, and we did not open it. I voted for Justi's bid because I thought it was the lowest, but my vote was cast under a misapprehension. Justi should have put in the bid he did to-night at the proper time. When we discovered that the heating plant was not included in Justi's bid we reconsidered the matter and gave the contract to Caldwell & Drake because they were the lowest bidders. This would be a bad precedent if we should now let Justi have the contract. It would not be acting fair with the other bidders."

Mr. Hoertz moved that the contract be awarded to Justi & Co., but the president of the board ruled that the question before the board was whether or not the report of the Building Committee should be accepted. The committee's report was adopted by a vote of 12 to 2, Hoertz and Stehlin voting against the adoption.

A recess was taken, in order that the Finance Committee might confer. The report of the committee was made in a few minutes, and recommended that $45,612 be appropriated for building the schoolhouse. The board adjourned at 9:30 o'clock.

Head Ache Sometimes?

If so, it will interest you to know that it can be stopped with Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills; and without any bad aftereffects, and this without danger of forming a drug habit or having your stomach disarranged. They positively contain no opium, morphine, cocaine, chloral, ether or chloroform in any form. Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills relieve pain, and leave only a sense of relief. The reason for this is explained by the fact that headache comes from tired, irritable, turbulent, over-taxed brain nerves. Anti-Pain Pills soothe and strengthen these nerves, thus removing the cause. They are harmless when taken as directed.

"We use Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for the cure of headache, and we think that there is nothing that will equal them. They will cure the severest spell of nervous or sick headache in a very few minutes. I am of a nervous temperament, and occasionally have spells when my nerves seem to be completely exhausted, and I tremble so I can scarcely contain myself. At these times I always take the Anti-Pain Pills, and they quiet me right away. It is remarkable what a soothing effect they have upon the nerves."

MRS. F. E. KARL, Detroit, Mich.

Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills are sold by your druggist, who will guarantee that the first package will benefit. If it fails, he will return your money. 25 doses, 25 cents. Never sold in bulk.

FARMERS

LEADING MEN OF THE COUNTY IN ATTENDANCE.

MEETING RESULTS IN ORGANIZATION BEING PERFECTED.

SEVERAL ADDRESSES MADE.

Nicholasville, Ky., April 30.—[Special.]—The farmers' institute which was held at Wilmore to-day was well attended by the leading farmers of the county. An interesting programme was rendered. The speakers were President Hinitt, of Central University, Danville; President Patterson, of the State College; Judge John W. Hughes, of Harrodsburg; Senator Newman, of Versailles; Commissioner of Agriculture Hubert Vreeland, Assistant Commissioner Crenshaw and Frank Baskerville, of this county. The farmers are manifesting much interest in the institute and the organization has been perfected.

COW LAW ENJOINED.

Court To Pass On Bovine's Right To Roam.

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 30.—[Special.]—An injunction was granted by the Circuit Clerk this afternoon prohibiting the enforcement of the ordinance requiring cows to be kept off the street, which was to have gone into effect to-morrow. Proceedings were filed in the name of Mrs. Alice Moore, a widow, who claims that her cow is very necessary to her support, and expense of pasturing her would work a great hardship on her. The injunction also forbids officers from enforcing the ordinance against anyone until further action is taken by the court.

The fight over this stock law has now been on for about two years and the town is thought to be about evenly divided. Each side appears determined in its stand. Supporters of the ordinance say if the injunction holds good they will try to pass a special tax law requiring every cow running at large to wear a bell on which is prominently displayed a number which has been duly listed with the city authorities.

SERIOUSLY WOUNDED.

Young Farmer Accused of Shooting a Boy.

London, Ky., April 30.—[Special.]—Delbert Hale, a farmer about thirty years old, it is claimed, shot and seriously wounded Charles Howard, a sixteen-year-old boy here to-day on Lynn Creek, near Bust post-office, in this county. Hale is said to have been drinking, and the shooting occurred while the two were riding horseback on their way home from preaching. Howard was shot twice, once through the arm and once through the bowels. Dr. Mullins says he may recover. Hale has not been arrested.

SHOW TRAIN BURNS.

One Indian Escapes By Diving Through Window.

Corbin, Ky., April 30.—[Special.]—At an early hour this morning the show trains of the Great Texas Bill Wild West Shows were visited by fire and several cars damaged. One car, which contained $20,000 worth of property, was totally destroyed.

Several of the Indians connected with the show report marvelous escapes, principal among which was that of Chief Standing Elk, of the Sioux tribe, who leaped headlong through a window. The property will be replaced at once and the tour of the show resumed at an early date.

STRIKE DUE TO-DAY.

Hopkinsville Carpenters and Joiners May Go Out.

Hopkinsville, Ky., April 30.—The proposed strike of the Carpenters' and Joiners' Union for a nine-hour day at ten-hour pay becomes effective to-morrow. Of the fifty-three members of the union in this city, thirty-two are employes of the Forbes Manufacturing Company, which is the only one to be affected. M. C. Forbes, president, is firm in his determination to refuse the demand and says he will shut down his plant if necessary. A part of his men have refused to join the union, including nearly all of the department foremen.

She was the fourth nonogenarian to die in this locality within the last two months.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

Bullet From Boy's Rifle Pierces Sister's Side.

Harrodsburg, Ky., April 30.—[Special.]—At Pleasant Hill, a short distance from town, this afternoon, the fifteen-year-old son of Thomas Bovine shot and perhaps fatally injured his six-year-old sister. The boy was shooting at a mark on a board wall on the other side of which the little girl was concealed. The weapon was a 22-caliber rifle, and the ball passed through the boards, lodging in the girl's left side, near the heart. It is believed she cannot recover.

Lexington, Ky., April 30.—[Special.]—Peter Conners, who fell from a third story window at Pioneer Hall Saturday night, died to-day as a result of internal injuries. Conners was about forty years old and was employed by the Hill-Gaynard Company on the sewer construction work of this city. He had been in Lexington only a few weeks. When he realized that the end was near he gave the attendants the address of his wife and sister at Cumminsville and they were notified of his death.

Fac-Simile of Check For Contribution of John T. Macauley and Viola Allen

Although the benefit performance was attended by the smallest audience of her appearance in Louisville, Miss Viola Allen and her company and John T. Macauley subscribed the largest single contribution which has been made in Louisville to the San Francisco relief fund. Bearing the signatures of Miss Allen and Col. Macauley a check for $1,004 was sent to Mayor Barth yesterday and by him forwarded to Logan C. Murray, the treasurer of the fund.

Mr. Murray already has sent $10,000 of the amount subscribed in Louisville to the San Francisco officials and has more than $8,000 which can be sent immediately. With the addition of Mr. Macauley's and Miss Allen's subscription the fund has reached $19,000.

V. H. Engelhard, president of the Louisville Commercial Club, received the following message from San Francisco yesterday:

"Louisville Commercial Club, Louisville, Ky.—We accept with deep gratitude your kind expressions of sympathy and offers of assistance. Contributions of supplies or funds will be most gratefully accepted. Send all supplies care Maj. C. A. Deval, Quartermaster United States army, and money to James D. Phelan, chairman Finance Committee, San Francisco.

"C. C. SCHMITZ, Mayor."

The dispatch, as received by Mayor Barth, is as follows:

"San Francisco, April 29.—To Paul C. Barth, Mayor of Louisville, Ky.: Telegram received. Accept deep gratitude for your kind expression of sympathy.

The following is a copy of a letter which Prof. R. P. Halleck sent to Superintendent E. H. Mark yesterday afternoon:

"Male High School, Louisville, Ky., April 30.—My Dear Superintendent Mark: It affords me much pleasure to hand over to you $64.77 as the voluntary contribution of the Male High School for the relief of San Francisco. I have never known boys to take as much genuine pleasure in raising any other subscription. This one came spontaneously. Please see that the money is put in the channel where it will reach the proper Red Cross agency. Very truly yours,

"R. P. HALLECK."

The Western Union announces that California business no longer is subject to delay, except that in San Francisco there may still be delay in delivery. This was made public yesterday by Charles Smith, local manager.

BLAZE AND BLARE

Signalize Opening of Military Carnival.

PROVES ATTRACTION FOR MORE THAN 2,000 VISITORS.

"LOOP-THE-GAP" MAN NARROWLY ESCAPES INJURY.

BIG SUCCESS FORECASTED.

With fanfare of many trumpets and blaze of many lights the big Military Carnival and World's Fair Pike opened last night in the Jefferson County Armory. In spite of the circus that attracted many people and in defiance of the tendency of the rain to fall there were hundreds of people attended the big show last night just to see what was doing. There were soldier boys in uniform everywhere, the drum corps to drum up a crowd at the front of the entrance to the attractions, soldier boys to tell you what was good, soldier boys with whom to dance and soldiers boys to take your ticket. It was First regiment night last night and the soldiers proved a winning attraction. It was estimated last night that there were fully 2,000 people visited the big Armory, many more than had been counted on because of the circus.

F. R. Meyers, the only man in the world who leaps the gap after riding on a bicycle down a slatted incline, made his wild dash last night with an end that was nearly disastrous. He has not been accustomed to stopping in such cramped quarters as he had to face last night, and as he went from the landing place after making the leap he crashed into the ropes around the Ferris wheel, narrowly missing a carriage. He had contemplated swerving to the left and entering the door to the Hippodrome, but his speed was such that it was impossible. The canvas walls of the tent stopped him with but trifling injuries to self and wheel. Much excitement was created by the incident.

Trolley Car Astonishing.

Mme. Leoni Boni, the "queen of the air," did not get to do her cloud swing and her trapeze act last night because the management had not had time to erect the paraphernalia for her performance. The Nichols family in their act, "the human trolley car," astonished and delighted hundreds who assembled in the center of the floor. The big floor is surrounded by tented places of amusement, everything from moving pictures to pictures that don't move, but ought to; everything from the fat man, who was not working last night, to the "smallest mother in the world, only twenty-seven inches in height, and all for ten cents." Egypt from fairyland who sang at you through the megaphone was there, as was the snake charmer from Texas. The Hippodrome was a popular attraction, and there was some clever work done there. The Katzenjammer Kids held forth in a castle all their own and delighted many of the "kids" of the audience.

Small boys were a noticeable feature of the Carnival last night. The first thing a visitor heard when he entered the door of the Armory was a chorus of small boys:

"Take me in, mister. Take me in." Then if the "mister" manifested any disposition to listen there was another clamor as to who had asked him first. Once inside the visitor is first struck with the confusion of sounds, such as a chorus of cries from all around. Altogether the opening was most auspicious, and the soldier boys were much elated over the indications of success.

LOST—ONE GOLD MASONIC WATCH CHARM.

At the Seventh-district police station is a handsome Masonic watchcharm, representing the Thirty-second degree, which is awaiting an owner. The charm was picked up on a Green-street car yesterday afternoon by a policeman, who turned it over to the station keeper, who is holding it until its owner puts in an appearance. The station is at Eighteenth and Southgate streets.

WOMAN RUNS NEEDLE INTO HER FINGER.

Mrs. Sarah West, 1019 West Market street, was injured yesterday by running a needle into a finger. The instrument was broken and Dr. J. C. Mitchell was called to probe for it. Unless blood-poisoning sets in no serious consequences are expected.

THE PROFESSOR SAID About Coffee

(A certain Professor in a Chicago University in a recent talk to students)

"We talk of drunkenness as a crime," he continued, "but tea and coffee drinking at meals is more injurious than liquor to some men."

Tea and coffee drinking, Prof. —— told his class, "is responsible for much of the restlessness of the American nation."

THINK THEY WILL QUIT?

Yes, many of them know that with good health they can "do things" in this world, so when they find stomach trouble, weak eyes, bad blood and muddy skin, or any of the many incipient signs of disease set up by Coffee they quit.

THEN THEY TAKE ON

Postum Food Coffee

Because it furnishes the Coffee flavor, charming color and all the pleasure of Coffee drinking and does not destroy stomach and nerves but makes for the sure rebuilding of the entire body on healthful, sturdy lines.

There's a Reason

HARD TO LEARN

Takes Hard Experience To Teach People Some Facts.

Many people jeer at the idea that coffee causes the aches and ills they suffer from, and often such people will go on for years sticking steadfastly to the coffee and suffering month in and month out but maintaining, "Coffee don't hurt me."

Only an actual test will open their eyes to what they throw away when they cast aside the richness and power of health for a cup of coffee now and then. A lady says:

"I did not learn the real truth until I made the change, but I can now positively state that the headaches I had for about seventeen years were caused by drinking coffee, for when I changed and gave up coffee and used Postum in its place I experienced entire relief; I have not been troubled with headache since I began Postum in 1896.

"This in brief has been my experience on the coffee question. Among my friends I have seen many other wonderful instances of the power of this food drink when used in place of the drug drink coffee. Among my friends there are those who tell me of relief from kidney trouble, neuralgia and eczema by leaving off coffee and using Postum, and I have even known it to relieve rheumatic pains in limbs.

"I readily believe these statements, for since I cut out coffee and used Postum I never seem to have an ache or pain, and I would not dare go back to the old coffee again. Not only myself but my family use Postum exclusively, and we know there is no hot beverage that can take its place. Nearly seven years' steady use of Postum convinces me I know what I am talking about when I say it is food as well as drink and most valuable to build up the system." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"Business."

Monday Evening, April 30.—After an irregular opening the New York stock market gradually improved and closed sharply higher, with a pronounced recovery from Saturday's closing.

Money on call was steady at 3½ to 4½ per cent., ruling at 4. Time funds were steady at 5¼ to 6. Sterling exchange was firmer.

Wheat for July delivery was off ⅝c to ⅝c, corn was unchanged and oats were up ¼c.

The cotton market opened irregular at a slight decline, but closed steady, with prices 8 to 10 points net higher.

The Chicago cattle market was 10c lower, the hog 5c to 10c lower and the sheep market steady.

The Lighting Ordinances.

At the meeting of the General Council to-night the Chatterson ordinance for licensing the small purveyors of electric light will come up and the amended Atherton-Jones ordinance for granting a general electric light franchise will be introduced.

There is no reason why each of these ordinances should not be passed. On the contrary, there is every reason, from considerations both of the public interest and party policy, why they should be passed.

There is no mistaking the demand in this community for competition in the lighting business, and there would be no mistaking the condemnation of a closing of the field of competition by the General Council. That body cannot reject such propositions as are embraced in these ordinances without placing itself squarely across the path of public sentiment, and it cannot do that on such an issue as this without subjecting to imminent peril the political party which it represents. It could not justify such a course on any plea which would stand in the court of public opinion. And the consequences of such a virtual alignment with the monopolists would threaten more the local Democracy than the city, for the city would have it in its power to enforce its demands for competition, while the party could only share the fate of those who oppose these demands.

An open field, with all proper restrictions and conditions in the interest of the public, should be the policy of the General Council in dealing with this question.

"Uncle Joe's" Disclaimer.

Uncle Joe Cannon's disclaimer of an ambition to pet the presidential bee until it comes right up and eats from his hand has all the philosophical cheerfulness which is regarded as a distinctive ingredient of his literary and oratorical style. He doesn't say that he would not willingly sacrifice himself upon the altar of patriotism and accept the presidency if it should be offered him by the responsible authority of one of the great political parties of the country, but he does intimate that he'd just as soon, if not a little sooner be Speaker of the House and "help" work out policies "to bring the greatest good to the greatest number of people."

You see, Uncle Joe is one of those gentle souls that love humility and obscurity. He would not rush boldly forth and stand in the fierce light that beats upon the White House. An office of little power and scant prestige like that of Speaker suits his democratic tastes much better. Here he may toil modestly in the ranks and enjoy the rare sport of being buffeted by the mighty Representatives from all parts of the country, who ride roughshod over his prostrate form, and will not let him utter even one weak cry for help. Of course, the American people generally, being a rather humane set, shudder at the sight of any man's reduction to a minimum. The thought of Uncle Joe forced into the role of the irreducible minimum of the House is almost beyond endurance. But Uncle Joe bears up nobly, even vivaciously, as is his wont. Far from minding, he appears to like it. He allows it to be understood that though as Speaker he cannot do much, he is yet satisfied to "contribute" his little ability and influence to the promotion of policies and the enactment of legislation which will bring "the greatest good to the," etc. Modest, bashful, coy Uncle Joe—from your dark corner you whisper a splendid sentiment. Mr. Julius Caesar could hardly have said better. Courage! And some day—who knows?—if you do not become President, you may emerge from the oblivion which now envelops you and attain the dignity of a Speaker who owns absolutely the House, controls absolutely legislation, reigns absolutely supreme over his branch of the Government, and who can make even a President look small in comparison!

Help the Cause Along.

The people of Louisville are deeply indebted to the active spirits of the Anti-tuberculosis Association who have been at work early and late arousing interest in the proposed hospital for the study and treatment of tuberculosis and raising funds for the establishment of the institution. The recent session of the Legislature authorized the levy of a tax for the maintenance of the hospital, but before it can be maintained it must be created. Its establishment, therefore, is the principal task at hand and it is to this worthy cause that the members are for the present addressing their efforts. No movement could be freer of self-interest than this; only the loftiest altruism and profoundest humanitarian sympathies can prompt men to devote their time and energies to the project as the men in this instance are doing. They deserve support and co-operation from the entire population, since the entire population will benefit from a successful outcome of their work. Such unselfish toil deserves even more—it deserves success. Whether this be attained, rests with the people. As a resident of Louisville are you doing your part? In this connection it is not improper to call special attention to an entertainment to be given next week at one of the local theaters to raise money for the hospital fund. A performance having so meritorious a purpose ought to appeal eloquently to the public purse.

Food Adulterations.

The Bureau of Chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture has issued a bulletin upon food adulteration. It begins with a protest against much that is said on the subject, which is of an exaggerated nature. It has grown customary to speak of our food as "poisoned," and food manufacturers as "poisoners." This characterization is treated as untrue. Deleterious substances are sometimes added to food, but the term "poison" has a definite signification. A "poisoner" is one who deliberately administers an article intended to produce death or which will result disastrously to health. The Department of Agriculture refuses to admit that any manufacturer deliberately adds products which he believes will be injurious to health.

Possibly this statement of the Department of Agriculture goes too far. There has no doubt been an overstatement of the extent to which food adulteration has been carried, and all exaggeration should be avoided. The expression poisoning may be worked too hard. But it is well enough known that the intent to produce death is not the main factor in that sort of poisoning which is attributed to the makers of food products. We all know that the intent to get money is the principal reason of adulteration. If anybody is poisoned it is not the outcome of a desire to take life, but of a desire to get money. But whoever is willing, in the prosecution of the intent to deceive, to administer poisons is fairly described as a poisoner. If nobody knowingly puts into his food products substances which are poisonous, a good deal of what is said about adulteration is false clamor. They need not desire to poison anybody, but they desire to to make their products salable and for that purpose close their eyes to the results. So much we must infer from what is said in other parts of the report.

With a view to make the inquiry as scientific as possible a definition of adulteration is added. This definition is as follows: "The word 'adulterated' properly describes a food to which any noncondimental foreign substance not properly constituting a portion of the food, has been added." The fact that the foreign substance may have greater commercial value than the food itself is treated as of no consequence. Conversely, the word "pure" denotes a food that is unmixed with any foreign substance. It may be wholesome or unwholesome; but neither is indicated by the words "pure" or "adulterated." For example, benzoate of soda is of greater commercial value than tomatoes, and it is claimed that its addition makes tamato catsup more expensive. In fact, it permits the tomato pulp to be prepared in large quantities and preserved in a much less expensive way than can be done without its use. It is used, therefore, for the purpose of cheapening the product. But it is an adulterant, not because it cheapens the product, but because it is an added foreign substance which is neither a food nor a condiment. Adulterated foods are not necessarily unwholesome foods. The term "misbranded" may denote an adulteration, but it primarily denotes foods incorrectly described by the label. It may not be injurious to health, but it is a fraud on the purchaser.

Much of the learning which relates to adulteration refers to what is known as chemical preservatives. The practice has grown up of adding to articles of food certain chemical products which are intended to prevent fermentation or decay. They are mainly salicylic benzoic and boric acids and then sodium salts, formaldehyde, ammonium fluorid, sulphurous acids and sulphates. The use of them is defended on the ground that they are not more injurious than salt, vinegar or wood smoke. But it is the opinion of the Bureau of Chemistry that they cannot be regarded as entirely wholesome even in the quantities that are added to foods. Recent investigations by the Bureau demonstrated that boric acid is injurious to health. Experiments in Germany have been to the same effect and this preservative is there entirely prohibited. It is almost universally conceded that formaldehyde and fluorids are injurious and the weight of opinion is against sulphurous acid. Many commercial preservatives of this sort are on the market and are sold with the statement that they comply with all food laws and that their presence cannot be detected. These statements are all untrue. Their use is forbidden by many States, and their presence is readily detected. Much the same state of things exists with reference to coloring matters.

The tables published in this bulletin tend to show that the extent to which adulterants are found is often exaggerated, but this also indicates that the work of adulteration is quite extensive. The first table refers to baking powder. It shows in one instance that alum and similar products were found as an adulterant in four cases out of seven; in another in twenty-four cases out of seventy-six. On the other hand, acid phosphate of lime and the like were found in only five cases out of 343. In syrups and fruit jams glucose was found as an adulterant in only eight cases out of 120. But on the other hand artificial flavors and colors were found in seventy-six cases out of 113. The same principle applies to a variety of other articles. In some cases reported, the adulterants are found in but few of the samples; in others, they are found in one-fourth, one-third or in a majority of the samples. The general impression made by the bulletin is that the work of adulteration is not quite so bad as the popular impression. But at the same time it is shown that adulteration is very common, that it is often injurious to health, and when not so it is commonly fraudulent. The need of close attention to the subject and of every aid that law can extend is quite clear.

The Greatest Graft of All.

Hardly a day passes that you do not hear a Republican whose party loyalty is undisputed rail against rebates granted surreptitiously by railroads to big shippers. They are not only illegal, but they enable the trusts, for the "big shippers" are the trusts, to get special privileges and by means of them crush out the little fellows who, having no such privileges, cannot compete with them. Legislation is demanded to put an end to rebates and to cut off one of the great grafts of the trusts.

Hardly a day passes that you do not hear a Republican of undisputed party loyalty make a great ado over the conspiracies alleged to have been formed by the beef packers for the plundering of the farmer, from whom they buy, and the consumer, to whom they sell, and for the annihilation of the small packers and dealers, whom they overwhelm by means of sundry grafts. Legal prosecutions have been undertaken and are yet demanded for the suppression of the beef packers' conspiracies and an end to their grafts.

Hardly a day passes that you do not hear a Republican of undisputed party loyalty express indignation at the ways of the Steel Trust and breathe forth tirades against the oppression of small concerns and its infinite array of grafts. They profess to desire a change.

But if they would they could put an end to the greatest of grafts—the protective tariff, by which the trusts are enabled to plunder American consumers in the most artistic fashion. The illegal grafts are not a circumstance to this legalized one, which shuts out foreign competition and permits the trusts to add to their prices an equivalent of the duty, thus putting into their swollen coffers profits plus tariff rates.

If the Republican leaders were sincere in their outcries against predatory wealth and their avowals of enmity toward grafts they would turn on the vicious tariff. They would not expend their wind and words on the lesser evils, but would assail this greatest of all. Talk about economical cancers, the tariff is the most virulent. Talk about graft, the tariff is the most productive of tainted riches. It is the great tyrant, oppressor and robber of the American people. Down with it!

Making Imports Difficult.

Dealers in New York have received from a business house in Hamburg a letter which sets out that since the new German tariff has gone into effect it is almost impossible to import meats from the United States. Not only are the duties high but the inspection rules are exceedingly severe. Each piece of pork must pay twelve cents for inspection, and a half hog pays twenty-four cents. Every piece of meat from the United States must have an inspection certificate showing that a microscopic examination was made before it left home. But this certificate counts for nothing at all. It is thrown into the waste paper basket and another inspection made. This home inspection certificate is required from no other country. It is expensive and it does no good whatever. But we have to furnish it, for in a former treaty we pledged ourselves to it. At that time it did some good, now it is worthless.

The export of meat products from the United States is said to be very small, but the need of meat in Germany is still very great. Therefore it is inferred that the German Government will be compelled to let in American meat without the microscopic certificate, which is not required from other countries. It seems clear, in any event, that the new German tariff is working badly for our exporters.

The Recent Reunion.

The Confederate reunion in New Orleans, was not as large in point of attendance as some others, and especially that held at Louisville in June last. Many things conspired to limit the attendance. First, there had been a rumor of yellow fever. Then the season of the year is the busiest to the farmer and the city business man alike, and a large proportion of the veterans who are able to take part in the arduous functions of a reunion are too busy to take a vacation now, when the planting of crops and the spring trade demand attention. But withal, the gathering is pronounced by the press of New Orleans and those who attended it to have been most enjoyable, the lack of such numbers as have attended other meetings having been fully made up by the warmth of the reception extended to the veterans by the citizens of New Orleans and the many pleasing incidents of the occasion.

Among the features, which has been heretofore noted, was the presence of the Commander of the Grand Army of the Republic, evidencing the passing of the sectional feeling and the fraternization of the former antagonists in the great Civil War in harmonious social accord. This spirit may be said to have been the keynote of the meeting manifested in the addresses, resolutions and the current comments of the press. Among the resolutions passed by the Veteran Association was one tendering to Congress and the President of the United States appreciation of their action in providing for the care of the graves of the Confederate soldiers who died in Northern prisons during the war, and who have so long lain in neglected graves. This act goes far toward removing the last vestige of feeling which remained as an unpleasant relic of the war.

Between the opposing soldiers in the civil conflict the breach was soon healed when hostilities ceased. They had each been true to their colors and had fought with patriotic fervor. But there was little personal spirit of hate, and when the surrender came the victors fraternized with the defeated and treated them with all kindness and civility. And so it was during active hostilities; the prisoners on either side rarely met with anything but kind treatment from their captors. When the war closed it brought an honorable peace between the active participants. It has been the noncombatant and the politician who so long kept the two sections apart, from whom the South and the Confederate soldier endured so much injustice, and who are responsible for whatever of feeling has prevailed between the two sections. But all this has now quite passed away, and such meetings as that at New Orleans afford the surest evidence of it. The Southern veteran is a true representative of the South, and in these reunions there may be said to be faithfully expressed and illustrated the correct sentiments of the Southern people, unbiased by any political or other considerations.

Says a contemporary:

"To reconstruct San Francisco hundreds of thousands of tons of steel, millions of feet of lumber and many thousands of barrels of cement will be needed, to say nothing of glass and other building material. Steel, lumber, cement and glass are absolute necessities in vast quantities to rebuild shops, factories, warehouses and the tenements of rich and poor in San Francisco. It is a monstrous abuse of the taxing power to impose heavy duties on these articles, which can be produced as cheaply in this country as in any other at a profit to the producer. The whole nation groans and sweats under the burden. If there were no tariff the excessive cost of transportation would in any event bear hardly upon the distressed people of the Pacific coast, but in the shadow of their great catastrophe the added tariff exactions—$11.20 per ton on steel; $2 per thousand on lumber, eight cents a hundred pounds on cement; anywhere from 40 to 60 per cent. on glass—take on a form of barbarous cruelty."

There is a general sentiment against subjecting San Francisco to the burdens of the tariff in rebuilding. Even that pattest of standpatters, Dalzell, of Pennsylvania, is willing to lead a movement to free the city of these burdens. And the burdens that it is agreed bear so heavily on San Francisco, bear just as heavily on every man in the United States who builds or rents a home or who lives under a roof.

St. Louis, which by the census of 1900, was credited with a population of 575,238, now claims by a city directory estimate to have 720,035. By the ratio of increase thus claimed the sanguine prediction is made that when the census of 1910 is taken it will show a population of 900,000, some enthusiasts even predicting that it will reach a million. The World's Fair and the great development of the Southwest by which St. Louis has profited largely through increase of her industrial interests may be regarded as the chief factors in this remarkable growth of population. Besides, for several years the city has had the benefit of the "Million Club," the special object of which is to increase the population to that figure. Louisville should profit by such an example of enterprise. With an energetic "Five Hundred Thousand Club," working diligently during the Home-coming Week, we might secure sufficient of the 600,000 Kentuckians living in other States, all of whom will come, of course, to bring our population up to the figures aimed at, by a single leap.

Uncle Jo Cannon makes a new and very different version of it. He would rather be Speaker than President.

"GOOD-BYE"

Says Edward Hart, Then Swallows Laudanum.

FRIENDS AND BARTENDER THOUGHT HE WAS JOKING.

DOMESTIC TROUBLES MAY HAVE BEEN CAUSE.

HAS CHANCE TO RECOVER.

After bidding several of his friends and the bartender good-bye, Edward Hart, thirty-one years old, drained the contents of an ounce bottle of laudanum in the saloon of Pezold Bros., 1102 East Green street, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. He was taken in an ambulance to the City Hospital, where last night it was stated he had a good chance to recover. No one was allowed to see him, however, even his brother having been refused admittance to his bedside.

Hart is a lineman in the employ of the Western Union Telegraph Company, and lived with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Hart, at 1078 Garden street. He entered Pezold Bros.' saloon yesterday afternoon, and, finding several of his friends there, bade them all good-bye. Hart is in the habit of joking, it is said, and on this account little attention was paid to his actions. He ordered the bartender, William Yuhr, to serve him whisky, and as the latter complied Hart grasped him by the hand and said "good-bye."

"I thought nothing of it," said Mr. Yuhr. "Hart has a habit of 'joshing' his friends, and I stepped to the other end of the bar and began waiting on other customers. After fingering his glass of whisky for some time, Hart took a small bottle from his pocket and emptied its contents into the liquor. He drained the glass and after standing around the bar for some little time walked over to a chair near a table and sat down.

"In a little while I noticed Hart was becoming drowsy. All this time I had been busy serving drinks and had not examined the small bottle Hart had left on the bar. When I noticed that he had dropped off to sleep I picked up the bottle and saw that it was labeled 'Poison.' The label indicated that the drug had been purchased from William J. Weiss, the druggist at Baxter and Hamilton avenues. I called him up by telephone, and he said he had sold Hart laudanum a short while before."

When informed of her brother's act yesterday afternoon Miss Janie Hart came near swooning.

* * *

Wife Had Left Him.

"His wife drove him to it," she ejaculated, covering her face with her hands and bursting into tears. "She left him two months ago, and he has never been the same since."

When Miss Hart recovered her composure she was questioned relative to the statement regarding her brother's wife, but refused to commit herself further. Mrs. Hart, mother of Edward Hart, refused to throw light on the probable cause leading to her son's deed. She would make no statement relative to his alleged domestic troubles.

Besides his parents and sister, Edward Hart has two brothers, William and John Hart. The latter is employed as bookkeeper for the Ahrens & Ott Manufacturing Company. For several years Edward Hart, his wife and two children lived at Frankfort, Ky. It was after he moved to Louisville that he and his wife separated, it is said.

Probably Will Declare Strike.

Scranton, Pa., April 30.—John Mitchell will come to Scranton to-morrow and will establish his headquarters at the Hotel Schadt. That was practically unanimously believed here to-day among the representatives of both sides to the present controversy.

WHITE PLAGUE

Enemies to Meet To-night at Elks' Home.

TO TALK OVER PLANS FOR THEIR CAMPAIGN.

ALL FRATERNAL BODIES TO BE REPRESENTED.

THE ELKS' COMING BENEFIT.

At the Elks' Home at 8 o'clock to-night an important meeting will be held of those interested in the anti-tuberculosis movement. This movement has taken such formidable shape as to have been given the unsolicited backing and indorsement of Mayor Barth, the ministers of all the leading churches in Louisville, the Commercial Club, the Board of Trade, the Kentucky Federation of Labor, and practically all the fraternal organizations in the city. The action of the Legislature in making a substantial appropriation for the cause and the decision of the Louisville Lodge of Elks to make it the beneficiary of its coming productions of Weber and Fields' big New York success, "Fiddle Dee Dee," have added the keenest stimulus, and the object of the meeting to-night is to give a perfectly clear understanding of just what the anti-tuberculosis fight means.

At to-night's meeting addresses will be made by the Rev. E. L. Powell, Dr. S. A. Hartwell, and Simon N. Jones. Dr. Powell and Dr. Hartwell will confine their talks to the merits of the anti-tuberculosis cause. Dr. Hartwell is a living example of the worthiness of that cause, as he was cured of tuberculosis or consumption by the home cure that is proposed, instead of having to send the afflicted away from home to die sooner or later. He will show the possibilities of keeping at home those who may develop symptoms of tuberculosis, and of restoring them to perfect health. Mr. Jones will tell of the splendid motives that have actuated the Elks and just what they expect to realize for the cause. The Elks are not to keep a cent of the money paid in, but every dollar will go into the treasury of the Anti-Tuberculosis Association, to go toward the establishment of its home. All bills of expenses of the Elks' entertainment will be audited and paid by the Anti-Tuberculosis Association's Auditing Committee, so that the financial end of the affair will be in the hands entirely of the beneficiary.

The meeting will be open to the general public and everyone interested is invited to be on hand. All of the commercial, fraternal and church bodies in the city will be represented, and the meeting will be called to order promptly at 8 o'clock.

BUDGET DAY

ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD TO HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Chancellor Asquith Reviews British Finances and Urges Economy of Administration.

London, April 30.—"Budget day," as usual, attracted an unusual attendance in the House of Commons to-day and the house was full when the Chancellor of the Exchequer rose to introduce the first budget of the new Liberal administration. Mr. Asquith began by reviewing the past financial year, pointing out the cheering fact that the revenue was larger and that the expenditure was smaller than the estimates, hence the country was in the happy position of having realized a surplus of $17,333,000. The steadily growing prosperity of the country in 1905 had continued during the first quarter of 1906.

Continuing Mr. Asquith called attention to the progressive diminution of the yield of the duties on alcoholic liquors. The change, he added, had apparently affected all classes of society and would be hailed with pleasure by social reformers. But he doubted whether it was safe to base thereon any wide generalization as to a vast change in social habits.

Mr. Asquith estimated the expenditures of 1906-07 at $708,930,000 and the revenue at $724,300,000. There would be, therefore, an estimated surplus of $15,370,000.

Deducing $2,000,000 for contingencies, they would have a disposable balance of nearly $13,350,000.

The Chancellor then surveyed the general financial position, referring especially to the growth of the national indebtedness, now the huge total of $3,944,950,000, and to the expenditure, dwelling on the gigantic excessive sums devoted to the navy and army. He said he hoped and believed from what he knew of the intentions of his colleagues that when he introduced the budget for 1907 he would be able without material weakening of the efficiency of the national services to effect a substantial saving. It was the first and paramount duty of the Government to return to thrifty economic methods of administration, and second only thereto was the question of adequate provision for the reduction of the national debt, which was now practically at the same figure as in 1870.

MUSIC AND THE DRAMA.

"COMING THRO' THE RYE," the musical play which was successfully presented here earlier in the season, opened a return engagement last evening at Macauley's. It is the same production, only more so in some respects. The company numbers about as many persons as on the former occasion, and, taken in its entirety, it is a better production. The score is just as tuneful, the book is less dreary, more coherent and rational, and the pictorial portion of the offering is as handsome and probably a bit more effective. Some new and tuneful songs have been added, and it was already an unusually catchy score.

A great many persons here remember "Coming Thro' the Rye," and remember it very pleasantly. It was given practically its premiere here and showed evidences of being a jewel, if not exactly a diamond in the rough. What it needed then was the pruning process, and this it has received. The working over has done good in many respects. Much that was tiresome has been eliminated, some clever members of the cast have been retained, some cleverer ones have been added and a few not as clever have also been taken into the official family. The chorus, as a chorus, is good to look upon, and sings and works well, just as it was before.

The change which has benefited "Coming Thro' the Rye" most in actual presentation is the opening "business." Instead of the sleepy group of young men who seemed to be inviting you to follow their example, the piece opens with a snappy and catchy chorus number. Other parts have been happily rewritten. The change in individuals which has done the piece the most good is the addition to the cast of Frank Lalor and Frank Doane. Mr. Lalor leaves off the Hebrew impersonation and plays the part of the tailor just as one of those impossible and amusing musical comedy parts should be played. He does much effective comedy work. Mr. Doane makes the Englishman a really welcome feature, where it was formerly a dreary waste of time and energy.

John Park again plays the part of the artist in a way that pleases his audience, and apparently himself. His voice is rich and strong, and he uses it with good effect. William Riley Hatch gives his same vigorous, spirited and altogether pleasing performance of the man from the West. It is difficult to draw a comparison between Billee Taylor and his predecessor, who played the role of the press agent—the other man was so impossible in the part. Percival Jennings gives a fairly good performance as the matrimonial agent.

One of the parts which has lost nothing by the change is the substitution of Stella Mayhew for Josie Sadler as the rich lady who wants to break into society. Miss Mayhew improves every minute as the piece progresses, and her specialties are as distinct hits as "Coming Thro' the Rye" curtains. Alma Youlin is a delight as Lolita, the model. She is a young woman of good looks, engaging personality, and she has a voice of beautiful quality and volume. Nena Blake is just as attractive as the girl from the West, and again figures effectively in the beautiful conceit, "My Broncho Boy." Florence Townsend does some pretty dancing and makes up well. The eight pretty girls who are styled "A Sweet Bouquet of Newport's Floral Fashion" are again a happy feature.

A clever travesty on "The Squaw Man" has been added to this production, and helps to make it more entertaining. The work of Frank Lalor is especially good in this. Stella Mayhew also does excellent work, as do all in the cast. This burlesque deserves the name and is an excellent piece of work.

"Coming Thro' the Rye" will be the offering this evening and to-morrow afternoon and evening at Macauley's.

* * *

Last week and this have proved the claim that patrons of summer vaudeville at Fontaine Ferry Park would have the best the varieties afforded. There are a number of entertaining turns this week. Next week has in store something equally attractive. Rosaire and Doretto, comedy acrobats, will head the bill. Harry Sears and company, illusionists; Melville and Conway, comedy clowns; the Great Powell, magician; Cull and Johnson, singers and dancers, and the kinedrome will be included in the list.

* * *

Next week's offering at the Avenue will be a novelty in the way of melodramas. It is a piece entitled "The Millionaire Tramp" and comes here with the highest recommendations from other places where it has been presented. This piece is said to contain a great deal that is novel. It is declared to be unusually well produced, both in the way of cast and actual production. The story of the play itself is said to be vastly out of the ordinary and, with capable people playing the parts, a really enjoyable and interesting bill is promised the Avenue patrons.

ON THE FUNNY BONE

The First of May.

Moving Day! Moving Day!
Father promptly sneaks away;
Leaves the house at early dawn
With a visage pale and drawn.
Mother's in her element;
Says she's tired of paying rent
For an old, ramshackle shed—
Wants a roof above her head!
'Round about the mess she moves
Packing dishes into stoves,
Getting kettles, pots and pans
Ready for the moving vans.
Suds in every room, you bet!
Everything just slopping wet.
Dinner's bolted on the fly—
Soggy bread and soapy pie.
Father wasn't such a chump
To get out upon the jump.
Tell you what! It ain't so gay
This affair called Moving Day!

A Bad Case.

"McLush has been arrested for drunkenness and wants you to bail him out."

"Bail him out?" ejaculated Col. Pepper, who had heard the remark indistinctly "Good gracious, is he that full?"

* * *

Too True.

The world they've proven to be round—
There is no doubt of that;
But Life itself, as I have found
Is very often flat.

* * *

Pleasant Prospects.

"Her father and mother both strenuously object to me."

"And the girl?"

"I don't think she'd look at me but for that."

* * *

Thought He Was Gone.

"What were your sensations when the earthquake struck? Were you scared?"

"You bet I was. I thought my wife had gotten tired of calling me and come after me as she occasionally does."

* * *

Caring.

"Do you think she'll ever care for him?"

"She'll have to if she marries him. He'll never work."

NEW ATTORNEY

Must Be Appointed to Represent New Albany.

HENRY E. JEWETT'S TERM OF OFFICE EXPIRES MAY 7.

MAYOR PROBABLY WILL SELECT W. V. BULLIETT.

MANY BIG CASES NOW ON.

Next Monday the term of Henry E. Jewett as head of the law department of New Albany will expire, and it is understood that Mayor William V. Grose will appoint Walter V. Bulliett as his successor to serve until September 1. Mr. Jewett was appointed to the place by the Democratic Council in May, 1904, and has served as the legad adviser of the city most acceptably during the stormy period which has followed his appointment.

In connection with the city attorneyship Mr. Jewett submitted to Mayor Grose the following communication:

"Mayor W. V. Grose, City.—Dear Sir: My term as City Attorney will expire Monday, May 7. By that time I shall have completed my removal to my future home on Silver Hills and be no longer a resident of New Albany. The law requires that all municipal officers reside in the city, and, therefore, after May 7 I shall not be eligible to the office of City Attorney. You should at once name my successor, so that I may have time to put him in possessions of all the facts concerning important matters now pending in my department.

"Never have the material interests of the city demanded such painstaking and competent supervision as now. Indecision or carelessness may cause expenses and losses of many thousands of dollars. There is much important work to be completed, and I re gret that I cannot assist in bringing these large undertakings to a successful issue. Nevertheless I will cheerfully devote the remainder of my term to an effort to put my successor in position to properly handle the work, if he concludes to follow my course in the past. Yours truly,

"H. E. JEWETT, City Atorney."

The City Attorney formerly was elected by the Common Council, but the cities' and towns' law, enacted by the last Legislature, placed the power of selecting the head of the law department in the hands of the Mayor. The person selected by Mayor Grose to succeed Mr. Jewett will hold the place until September 1, when Mayor-elect Best will assume the office and will appoint the successors to the officers now in charge of the city's affairs.

News From California.

Dr. John H. Lemon, of New Albany, who is spending a few months in Southern California, has written to a friend in that city he had heard nothing of his brother and family, who were living in San Francisco at the time of the earthquake and fire, and he feared they had been destroyed. Dr. Lemon had large property interests in San Francisco, and he wrote that he feared his losses would be extensive.

Tony Kremer received a letter from his sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Kremer, in which was a graphic description of the trials and tribulations of the Kremer family in the stricken city. She wrote that they were compelled to stand in a line at the food supply stations and cook the provisions in the street on a little oven, built of such material as could be had.

Calls District Committee.

Levi H. Scott, chairman of the Democratic Central Committee, of Floyd county, was notified at New Albany yesterday by Mark Storen, chairman of the Democratic District Central Committee, that a called meeting of that body would be held in Scottsburg next Friday. The object of the meeting was not stated in the call, but it is supposed that it will be held for the purpose of taking some action in regard to the Democratic District Convention, to be held at Jeffersonville next Saturday afternoon for the purpose of selecting the nominee for Congress. The District Committee is composed of the nine county Central Committees.

Fund Probably Over $1,000.

Contributions are still coming into the Relief Committee at New Albany, and the funds collected will be forwarded to-day to the Red Cross Society, at San Francisco. The collections had not all been turned in yesterday and therefore the totals could not be given, but it is believed that the subscriptions from the citizens generally will aggregate over $1,000, while the other contributions from churches and societies will reach half as much more.

Attending Convention.

Joseph J. Rutledge, Allen Worsey and Joseph Grandidier, representing the New Albany Lodge Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, are in Cincinnati to attend the annual convention of the association, which will be in session in that city for several weeks. Mr. Rutledge is a member of the Wage Committee of the association, a most important position.

He will then go out of the service a comparatively young man.

INCORPORATES WITH CAPITAL STOCK OF $50,000.

Will Open Handsome Store On Fourth Avenue Soon.

Articles incorporating the Crippen-Allen Piano Company with a capitalization of $50,000, which will do business in Louisville, were filed in Frankfort yesterday. The latter will be comfortable and will be furnished in white and gold. Mr. Allen and Mr. Crippen will leave this week to close contracts with prominent Eastern piano houses. The company intends to cater to the highest artistic and musical tastes of Louisville.

At the time of his death he was worth about $4,000,000, and was president of the Collins County Bank and other similar institutions. He also owned property in Ft. Worth, Dallas and many other important Texas cities. The funeral services were conducted in McKinney, Tex., where he died, Sunday.

COULD NOT REST NIGHT OR DAY

With Irritating Skin Humor—Whole Body Affected—Scalp Itched All the Time and Hair Began to Fall Out—Wonderful Result From

APPLICATION OF CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I am never without Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment since I tried them last summer. About the latter part of July my whole body began to itch. I did not take much notice of it at first, but it began to get worse all the time, and then I began to get uneasy and tried all kinds of baths and other remedies that were recommended for skin humors; but I became worse all the time. My hair began to fall out and my scalp itched all the time. Especially at night, just as soon as I would get in bed and get warm, my whole body would begin to itch and my finger nails would keep it irritated, and it was not long before I could not rest night or day. A friend asked me to try the Cuticura Remedies, and I did, and the first application helped me wonderfully. For about four weeks I would take a hot bath every night and then apply the Cuticura Ointment to my whole body; and I kept getting better, and by the time I used four boxes of Cuticura I was entirely cured, and my hair stopped falling out, but I continue to use the Cuticura on my scalp. It keeps all dandruff out and scalp is always clean. I always use Cuticura Ointment on my face after shaving, and have found nothing to equal it. I will never be without it." D. E. Blankenship,

RECOMMENDED TO ALL MOTHERS

"I have used Cuticura Ointment for chafing of infants, and as they grew older all skin diseases were given treatment with that and the Cuticura Soap. I never found it necessary to call a doctor, as these Remedies are a sure cure, if used as directed. I am glad to recommend them to all mothers." Sincerely yours, Mrs. F. A. Kennard,

BY MINISTER

Information Filed Against Jeffersonville Man.

C. HOWARD CHARGED WITH HAVING CONCEALED WEAPON.

RESULT OF ENTERTAINMENT AT UTICA, IND.

PREACHER'S WORDS RESENTED

On information filed in the Clark Circuit Court at Jeffersonville yesterday morning by the Rev. H. W. Baldridge, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church at Utica, Clifford Howard, of Jeffersonville, was arrested on a bench warrant charging him with carrying a concealed deadly weapon. He gave bond in the sum of $200 with William Reilley and Edward Sweeney as sureties after a plea of not guilty had been entered. A short time before the information was filed, Howard went before Magistrate John Delanty and pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery on the Rev. Baldridge, which was filed by James Howard, a brother.

The trouble is an outgrowth of an entertainment given by the Odd Fellows of Utica last Thursday night, at which time the Howard brothers say their sister was insulted by the Rev. Baldridge in remarks he made from the platform in the hall where the entertainment took place. A number of Jeffersonville Odd Fellows attended the entertainment and agreed to assist in the affair by furnishing a part of the talent. At their solicitation Miss Irene Howard, twelve years old, accompanied them. She has considerable talent as a singer and dancer, and is a great favorite in Jeffersonville. The Odd Fellows of that city say they thought they were doing their brothers a favor in securing her. She was accompanied by her father and a sister.

The Rev. Baldridge was on the programme for an address, and after this had been delivered, Miss Howard went on for her turn and captured the house with her song. She was encored three times. At the completion of Miss Howard's number, the Rev. Baldridge arose and entered his protest against the act. For a time there was considerable warmth displayed between the Jeffersonville and Utica brothers and hot words were passed.

Smarting under what they considered to be an insult to their sister, the Howard brothers drove to Utica Sunday afternoon and meeting the Rev. Baldridge on his way to a pump, accosted him. Clifford Howard asked the minister to explain himself and to apologize for what he had said, but he replied he had no apology to make. This angered Howard to such an extent that he knocked down the Rev. Baldridge, but did not injure him. By this time, Melvin Swartz, a friend of the Rev. Baldridge, made his appearance with two stones and a crowd began to collect. It is alleged that James Howard drew a revolver, warned the crowd to stand back and with his brother drove away.

The Howards say they did not go to Utica with the intention of making any trouble, but to secure an apology from the Rev. Baldridge, but his reply they say was given in such a way that Clifford Howard lost his temper. The Rev. Baldridge says his remarks of Thursday night were misconstrued, but that he did protest against the performance which followed his address.

JUDGE REBUKES COUPLE.

Says Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Summers Should Live Together—Grants Wife One Dollar Per Day.

In giving a decision in the Clark Circuit Court at Jeffersonville yesterday in the suit of Gertrude Summers against Louis D. Summers for support, Judge Montgomery saw fit to rebuke mildly the litigants, and told them that he could not see any reason why they were not living together, and according to his belief they should be. He said under the circumstances he thought Mrs. Summers was entitled to a reasonable sum for her support and that of her child that is now about six weeks old, and that he would allow her $1 per day. The amount is to be made in two payments each month, on the seventh and twenty-second days.

The suit was filed April 19, and came as a surprise, as it was known by only a few persons that Mr. and Mrs. Summers were not living together happily. The date the suit was filed was the first anniversary of their marriage, and Mrs. Summers in her complaint set forth that the defendant had deserted her on April 18, leaving no suitable provision for her support. The complaint recited that the defendant is superintendent of the gas plant of the United Gas and Electric Company in Jeffersonville, at a salary of $80 per month, of which she asked $50.

WALKS INTO PRISON.

Man Calls As Visitor, But Retained In Capacity of Prisoner.

George W. Lyons, who at one time was an inmate of the Indiana Reformatory in Jeffersonville, and who escaped from the Indiana State Prison at Michigan City, walked into the Michigan City prison to be shown through the institution while a reward of $50 was standing for his capture. Before he had been shown entirely through the prison, he was recognized, and from visitor became a prisoner of the institution.

—A specific answer in denial was filed yesterday in the suit of Edward Weber against Herman Preefer on a note of $1,800, the denial being that there was no consideration on which the obligation was based. —A special meeting of the City Council has been called for to-night by Mayor Burtt, and, after the minutes are approved, the old body will adjourn and the new members will take their seats. A message will be read calling attention to the fact that a vacancy exists in the Sixth ward on account of the death of Levi Reeder, who was elected and died before taking his seat.

LANK NAPOLEON.

NOT ACCORDING TO IDEAS OF CHILDREN IN CAST.

Cleves Kinkead Has Great Objection To Appearing In Black-Face Part.

John S. Woods, the comedian who has the title role in "Prof. Napoleon," is not thought by some of the children in the company to look his part properly, because instead of being short and rather fat, Mr. Woods is the direct opposite.

Yesterday morning some of the little fellows were looking at Mr. Woods while he was rehearsing, and they exchanged views as to his fitness for the part with great frankness. One little chap said that Mr. Woods' legs are too straight to make a good Napoleon, while a number of others enumerated a great many reasons why he cannot look like the great conqueror. These childish criticisms do not bother the comedian, however, as he is not intended as an imitation of a soldier, but a professor of languages in a co-educational college.

The production of "Prof. Napoleon" is a work of considerable magnitude, and an office force is required to keep up the detail work. There are several official stenographers and clerks, beside a large number of enthusiastic amateurs who wish to keep near the scene of activity in order not to miss anything. These young people seldom escape the watchful eye of Mrs. Will S. Hays, however, and she puts them to work on all sorts of things from clerical work to the overhauling of costumes.

* * *

Painful Realism.

Miss Mary Lawrence Claxon, who is the Elsie of the cast, has a very trying part, that of a "green" country girl, and she says that the actual performance is not the real difficulty, but the rehearsals. In one act she is dragged from the stage by her ear, and since steady coaching began and Wade Davis, the director, has begun to clamor for realism, Miss Claxon has suffered in the flesh.

Miss Claxon is not unused to appearing before audiences, as she is the official reader of the George B. Eastin Camp, U. C. V., and has taken parts similar to her present one before.

The black-face part in the play is taken by Cleves Kinkead, and he has become most popular with the remainder of the cast, though Mr. Kinkead says that he is not so pleased with it as he might be. When pressed for reasons Mr. Kinkead said:

"I do the part too well for one thing, and for another that bloomin' black hides my complexion."

Fred Sheldon, as Senator Fiske, has a splendid display for his tremendous bulk, and he is a great source of envy for the small boys in the chorus. He was much chagrined, however, yesterday when one of the little fellows told him he should wear powder on his hair all the time. Mr. Sheldon inquired the reason why and was informed:

"'Cause white's better'n red."

ASK MORE WAGES.

MOTORMEN ON L. AND S. I. LINE CIRCULATING PETITION.

Conductors Hesitate and Are At Present Unwilling To Join In Movement.

A petition is being circulated by the motormen employed by the Louisville and Southern Indiana Traction Company asking an increase of pay from nineteen to twenty-two cents a hour, but all of the men have not signed the paper, which is to be presented to F. E. Cole, superintendent of the line, in the next few days.

In Jeffersonville yesterday it was said the movement was not indorsed by all of the motormen, some of whom are satisfied with their present wages and accepted the places knowing what they were to get. The conductors have been asked to join with the motormen, but generally are not favoring the movement.

One of the old conductors said yesterday that he could not sign the paper because he did not consider he had any reason to be dissatisfied with his pay. He said he was doing well enough, he thought, and if he did not consider that he was making what he should, he would quit and do something else. The company has been expecting a request for more wages for some time, it is said.

To be prepared for an emergency a large number of new men have been put on the cars to learn to handle them and can be put to work on a few minutes' notice in case a strike is called. In order to be ready at both ends of the cars in case there is a shortage, some of the motormen have been instructed how to collect and ring up the fares. This precaution, it is believed, will not be necessary, as there is little talk of a strike even among the men who believe they should have more wages.

FIRE AND CIRCUS

Combined In Great Attraction Draw Big Crowds.

WONDERFUL EXHIBITION UNDER IMMENSE CANVAS.

THRILLING SCENES MAKE SPECTATORS FORGET TO APPLAUD.

ACTUALLY AN INNOVATION.

Two things which will always appeal to the great American public and which will never cease to attract were combined into one yesterday, and the result was inevitable—immense crowds. Think of a fire and a circus all together! Those are two things to which young and old alike will flock as certainly as pieces of steel fly toward a magnet.

Everybody goes to a fire. A real fire, however trivial, will draw men away from their work, make them drop anything in order to follow the engines. If it is a big fire the crowd is that much bigger because more time is given the public to get to it. The clang and clatter of a fire engine, going at full speed, with sparks streaming out behind and the horses in a mad gallop, draw along in their wake men, women, children, the lame, the halt and the blind, pulled by the love of excitement which is present in every American's breast.

And a circus. More attractive than a fire, because it is rarer, a circus strikes a chord in the heart of everybody, however old, and there is no man but feels a slight thrill when he hears the bands and gets a sniff of the circus. What there is about a circus that should make men, women and children gather together by thousands in a hot tent and eat peanuts they do not like, while they perspire and sit on uncomfortable seats is a psychological mystery, but it must be reckoned with. It is undoubtedly a fact that the discomforts are forgotten until after it is all over, and next time the same thousands will repeat the performance, although they may lustily declare that they will never again be guilty of such a "foolish act."

But think of the powerful combination between a fire and a circus, all of it in one big tent, where one does not have to run to see it, but can sit quietly by and watch the engines dash up, get up steam and begin to throw water on the blaze, while fearless firemen rescue helpless women; and in these same seats one can look at the glitter and tinsel of the tumblers, trapeze performers and perhaps a dozen men and women risking their necks and bones to amuse a person who has paid just fifty cents to see it. It is a rare combination of attractions, and the American public cannot keep away from it.

Poor Old Dan Rice!

Dan Rice never dreamed of a circus such as this one. He may have seen visions of better days for the circus when it would have some standing, but he never dared think of one whole circus so big or with so great a variety of things to draw and please. Old Dan, famous showman that he was, would never have thought of having a fire in his circus tent. Yet, if Dan had been at Preston and Oak streets yesterday afternoon and last night he would have said:

"What is this queer monster which has invaded Louisville? It has the earmarks of a circus, but surely no circus carries fire engines and hook and ladder wagons with it. I see the sideshow, and it looks like my 'big top,' but I can see that it is a sideshow. The ticket man is as he was, but that is all. What is that long incline and what is that man at the top going to do? Surely he does not intend going down it on that bicycle. Why, the track has no end except in the air! Look at the fool! Great Jumping Jupiter! They would have arrested me if I had allowed one of my men to make that leap. He went about forty-five feet."

The old clown and circus owner merely would have been looking at the half loop in which a man on a bicycle jumps over a space forty-two feet, soars upward to a rope ladder arrangement and hangs safe and sound. Dan Rice would quit then and fade away, for he could not stand to see anything more. His shadow mind could not grasp it all, and he could not see the fire scene with its burning building and weeping women, imprisoned in the third floor of what seemed to be a tall brick building.

Forepaugh & Sells Brothers have a reputation for giving a circus that is not "like other circuses." They have long ago dispelled the illusion that when a person has seen one circus, he has seen them all. They have proved that this is but sophistry, for they have had a circus that was essentially different. The one they gave in Louisville yesterday at Preston and Oak streets was different from any they ever have given before, and it was the best yet. It was more than a circus, and it would require the language of the famous Tody Hamilton, coiner of words, to tell all about the performance they gave. The best trapeze performers; the best bareback riders; the best of all that goes to make up a circus were there, and in addition were many things never seen before in any circus.

Exciting Fire Scene.

"Fighting the Flames" was the main attraction, and properly so. It was a real fire scene, not a detail being omitted. The audience sees a familiar street scene. In the center is a three-story brick building. Men and women walk about and attend to their business in the streets and the shops. The occupants of the hotel are seen moving about in their rooms. Suddenly smoke is seen floating from one of the windows. There is an explosion. An excited woman throws up the sash and calls.

Someone turns in an alarm from the box on the corner. Instantly everything is confusion. The doors of the engine-house are thrown open, and the smoking engine, with steam up, dashes out. It is followed by another engine and an aerial ladder. By this time the flames are pouring out the lower windows and escape is cut off for the women in the upper floors. They are about to jump. The firemen wave them back, and one man, with a scaling ladder, starts up to their assistance.

He climbs from one window sill to another, finally reaching the top floor. He takes the woman in his arms, fastens his life line and slides down to safety. All are now out but one woman. Escape seems impossible for her. The life net is stretched and she jumps, landing safely, after falling a distance of forty feet. By this time the fire is under control; the water has done its work. The crowd disperses, the smoking embers are smothered with a last flood of water and the whole thing is over.

Real Firemen Employed.

This is the first time that "Fighting the Flames" has been attempted by a traveling show. It is given at Coney Island and was at the World's Fair in St. Louis under the title of "Hale's Fire Fighters," but Forepaugh & Sells are the first to attempt to carry so large a scenic production on the road. In the presentation trained firemen, who have all seen active service in New York, are employed, and they work in remarkable fashion. More than five hundred performers are in this one part of the show.

The show opened in the usual fashion, with the grand march. Then came the fire scene and then the circus proper. Three rings and two platforms kept going all the time, a star performer on each. At one time during the performance nine separate and distinct "stunts," each of which was well worth watching, were in progress. In the air, on the ground, at the top and at both sides men and women were showing acrobatic ability that would be regarded as marvelous if seen on the vaudeville stage. And almost all of them worked without applause. They did not have any lack of appreciation, but the people had so much to see that they were entirely occupied in seeing it and did not have any time to spare for handclapping.

Miss Nettie Carroll was one of the very few who did win marked applause, obviously meant for her alone. She worked on a low tight wire and did many things that were new, to Louisville at least. Doing "the split" on a wire only about an eighth of an inch in diameter was one of the things with which she scored. The trained elephants were good, and a hundred other things would be worth mentioning if given alone.

The crowd was pleased with the performance given by Forepaugh & Sells Brothers.

EIGHT THOROUGHBREDS TO START IN THE DERBY

Corrigan to Send Creel to Post and Nicol Will Probably Have the Mount.

VELOURS AND CHARLIE EASTMAN SEEM SURE.

Lady Navarre and James Reddick Arrive From Memphis.

BOTH ARE IN GREAT SHAPE.

MATCH RACE FOR KING'S DAUGHTER, MINNIE ADAMS AND OTHER CRACK FILLIES.

PROSPECTS FOR MEETING.

EIGHT thoroughbreds, according to the latest information received up to a late hour last night, will face the barrier in the Kentucky Derby, which will be run about 4 o'clock to-morrow afternoon. Those which will be carded to start are as follows:

Sir Huon, Lady Navarre, James Reddick, Velours, Creel, Debar, Hyperion II. and Charlie Eastman.

The statement that Creel will start will come as a considerable surprise to turfmen, because it was generally thought that Mr. Corrigan would not have a starter in the Kentucky classic on account of the disappointing performances recently of his two eligibles, Goldie and Creel. Mr. Corrigan, however, notified General Manager Winn yesterday that Creel would face the barrier, and that he expected Jockey Nicol, on whom he claims to have second call, to ride the son of Woolsthorpe—Extra. Creel ran a couple of bad races in the South, but it is known that his owner believes him to be a colt of high class, and Mr. Corrigan believes the youngster is ready for the races.

Velours, a brown colt by Cheviot—Venue, will surely face the barrier to-morrow, according to Trainer Bruhns. This youngster belongs to Harry Franklin, and he has shown so well in his work that his owner and trainer have decided that he has a good chance to pull down the winner's end of the stake.

Debar will start to a certainty. He is a bay colt by Algol—Sister and belongs

CAUGHT WHILE WATCHING A RACE.

JESSE LEWISOHNS, one of the East's biggest plungers, sketched by T. Duncan Rousseau, a former Louisville boy, as he was watching the Carter Handicap.

to Thornton Moore. He is being trained by Will Woodard, of Lexington, and Trainer Woodard said yesterday that Debar would not only start, but that he would have a fine chance to win the Derby. He bases this belief on the fact that Debar beat Sir Huon every time they hooked up together last year.

As for the others, there is no doubt that Sir Huon, Lady Navarre, James Reddick and Hyperion II. will go to the post, while late reports from Lexington state positively that Charlie Eastman will sport silk in the Derby.

The officials of the spring meeting of the New Louisville Jockey Club, to begin to-morrow will be as follows:

Presiding Judge—Charles F. Price, of Louisville.

Associate Judges — Francis Trevelyan, of New York; Charles F. Grainger, of Louisville.

Secretary and Handicapper—Lyman H. Davis, of Louisville.

Clerk of the Scales and Starting Judge—Will F. Shelley, of Louisville.

Entry Clerk—Fred Gerhardy, of Nashville.

Timer—George Lindenberger, of Louisville.

Starter—Richard Dwyer, of Chicago.

Among yesterday's arrivals at Churchill Downs were Lady Navarre and James Reddick, the Kentucky Derby eligibles belonging to Charley Ellison. They got in yesterday morning about 10 o'clock from Memphis, but were not shown on the track until about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. Both were galloped for a couple of miles, Jockey Dominick, who will have the mount of Lady Navarre in the Derby, being in the saddle yesterday. She received her final preparation for the Derby when she won the Tennessee Oaks at Memphis on Saturday and appears to be in splendid condition. James Reddick also looks well, and a number of horsemen at Churchill Downs believe that he will give Sir Huon and Lady Navarre a stiff argument for the winner's end of the stake.

* * *

Sixty-five horses arrived at Churchill Downs yesterday from Memphis and more were expected to-day and to-morrow. Among the strings which got in yesterday were those of Joe Hawkins, Charley Ellison, J. C. Milam, Barney Schreiber, J. O. Keene, Sam Morris, J. Fronefield, Tom McDowell's string, as well as that of Edward Corrigan, J. P. Mayberry, Pres West, P. J. Millett & Co. and others, arrived during the night from Lexington.

Secretary Lyman Davis yesterday afternoon sent out telegrams all over the country to the effect that it would be useless to apply for more stable room, because every stall within a radius of two miles of Churchill Downs that was available has been rented, and most of them are full. He said that he was compelled to refuse over fifty applications received yesterday from Tennessee alone for stable room. He said that the New Louisville Jockey Club would take care of every horse possible, but that he believed the limit had been reached.

* * *

From the present indications more bookmakers will draw in at Churchill Downs at the spring than ever before did business at the local track. Arthur Elrod got in yesterday from Baltimore and he stated that a number of Eastern bookmakers, who are members of the "Mets," would do business here, and that several which had been making books on the California tracks would cut in at the Downs. Manager Winn yesterday reserved rooms for Woods and Hermann, the well-known Eastern bookmakers, who were afraid that the hotels would be so crowded that they wired to Mr. Winn to secure quarters for them. With Yeager, L'Hommedieu, Cook and Easterners in line, the speculation should be lively to say the least.

* * *

General Manager Winn, of the New Louisville Jockey Club, stated yesterday afternoon that he would make an attempt to get up a special match race between the crack three-year-old fillies of the West during the coming spring meeting. Mr. Winn desires to bring together for the Western championship, Kings Daughter, Sister Frances, Helena C., Minnie Adams and Lady Navarre. He stated yesterday afternoon that the New Louisville Jockey Club would add $1,000 if he could persuade these owners to have their fillies meet. He also said that he believed that Cook, who owns Minnie Adams, Charlie Ellison, who owns Lady Navarre, Tom McDowell who owns Kings Daughter, and J. P. Millett, who owns Helena C., would accept the proposition in order to determine which filly was the best. If this match race should take place, it would draw almost as many people as the Kentucky Derby, because lovers of the thoroughbred in this section are absolutely at sea as to which of these five grand misses are the best at a mile.

* * *

When the people go to Churchill Downs to-morrow they will be surprised at the appearance of the plant. There will be a new automatic official announcer in plain view of all the spectators. The timer's stand has been moved over into the infield thirty-six feet from the rail, while a new judges' stand has been built which is so low that will not obscure the view of any spectator. In fact the improvements have been made so that each person in the crowd can see the races over every foot of ground from any part of grandstand, clubhouse, paddock or betting shed.

Another innovation is that the New Louisville Jockey Club has dispensed with the coupon attachment for ladies' tickets as well as for those of club members. According to the new arrangement, no coupons will be given up at the gate, the badge being sufficient. The trees in the center field which heretofore have obstructed the views at different points in the races have been cut down.

* * *

According to the best information obtainable last night neither Dr. Gardner, Gardner, Cottontown nor Yazd will start in to-morrow's Derby. Dr. Gardner, who belongs to Barney Schreiber, has trained off, and the chances are that it will be sometime before he goes to the post. Cottontown, the Capt. Sigsbee colt, which belongs to P. J. Millett & Co., was to have started in the Derby, but he cut his leg while he was being shipped here from Lexington, and his owner will not send him to the post. Convolo, Edward Frazer's colt, is not thought to have sufficient class, and the chances are that he will not face the barrier. Yazd is the property of W. F. Schulte, the former president of the New Louisville Jockey Club. He is by Falsetto, the same sire as that of Sir Huon, and is out of Gilding By. This is a colt of considerable class, as he showed last year, and also in his recent races at Aqueduct. However he is now in the East with the remainder of Mr. Schulte's string at Jamaica, and it is not thought he will be shipped here for the Derby.

* * *

There is every indication that Jockey Nicol, the crack rider of the West, will have the mount on Creel in the Derby. Creel belongs to Edward Corrigan, who claims to have second call on Nicol during the Louisville meeting. Nicol is under contract to Fred Cook, the St. Louis bookmaker, but as Cook will have no starter in the Derby, Mr. Corrigan expects the boy to ride Creel. Will Woodard, it is claimed, had practically engaged Nicol to ride Debar in the Derby, but the chances now are that Koerner will have a leg up on the bay son of Algol—Sister in the big race. At that the judges may be called on to decide whether Nicol shall ride Creel or Debar.

* * *

Both President Grainger and General Manager Matt Winn were very enthusiastic yesterday afternoon over the prospects for the coming meeting. They believe that the crowd for opening day will be the biggest that has ever attended a race here since Ten Broeck and Molly McCarthy had their famous duel at Churchill Downs on July 4, 1878. The hotels are crowded with visitors, and groups of men interested in the turf are to be seen on almost every corner. All the talk is about the Derby and Sir Huon's chances seemed to be liked the best.

* * *

J. F. Newman arrived at Churchill Downs last night with twelve head of horses which he has been racing at San Francisco and Los Angeles. Several good ones are in the bunch and all shipped well across the mountains.

* * *

James Reddick may have just as many friends for the Kentucky Derby as his stable companion, Lady Navarre, although Reddick has not yet attracted near as much attention from the public. But observant turfmen who watched the finish of the Tennessee Derby caught sight of James Reddick devouring the short space separating him from first money at the end. He landed in third position and Jockey Domineck openly vowed he would have won in a few more jumps. The Kentucky Derby is at a mile and a quarter. The Tennessee Derby is at a mile and an eighth. The longer route of a furlong the Kentucky field will be called on to travel may serve James Reddick with ample opportunity to show that he can cover a route better than Lady Navarre. Tommy Burns will ride the filly. Domineck will take care of Reddick.

* * *

With the Tennessee Derby and Oaks already to her credit, Lady Navarre will add endless fame to her reputation as a racer should she win the Kentucky. No filly has ever won and in the annals of the race no record is at hand that shows that a filly has ever finished in the money. Some people with nothing but records at hand may imagine that Pearl Song, who finished second to Chant in 1894, was a filly, but Pearl Song belonged to the other sex.

* * *

'Gene Elrod, who will be in charge of the betting ring at the Downs, said yesterday that the following would make books during the meeting, or would at least "cut in" for the first three days:

Barney Schreiber, "Frisco" Gardner,
J. B. Respess, Edward Alvey,
Fred Resch, James Haberkorn,
William Shannon, "Hops" Laudeman,
James Munroe, A. B. Dunn,
Steve l'Hommeideiu, J. B. Brill,

* * *

An ambition which Charlie Ellison has always possessed since Lady Navarre, in her early two-year-old form gave unmistakable evidence of being a filly of exceptional class, was partially realized last week when the daughter of Pirate of Penzance romped home in the Tennessee Oaks. It had been one of Ellison's great desires that Lady Navarre may duplicate the hitherto unequaled and great feat of May Hemstead, generally recognized as one of the greatest fillies the West has ever known, and when the Derby winner romped home first in the Tennessee Oaks, Ellison's cup of pleasure was indeed filled to overflowing.

And now Ellison hopes to make Churchill Downs the scene of his greatest turf triumph by duplicating his Montgomery Park success and winning both the Kentucky Derby and the Kentucky Oaks with Lady Navarre. He will not place his entire reliance in the filly in the Derby, of course, for James Reddick will make a strenuous effort to land first money in the blue ribbon event of the Western turf in the event Lady Navarre seems unequal to the task of conceding Sir Huon and the others which will be engaged against her the five pounds to which each of them will be entitled under the conditions of the race, but Reddick will not stand in the way of her winning. In other words not until it is evident that Lady Navarre is beaten or is in danger of meeting defeat will her stable companion be called upon for his best effort. Ellison would rather win the great stake for "fun" with the filly than to win it for the money with his Esher colt.

That would be a triumph such as has never yet fallen to the lot of an owner. Not only has the famous fixture never been won by a filly, but curiously enough, never in all the years of its running has a filly been among the first three at its finish. Under the circumstances it is not to be wondered at that the plunger owner has his heart set on winning the coming and most famous of derbies run in this country with Lady Navarre.

Ellison believes that his pride is equal to the occasion and his opinion is shared by shrewd horsemen who have been impressed with her brilliant performances at Memphis. It must be remembered though that other Tennessee Derby winners have come from Memphis with the big Churchill Downs event supposedly at their mercy, only to meet defeat, notably Lieber Karl.

* * *

The five and a half furlong condition race at the end of last Friday's Montgomery Park card, had considerable bearing on the likely field for the Kentucky Derby—or rather its result had. That race was to decide whether or not Hyperion II. would be a starter in the big race at the Downs. Owner-trainer Hawkins was afraid the bruising race which his colt had had in the Tennessee Derby might have taken the edge off his speed, and it was to determine this that the son of Mazagan was started. He showed to the great satisfaction of his owner that his fears were unfounded by winning in easy fashion from good sprinters, and Tom Hayes' crack colored jockey D. Austin was forthwith engaged by wire to ride the colt in the Derby. Hawkins' colt is thus assured as well judged and as powerful a ride as any horse in the race will receive, and if he fails to make a good showing in the big race it will simply be because it is not in him.

* * *

Lady Navarre, who seems to be Sir Huon's most dangerous competitor, is a chestnut filly, by Pirate of Penzance—Catherine of Navarre, and the property of Chicago's "blonde plunger," C. R. Ellison, who won the Kentucky Derby of 1903 with Judge Himes. Lady Navarre made her first appearance in a purse race at Memphis last spring, when, carrying 105 pounds, she ran third in a five-furlongs dash for maiden three-year-old fillies to French Nun and Toots Mook, leaving ten others behind her. Her first win was at the same place, she winning a maiden race at four and a half furlongs on the thirteenth day of the meeting, when she carried 110 pounds and showed her heels to Meadowbreeze, Rustic Lady and six others in :56, the track being fast.

The only stakes that she placed to her credit were the Sapphire at Brooklyn, in which she carried 115 pounds and beat Vi O., Deviltree and eight others over the last five and a half furlongs of the Futurity course in 1:09, and the Prospect Stakes, a handicap for two-year-olds, in which she carried 107 pounds, and beat Accountant, 113; Maxie Witt, 98, and ten others.

This season she has started nine times to date, has won four races, been three times second, once third and once unplaced. Her best races were her second to Guilding Star in the Crescent City Derby, at one and one-eighth miles, when she carried 111 pounds; her second to Broomhandle in the Montgomery Handicap, at one mile and a sixteenth; her win in the Tennessee Derby, in which she carried 117 pounds and beat Good Luck, winner of the California Derby; James Reddick, her stable companion, and four others, and her victory in the Tennessee Oaks last week.

Tom McDowell, the well-known Lexington turfman, shipped his horses to Churchill Downs last night from the Bluegrass capital. The string contains the crack filly, King's Daughter, and is as follows:

GOOD THINGS AT LEXINGTON

Small Owners Get a Chance To Pull Down the Purses.

THE MATE HOT THING OF DAY.

Strings of McDowell, Corrigan, Mayberry, West and Others Leave For Downs.

UNWIELDY FIELDS START.

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 30.—[Special.]—The card offered to-day for the pleasure of the big crowd bore the unmistakable earmarks of having been arranged with but one object—that of allowing the small owners a chance to take down a purse ere the close of the meeting.

As would naturally be expected the fields were large and unwieldy. The wise paddock contingent, headed by Tom McDowell, got busy early in the afternoon by attempting a coup of considerable proportions with the latter's likely looking Alan-a-Dale colt, The Squawman, in the first race.

However, the unexpected happened, and after displaying a fine turn of speed to the stretch the McDowell trick chucked it up, the race going to the third choice in the betting, Pixley, with Lady Bateman, a 25 to 1 shot, second, and the even-money favorite, Froward, third. A wild plunge in the second on Roscoe made the price on Nicol's mount, Adare, recede from 6 to 5 to 9 to 5 with very few takers. Racing luck was very much in favor of Roscoe, which, after showing the way for the greater part of the journey, just did manage to get the decision by a nose.

The Mate, which had Nicol in the saddle, was the hottest thing of the day, and was played by public and wise men alike as if it were all over but the cashing; but this the Smith horse failed to do by refusing to try a yard and displaying the most approved brand of sulks.

There was considerable crowding and rough riding in the closing race, and Oregar, who had the mount on Louise Macfarlan, claimed a foul against Swain, but it was not allowed.

The receipt of a message from Secretary Lyman Davis to the effect that every available stall for a radius of two miles of Churchill Downs had been allotted and for those horsemen not having reservations not to ship, was the means of several owners getting busy Louisvilleward. Among the most prominent stables to leave this evening were those of T. C. McDowell, Edward Corrigan, J. P. Mayberry and Prest West. Summaries:

COLONELS WIN FROM BREWERS

Takes Eleven Innings For Locals To Get the Decision.

ROY BRASHEAR'S HOME RUN.

Closely Following Hallman's Two-Bagger, Ties the Score In the Ninth Inning.

WILD THROW ENDS THINGS.

ELEVEN innings were required in yesterday's game to convince the hired men from the town where the beer is made that they were not due to drill out of Eclipse Park with any Kentucky scalps hanging to their belt. In a finish that made the hair stand up straight and caused the spectators to sit up and take notice, Tebeau's Colonels snatched the game out of the fire and sent the talkative Cantillion home with a sad look to listen for the supper bell. In the cool of the evening after things had ceased to happen, the score board showed that the stars with the striped shirt waists had accumulated four stout runs, while the best the Brewers could do was a trio of the coveted tallies.

But the foregoing lacks a great deal of telling about yesterday's game with Milwaukee. It was one of those contests that keeps one guessing all the way, and just here let it be recorded that a young man who uses the name of Brashear and plays around second base, was principally busy with his trusty bludgeon yesterday, and really saved the game for Louisville. It was in the ninth inning, with one man on base and two runs needed to tie the score, that Brashear lifted the sphere in the territory of the clubhouse and made the circuit of the bases, while the Brewers were trying to figure out just what had happened. All the rest of the pinch hits ever made must be numbered with the also rans after Roy Brashear's home run. He meant to do it, and he did it, and if he was not already the idol of the fans, this great piece of stick work would have made him so.

Elliott was in the box for the Colonels for the first time this season. When it came time to play ball, who should walk to the plate but little Rabbit Robinson. Everybody was surprised to see him, and so great was Elliott's surprise—for everybody thought Rabbit was lost—that he let the diminutive shortstop hit safe before he realized it. In this inning he also walked Green and, with a fielder's choice and a safe hit by Clark, Green was shoved over the plate, although Robinson was forced out at third. The Brewers added another in the fifth, when Robinson worked Elliott for a free pass and scored on Hynes' triple.

The Colonels were not able to do anything until the sixth. In this round Kerwin broke off a double bagger and came home just as though he were in a hurry, when Billy Hallman dumped one safely into left field.

This was the way it looked when the ninth opened. Robinson was first up, and went out from Shaw to Sullivan. Green was given four or five strikes, but Umpire Sullivan seemed to get dust in his eyes and let Green walk on four alleged bad ones. Green stole second, but Hynes popped a foul to Sullivan and Bateman handed him an easy grounder.

Hallman was the first Colonel to toe the rubber in the last half of the ninth, and he just lifted it out for two bases. He went another station further on Sullivan's out from Clark to Bateman, and then was when something came off. Roy Brashear arrived at the plate, and on the nose he hit the ball. Hynes was called to the clubhouse in a hurry, but when he got the ball somewhere near the outer rim of the diamond, Brashear was over the plate, and his home run had tied the score.

A few remarks were made in a loud tone at this juncture, and they were in substance that one Roy Brashear was distinctly a star and that the Colonels would now win. The tenth brought nothing of a startling nature, as each side was retired in one, two, three order. In the eleventh Beville was sent in to hit for Curtis, but he duplicated McCormack's performance and went out from Brashear to Sullivan. Robinson popped a little fly in the direction of second base, and everybody knows what happened. The side was out.

Then the Colonels drove in and tied up. Danny Kerwin got a bit too eager and went out on a foul to Clark. Hallman hit safe to right field and both Sullivan and Brashear walked. With the bases full and one out, Murphy hit a grounder to Hickey who had replaced Curtis at the slab. Hickey fielded the ball, but it is not just certain where he intended to throw it. At any rate, it went over Roth's head and Hallman crossed the plate and the Colonels had won another game, and easily the most exciting at the finish played at Eclipse Park this season.

Elliott showed up in grand form. He held the Brewers down to seven hits in his first game, and he should by no means be charged up with six bases on balls. The truth is, Umpire Sullivan gave about as rank an exhibition of umpiring as has been seen in a large number of seasons here. Balls that split the plate looked like bad ones to him, and while he handed it to the others at times, he was particularly severe on Elliott. The ex-New York Giant showed fine form all the way, and it is a safe bet he is going to be right with the top star twirlers of the association this year. Curtis pitched a very effective game with the exception of the ninth inning. It looked like a Christmas gift the way Hickey worked. A single, two bases on balls and a wild throw which netted the winning run, made up his record for the part of the inning he pitched.

It was the first ladies' day of the season, and a number of the fair sex were present, and they saw as fast a game of ball as the Majors ever play.

CHAT OF THE GAME.

ELEVEN was the lucky number for the Colonels again yesterday.

IT'S worth just twice as much to beat Cantillon and his Brewers.

THE name of Brashear was on the minds of quite a number of people last night.

LAST game at Eclipse Park to-day until May 27, as the Colonels will not be back home from their trip until that time.

ALL of the games played in the American Association yesterday were hotly contested. At least the close scores indicate this fact.

ELLIOTT made a grand showing in his initial appearance before a Louisville audience. He will undoubtedly finish among the top in the pitchers' averages of the league.

IN almost every game played by the Colonels this season, the opposing team has secured the lead only to lose it by a grand rally by the local players. That's the sort of baseball that the fans like.

LADIES' day proved to be successful for the Colonels, although it looked for a long while as if it would not be that way.

CAPT. SULLIVAN has his men fighting all the time, and any team that beats the local club these days has to hustle to do so, regardless of the lead they might secure in the early part of the game.

SHAW is catching in fine form and handled Elliott's delivery in grand style yesterday.

KANSAS CITY and Indianapolis played a hot twelve-inning tie game yesterday, each side scoring but two runs. Swann and Kellum, two crack left-handers, opposed each other on the slab.

MANAGER CANTILLON was awful sore last night over the defeat of the Brewers and declares that he will use his star pitcher, Hickey, against the locals to-day.

THE report that Pitcher McCord had jumped to Altoona was untrue, as the little southpaw pitcher was out in uniform yesterday practicing with the other members of the local team.

HOWARD MURPHY figured considerably in the Colonels winning out yesterday. He scored ahead of Brashear on the latter's home run drive in the ninth inning, and was there with a timely hit in the eleventh inning.

At Charleston—Charleston 11, Augusta 10, eleven innings.

Pitcher Stovall Suspended.

Milwaukee, Wis., April 30.—President O'Brien, of the American Association, to-day announced the suspension of Pitcher Stovall, of the St. Paul club, for unbecoming conduct in yesterday's game at Columbus. The suspension is indefinite pending investigation of a report received from Umpire Kane.

Cincinnati, April 30.—Umpire Johnstone was escorted off the field by police to-day after the game because of two changes in a decision that eventually allowed Wagner to score on a ball that had been thrown into the field by a Pittsburg coach. RHEUMATISM
TROUBLESOME PAINS AND ACHES

While Rheumatism is usually worse in Winter because of the cold and dampness of a changing atmosphere, it is by no means a Winter disease entirely. Persons in whose blood the uric acid, which produces the disease, has collected, feel its troublesome pains and aches all the year round. The cause of Rheumatism is a sour, acid condition of the blood, brought about by the accumulation in the system of refuse matter, which the natural avenues of bodily waste have failed to carry off. This refuse matter coming in contact with the different acids of the body, forms uric acid which is absorbed by the blood and distributed to all parts of the body, and Rheumatism gets possession of the system. Rheumatic persons are almost constant sufferers; the nagging pains in joints and muscles, are ever present under the most favorable climatic conditions, while exposure to dampness or an attack of indigestion will often bring on the severer symptoms even in warm, pleasant weather. Liniments, plasters, lotions, etc., relieve the pain and give the sufferer temporary comfort, but are in no sense curative; because Rheumatism is not a disease that can be rubbed away or drawn out with a plaster. S. S. S. is the best treatment for Rheumatism; it goes down into the blood and attacks the disease at its head, and by neutralizing the acid and driving it out, and building up the thin, sour blood, cures Rheumatism permanently. Being made entirely of roots, herbs and barks, S. S. S. will not injure the system in the least. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice without charge.

EMBARRASSMENT WINS EASILY.

Elksino the Only Favorite To Reward His Backers At Memphis Track.

Memphis, Tenn., April 30.—[Special.]—Embarrassment, from the stable of C. A. Ross & Co., won the Chickasaw Handicap, the feature event at Montgomery Park this afternoon, in a way to stamp him a good horse.

The race, which was at a mile and a furlong, had four starters, and Embarrassment was at all times favorite, backed from 6 to 5 to evens, in the face of a stiff play on Little Scout, and also on Jack Young, who had the benefit of Cherry's services.

The result of the race was never in doubt. Embarrassment went right to the front, made all the pace to suit himself, and won very easily by two lengths from Little Scout in 1:56, a fast race for the track. Jack Young weakened in the final drive and finished two lengths behind Little Scout.

Favorite-players fared badly on the day's speculation, as the only other top choice to make good was Elksino, in the selling race for two-year-olds, with Cherry up. He was early tipped as a good thing, and the even money first quoted against him was quickly grabbed up and forced down to 7 to 10. He had the speed of the party, and was never in trouble. Helmuth, who looked dangerous at the top of the stretch, swerved over into the deep going next the inside rail. That settled his chances, and Tom Gilroy nipped him out of second place in the last stride or two.

Cutter was sent to the post at odds-on in the seven-furlong dash, and was best, but Scoville let her swerve out in the last sixteenth, when she was winning, and Uncle Henry, who had been played from 2 to 1 down to 3 to 2, nailed her in the final stride.

George Bennett's home-bred filly, Impertinence, was much the best in the race for maiden two-year-olds, and after running out at the top of the stretch and losing a lot of ground, won by a good margin. Blacklock, the favorite, had the slows, and finished last.

Scoville again broke it up with Lena J., the favorite, in the closing event, and Banposal and Pride of Woodstock, each at 12 to 1, made a head finish of it. Summaries:

PLANS MATURING

For Board of Trade Excursion to Central Kentucky.

RECEPTIONS TO BE HELD IN THREE CITIES.

INDICATIONS FORECAST RECORD BREAKING ATTENDANCE.

BAND TO BE ENGAGED.

Plans of the Louisville Board of Trade for the trip to Lawrenceburg, Harrodsburg and Danville are being completed rapidly, and from present indications the trip promises to be the biggest "Heads of Houses" excursion held under the auspices of the Board of Trade since its organization. A circular letter detailing the plans of the trip has been issued by E. H. Bowen, president of the Board of Trade. It is as follows:

Gentlemen: You are aware that the Southern Railway Company has completed its short line to Danville, Ky., and are now running through trains to that city and providing rapid and otherwise efficient service. Louisville is the natural manufacturing and jobbing center for this part of Kentucky, and if we want its trade and the friendship of its people we should make an effort to get it. It will not come to us in any other way.

We have made a special and exceedingly favorable arrangement with the Southern Railway for a private train to be used exclusively by the merchants and manufacturers, members of this Board of Trade, to carry us to Danville and return Tuesday, May 15, 1906. While it is intended that this shall be a most pleasant and enjoyable trip, its object is purely and simply to further our business interests with the cities mentioned. This is the first step.

Upon arrival at Lawrenceburg, Harrodsburg and Danville the intention is to serve a nice lunch, together with other necessaries of life, to the merchants of that city. Give them a reception and use the entire afternoon in talking business and meeting them. It is not the intention to receive any entertainment from them at all. We are to provide the entertainment, and we will do it in style.

* * *

To Give Reception.

We intend to leave Louisville about 8 o'clock in the morning and run through to Danville, stopping one hour each at Lawrenceburg and Harrodsburg; go directly to a hotel and entertain our guests, who will be at each point to meet us by prearrangement. We will leave Danville about 6 or 7 o'clock p. m., and arrive in Louisville about 8 or 9 o'clock. The definite schedule is not yet arranged. The cost of refreshments for our guests, a good band of music and all other expenses incident to running this excursion is not expected to cost over four or five dollars each, providing we have as many as one hundred merchants; and at this figure we ought to have at least two hundred.

If a sufficient number of firms signify their willingness to be represented we ought to make this the biggest excursion of the kind ever given by this Board of Trade. If a sufficient number cannot be had there will be no excursion, and the loss will be ours. You know the advertising that this city has received from similar trips of this nature has been worth very much more than the amount expended on them.

The people of Lawrenceburg, Harrodsburg and Danville are among our best friends in Kentucky. They are large purchasers and good pay, and I am sure that the merchants and manufacturers of Louisville feel that we ought to know them better. There is no better way of doing this than by being represented on this excursion.

Each firm represented by one or more of its partners may be accompanied by one or more of their salesmen. You are urged to give an immediate reply, stating the number of members of your firm that will attend, and their names if possible. Telephone this office for further particulars if you desire them, but please reply at once, as we are compelled to make all our arrangements, and have not very much time in which to make them.

Remember that the entire cost will not be over four or five dollars a head, provided we have a hundred or more; but if you answer yes, then it will be expected that your firm shall pay its proportion of the cost of the excursion whether represented or not. Yours sincerely,

E. H. BOWEN, President.

AT BAXTER AVENUE,

L. and N. Cincinnati and Lexington Trains Will Stop In Future.

Official announcement was made by the L. and N. officials yesterday that Lexington and Cincinnati trains will stop at Baxter avenue and Beargrass Creek in the future for the accommodation of passengers living in the eastern portion of the city. The new arrangements will begin this morning. Train No. 6, leaving Union Station daily at 5:20 p. m., for Cincinnati, and trains Nos. 18 and 16, leaving Union Station at 7:20 a. m. and 2 p. m. daily, except Sunday, for Lexington, will stop at this point. Train No. 5, from Cincinnati, arriving Union Station 11:40 a. m. daily, and trains Nos. 17 and 15, from Lexington, arriving Union Station 12:15 p. m. and 5:25 p. m. daily, except Sunday, will also make this stop.

SLIGHT DECREASE

SHOWN IN APRIL REPORT OF BUILDING INSPECTOR.

R. J. Tilford Says That Deficiency Will Be Made Up Easily In This Month.

There was a slight decrease, both as to the number of permits issued and the cost of buildings, for April just passed, as compared with the same month of last year. The number of permits issued for the last month for building and improvements was 267, at an estimated cost of $328,690. For April of last year the number of permits issued was 277, the estimated cost of the buildings being $517,868. This makes a decrease in the estimated cost of buildings of $189,178.

The decrease for the month is nothing unusual, according to the statement of R. J. Tilford, Building Inspector. He said that permits for the big structures that are now going up were taken out two months ago. Said he:

"During April the largest permit taken out was not for over $25,000, but we can look out for a good run in May. Permits will be taken out in May for the immense buildings at Fourth avenue and Walnut street and the new theater at Fourth avenue and Chestnut street. You see, these permits will give us a big start in the cost of buildings. The two buildings will run in the neighborhood of $400,000. The falling off in April is not at all discouraging, for we already are ahead of last year in the matter of building in Louisville."

ILLINOIS CENTRAL CHANGES.

Number of Officials In Passenger Department Shifted.

Chicago, April 30.—[Special.]—Many changes have been announced in the passenger department of the Illinois Central road, to become effective May 1. W. H. Brill is appointed division passenger agent at St. Louis, vice C. C. McCarty, resigned to engage in other business; R. J. Carmichael becomes district passenger agent at Chicago to succeed Mr. Brill; J. V. Tedford is appointed city passenger agent at Chicago vice R. J. Carmichael; Perry Marr is appointed city passenger and ticket agent at Cincinnati, vice J. E. Sullivan, resigned to engage in other business; G. G. Truesdale is appointed traveling passenger agent at Cincinnati, vice Perry Marr; J. O. Linton is appointed city passenger and ticket agent at Omaha, vice J. V. Tedford.

45 PER CENT. ON YOUR MONEY INTEREST YOU?

Oil trust agents were compelled to admit under oath before the Interstate Commerce Commission last month that their profits in Missouri were six hundred (600) per cent. In less than one year The Uncle Sam Oil Company will be able to not only supply Missouri, but will be patroling the entire Missouri valley States and will be placing oil on the market just as economically as the trust; and with our own production, how can Uncle Sam stock help but increase in solid values to several times par and pay even better than 45 per cent. on your money invested now? We can prove to every fair-minded man who will come to Kansas and investigate the Uncle Sam Company that this stock is a fortune-maker beyond a question of doubt.

In sixty days' time the balance of one hundred and thirty-five (135) miles of main trunk pipe line will be completed. Also in that time Uncle Sam Refinery No. 2—on the banks of navigation—will be ready to refine oil. This refinery will start with initial capacity of six hundred (600) barrels daily, and in sixty days more will be increased to handle twelve hundred (1,200) barrels daily. Also Uncle Sam Refinery No. 3, at Tulsa, Indian Territory, will be completed some time in July, and will start with 600 barrels' daily capacity. The combined capacity of all three refineries when fully completed will be built up to nearly EIGHTEEN THOUSAND barrels per day. Can you afford to let an opportunity pass when you can now join this giant independent enterprise at a price that is right?

People everywhere are disgusted and tired of the criminal aggression and oppressive methods of the oil trust. Every day new grafts are uncovered, and in time discrimination will be checked and every industry given a square deal. From all over the Missouri valley States come inquiries for Uncle Sam distributing stations, while substantial men from the four corners of the globe are joining Uncle Sam, until our band is now nearly eight thousand (8,000) strong. This army of trust-haters of the first degree will be a power for good, and gives this company a prestige that money could not buy. Other strong men are becoming Uncle Sam stockholders hourly. Kansans who are on the ground are buying the heaviest. During the past week one Kansan took fifteen thousand shares at $2,800.00, and another one took seven thousand shares at $1,400.00. Uncle Sam owns or controls oil rights in over thirty thousand (30,000) acres. Struck one well last week that flowed over five hundred (500) barrels per day. Uncle Sam is operating four drills night and day—has room on proven ground for hundreds of others, and will have

TWO THOUSAND BARRELS DAILY PRODUCTION BY JULY, WHILE UNCLE SAM'S OIL SALES WILL TOTAL OVER EIGHT THOUSAND DOLLARS DAILY BY OCTOBER.

Are Winning the Day on Kansas Soil.

When the grand old State of Kansas proved to the world that it would protect independent capital against the bullying oil trust, and independent capital was interested through the Uncle Sam Oil Company, there were those who feared for Uncle Sam's success, but such is not the case to-day. One bluff after another has been called until to-day it is a conceded fact that Uncle Sam oil will soon have the trade of not only Kansas but adjoining States as soon as distributing stations can be completed.

Can Market Uncle Sam Oil Just as Economically as the Trust.

It takes at least ONE MILLION DOLLARS to place a refining company where it can take care of itself in the markets. This amount of money will be back of Uncle Sam in less than three months and with it the good will of the people everywhere, besides the loyal backing of the thousands of stockholders. Uncle Sam now has storage tanks and warehouses completed in nineteen (19) of the trade centers in the Missouri valley States. We have our own tank cars to haul the oil from Uncle Sam refinery No. 1. Over a hundred (100) more of said distributing stations will be completed during the next year.

True blue men can be secured on every hand who would rather devote their ability to an independent company than the trust, and Uncle Sam has successfully put in the nineteen distributing stations and can put in ONE HUNDRED more and not half try. Don't you see it will be only a queston of a few months until Uncle Sam wagons will be patroling the Missouri valley States? Better put your shoulder to the wheel, enlist under the victorious banner of Uncle Sam and thereby secure a fortune-making investment for yourself and at the same time help to success a good cause, one that all the dirty millions of the oil trust has been unable to check since Kansas beat the call to arms in the Legislature of 1905.

Indications for a Greater Oil Pool on Eleven Hundred Acre Lot 43, Osage, Which as It Stands To-day, Is Worth a Million Dollars to Uncle Sam Stockholders.

You can take this for what it is worth, but there are a few facts that look good to oil men. About three months ago Uncle Sam drilled oiler No. 8 on said Lot 43 and struck ninety-six (96) feet of oil sand, twenty-two (22) of which was rich with oil, and this well under the pump made over seventy-five barrels the first day. Then to test this valuable property further one of the drills was moved straight west two thousand four hundred (2,400) feet, or nearly a half mile, and at this location the same ninety-six (96) feet of sand was secured, with thirty-seven (37) feet of rich pay dirt, or a gain of about 70 per cent. in pay dirt, and this well showed up about 250 barrels the first day. Then the drill was moved straight west to location No. 11, and the same depth of ninety-six feet of sand was secured, with forty-eight (48) feet of rich pay dirt, or a gain of nearly 120 per cent. over oiler No. 8, with the well flowing as above stated over five hundred (500) barrels the first day. Now, just as sure as you are a foot high, Uncle Sam is nearing one of the greatest oil pools in the Osage country, and you need not be surprised to see a three thousand (3,000) barrel oiler at any location west of No. 11, and Uncle Sam has two drills at work on this great property, which is easily worth a million dollars to Uncle Sam stockholders. Now, with all the great work of building pipe lines, refineries and drilling in great oil wells, can you afford to turn down an investment in this stock? Every hour the stock left for sale is diminishing. Thousands of loyal stockholders are increasing their holdings and any day now the price may be forced to at least a half dollar per share by the bringing in of a big oil well. On the other hand, if you wish to see for yourself what we state herein, go down to Bartlesville and go out to where the Uncle Sam settlement is bringing in these big oil wells and see for yourself.

Putting Up a Square, Conservative, Practical Fight for Success.

There are stockholders in the Uncle Sam company from every State and territory in the Union; also from Canada and Old Mexico. The management of the company from the word go have tried to secure, maintain and merit the confidence of investors from everywhere. It matters not whether you live in New York or Mexico or Florida or Canada or Oregon, your interests will be guarded just as carefully as though you lived in Cherryvale. To build up an enterprise like the Uncle Sam company it is necessary to secure stockholders from all over, for the trust, through its different hirelings, has in the past been able to block a great many efforts of capitalists to furnish competition for Kansas-Territory oil. However, by securing the assistance of and low advertising rates with the leading and influential papers of the land, the Uncle Sam Company has been able to make the company a houseword in thousands of homes, and, with $20 from one place, $50 from another, $100 from another, $500 from another, and $1,000 to $2,800 from other places, the funds have been raised regardless of the attempts of certain blackmailing, would-be financial papers and other perjured hirelings of the criminal trust in their losing efforts to discredit the Uncle Sam company.

The management of any company is largely responsible for its success or failure. Now the Uncle Sam Company has grown stronger every day since it entered the field. The management is the same to-day as it was at the beginning. The course pursued has been along well laid plans. There has been no turning back, but continually advancing towards its sought for goals, and every day events are happening that prove that our efforts are practicable. To-day the business men of Kansas City are agitating a barge line to St. Louis, while a year ago certain wise guys tried to ridicule the plans of Uncle Sam to barge oil down the river to the markets of the world. Uncle Sam will not only barge oil to St. Louis, but will barge up the river to St. Joe, Omaha, Council Bluffs and scores of other cities along the banks of the Missouri. The facts are the management of the Uncle Sam Company know what they are doing, they are not dreamers but are hammering along on practical lines, and if you join the company you will march to success with it, for Uncle Sam stock is going to increase in solid value to several times par just as sure as water seeks its level. You are solicited to join this company now by sending check or draft by return mail for stock at prices quoted herein.

Sales Will Be $8,000 Daily By October.

The man who thinks that this giant enterprise, backed by nearly 8,000 stockholders and public sentiment in general, is not in the fight for big game, will be badly mistaken. Like soldiers swinging into battle line, the Uncle Sam Company is bringing up a solid front. One of these days all will be complete. The great river pipe line (255) two hundred and fifty-five miles long will be finished, and then from the great oil wells of the Indian Territory and from all along their pipe line through the Kansas oil fields for nearly 150 miles the Uncle Sam Company will pump oil to market at a saving over oil trust railroad rates of nearly one dollar per barrel. The north terminus of their main trunk pipe line will be the big river refinery by Atchison, on the banks of the Missouri. From Atchison Uncle Sam steel barges will haul Uncle Sam oil to Omaha, Council Bluffs, St. Joseph, Nebraska City, Kansas City, Jefferson City, Boonville, and on down to St. Louis, from where, unhindered and free, Uncle Sam oil can be carried to the markets of the world at a very low rate of transportation. In the pipe line and river barges lies the secret of success of the Uncle Sam Company. All along the banks of the Missouri and Mississippi rivers are large manufacturing enterprises which would be glad to pay $1.30 per barrel for Kansas and Indian Territory oil, even to burn under their furnaces. Under these conditions Uncle Sam's pipe line and barges alone will be a great revenue-getter for Uncle Sam stockholders. If you don't think Uncle Sam is building this pipe line, come down to Cherryvale and start out north and you will walk for ten days before you can reach the end of the line already screwed together and ready to put oil through. Then come back to Cherryvale and start toward the great wells of Uncle Sam's in the Indian Territory. Look at the great pumps unloaded and being completed. Go to the County Recorder and find deeds for Uncle Sam pump stations and see the carloads of pipe that are being unloaded, or write to Edgar M. Moore & Co., Farmers' Bank building, Pittsburg, Pa., and see if we are not buying the pipe. Then go to Atchison, where Uncle Sam refinery No. 2 is nearing completion, and see the men as they are crowding the work, and then go to Tulsa and see where office building, foundation and railroad switch are completed, and then consider what (2,100) two thousand one hundred barrels of oil manufactured and sold daily will bring and you will realize that ($8,000) eight thousand dollar sales daily for Uncle Sam products by October is certain to be a reality. Then you better mail your check or draft for all the money you can spare for part of Uncle Sam stock at 20 cents per share, and help us crowd this great work to completion, and secure for yourself an investment as safe as Government bonds, and one that will pay you increased dividends yearly.

Another Fortune Maker.

We will admit that lots of investors have lost money in oil stocks and the same can be said of bank failures, railroad stocks, town lots and other real and personal investments. However, there have been larger and greater fortunes made in oil than in any other industry in the United States. There are always the good and bad investment in every industry, and the Uncle Sam company certainly is giving proof every few days of the valuable undeveloped assets back of the Uncle Sam. Only last week Uncle Sam completed oiler No. 11, an 1,100 acre lot 43, Osage. This oiler as can be proved by reliable men, flowed over five hundred (500) barrels of high grade oil the first day. Of course, all oil wells produce more oil the first few days than they do after they have settled down. However, we can prove that this oil, manufactured into the different products as the Uncle Sam company will soon be able to do, will bring four dollars and thirty-nine cents $4.39) per barrel. This oiler No. 11, above mentioned, cost the Uncle Sam company less than $1,000 completed. Now, we call it a fortune maker—it has produced in the first twenty-four hours oil enough to bring Uncle Sam stockholders over two thousand dollars ($2,000), and is good for years to come. Are we not correct when we call it a fortune maker? How can such properties as this help but put Uncle Sam stock to several times par? The stock has been selling for the past five months at 20 cents per share. Over two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) has been subscribed at this same price asked you, and now this money is all back of the company, making the balance of the stock just that much more valuable, while several big oilers like No. 11 have been completed, and, furthermore, before this account will reach lots of readers another great oiler on lot 43 will be completed, for every hour the drillers are going deeper, and at this writing they are within two days' run of the oil pool on proven ground. Every week from now at least one additional oiler will be completed. Uncle Sam is operating four complete drill rigs. Figure for yourself what these four drills can do in one year and then consider that as the production is increased the refining capacity will be increased until in a year or so the Uncle Sam Oil Company of Kansas, protected by the strong arm of the State and backed by hundreds of thousands of the Central West will secure and maintain the oil trade of the Missouri valley States. However, it will be too late then to buy the stock even at $2.00 per share. The time for you to act is now, before a few more fortune makers like No. 11 raise Uncle Sam production to past two thousand (2,600) barrels per day and advance the stock to several times 20 cents per share.

Remittance for Stock and Oil Has Averaged Over Ten Thousand Dollars Weekly for the Past Eight Weeks.

By expert actual count up to the last hour before writing this announcement 83.7 per cent. of the entire capital stock has been subscribed for. The rest of the stock sold at 20 cents per share will bring the company over $324,000. This stock will be sold. In fact, there are enough deals, big and little, pending right now to sell all of the balance twice over. Kansans who are on the grounds are buying heavily, while from Pennsylvania and New York and other Eastern and Southern States substantial remittances are coming in on every mail.

This announcement will be read by millions of people, while the company is in telegraphic communication with hundreds of investors and has a special report mailing list of over TWELVE THOUSAND investors. Every day some one who had about decided to buy Uncle Sam stock sees some new move of the company toward success and then becomes an Uncle Sam man. Thousands of investors have about concluded to purchase part of the stock, and any week the remittances may come in strong enough to take all of the stock there is left. The time to buy stock in any enterprise is while it is nearing its completion. Like a ball team with a man on third base, Uncle Sam is anxious to score by completing the great work so well under headway.

By crowding the sales on the balance of stock we will be able to make a home run just that much quicker, and that is why the stock is offered at the same old price of 20 cents per share, but such will not be the case forever, for even while you read this there will be investors writing and wiring for Uncle Sam stock.

Why Your Money Invested Should Earn 45 Per Cent. in Twelve Months.

In less than nine months Uncle Sam will be handling over 3,000 barrels per day. As before stated, we will save nearly a dollar per barrel by transporting the oil over Uncle Sam's pipe line and barges, when completed. With our by-product plants, which will also be completed during the next nine months, Uncle Sam will be able to clear close to $3 per barrel and sell our products at a reasonable price. There is not a single doubt but what during the next nine months Uncle Sam can build up to the three thousand barrel daily capacity with all three refineries. At $3 per barrel the profit to the stockholder would pay better than one hundred and fifty (150) per cent. on your money at present prices instead of 45 per cent. However, we are allowing for a way down low margin and when we say 45 per cent. we mean it, and believe Uncle Sam stock will do considerably better than that. The stock is a fortune-making investment, and if you will give the company full credit for its merits you will have to admit it, too.

Dividends Will Commence June 20, 1906.

You will not have to wait forever to secure returns on an investment in Uncle Sam stock. The first dividend will be paid in less than sixty days. If the company can lay up a small dividend off the earnings of Refinery No. 1, what do you suppose we can do with the two additional big refineries No. 2, at Atchison, and No. 3, at Tulsa, now under construction? The facts are, you cannot find a safer investment in the United States than Uncle Sam stock, with the chances a thousand to one that it will five-fold in value during the next nine months.

Write or Wire for Particulars and Pictures.

This company has just what it advertises. In the different departments, at the refinery, on the pipe line, in the oil fields and at the different distributing stations over one hundred men are crowding the great work of the company on to success. We have about eighty pictures taken from real life in the different departments showing part of the great work; also more complete reports. We will be glad to mail them to any investor in the United States or any foreign country, and any other information desired. We stand ready to prove any statement made herein and solicit your investment in this stock in good faith and will see that you get a square deal in fact as well as words. The company will not sell over thirty thousand shares to any one man, and reserves the right to reject any offer by returning the remittance. Would rather have five men subscribe $200 each than one man $1,000, for this company is a common man's organization and wants as large a number of stockholders among the middle class as possible.

It is a part of the plan the alumni of the school are engaged in to provide for the entertainment of those members of the association who come to Louisville on that occasion.

EARTHQUAKE FRIGHT

CAUSED BY EXPLOSION OF SAFETY VALVE PIPE.

Accident Results In Slight Damage and Delay of Work.

The breaking of a safety valve at the factory of the Bennett Furniture Co., at Nineteenth and Walnut streets, shortly before 7 o'clock yesterday morning, caused an earthquake fright in the neighborhood and did a small amount of damage. The rush of escaping steam tore off one corner of the roof of a small house adjoining the furniture factory, causing a trifling loss. The house is rented by Frederick Calvert, colored, 1916 Nineteenth street, but he was not at his home at the time of the accident.

Nelson Crull, the engineer, said that he was getting up steam preparatory to starting the machinery and that the safety valve exploded when the steam gauge showed only 95 pounds pressure, whereas it should have held to 150 pounds. The vent pipe, through which the rush of steam went, is exposed close to the Calvert house, and the roof of the house was caught by the strong gush of steam. The accident caused a cessation of work for the day and the forty employes were laid off until to-day, by which time it is expected to have the break repaired.

In answer to an inquiry as to the safety of an investment in the United Railways Investment Company of San Francisco preferred the Wall Street Journal replies as follows: "Owing to the unsettled condition of affairs in San Francisco and the uncertainty as to the extent that the earnings of the company will be impaired there is a speculative element about the stock which takes it out of the investment class for the present, at least. The company's loss is not going to be as heavy as was at first expected. Reliable estimates place it at $1,250,000, a large part of which is covered by insurance. Very little of the damage was to the rolling stock, so that as soon as the tracks are cleared and the necessary overhead construction is installed the road will be in a position to operate practically normally. The earnings question seems to be the important feature, and there is some difference of opinion as to how far they will be affected. The management is taking energetic measures to get the property into normal condition, and arrangements have been made to rush the necessary material and supplies to San Francisco."

The directors of the United Railways Investment Company of San Francisco have let it be known that they will not pay cash dividends on the preferred stock to any shareholder who may demur to accepting payment in scrip, as agreed upon by the board. The distribution is 4⅛ per cent., involving $712,500, payable to-morrow. The directors contend that the stockholders have no option but to accept the scrip. A majority of the stockholders have, it is said, expressed their approval of the directors' action, in view of the disaster. The management is understood to have already received communications from stockholders representing over 60,000 shares of preferred stock sanctioning the scrip payment, whilst, so far, only one small stockholder has raised any objection to this course.

The New Orleans Railway and Light Company's earnings for the quarter ending March 31, 1906, follow:

Gross	$1,491,332
Expenses	765,759
Net	$725,573
Interest, taxes and miscel's charges	456,158
Net income	$269,415
Preferred quarterly dividend	125,000
Surplus	$144,415

The Twin City Rapid Transit Company makes a good showing for the month of March. The improvement in net earnings was even better than that of the gross, which in itself was large, considering the time of the year. The increase of gross in March was $56,518, that of net was $31,228. These are increases of 15.6 per cent. and 16 per cent. respectively. A considerable portion of this increase is to be ascribed to increased mileage. This is evidenced in part by the fact that charges for nine months have increased $37,150. However, the road is not as yet getting the full benefit of expenditures already made, and it is to be expected that the coming summer, with the usual heavy summer traffic, will bring about considerable increases in the earnings. Certain lines, which were built largely for summer traffic, will find the first normal use in the coming season. The road, according to the statement for nine months, is getting real benefit from investments in improvements and extensions. The surplus for the first quarter of the fiscal year is larger than that for the same period of last year by $60,991, in spite of the fact that the charges have increased $37,150. The statement follows:

March:	1906.	Inc.
Gross earnings	$418,249	$56,518
Operating expenses	198,055	25,290
Net earnings	$220,194	$31,228
Charges and pfd. dividend	109,708	12,384
Surplus	$110,485	$18,845
From Jan. 1 to March 31:
Gross earnings	$1,206,500	$172,197
Operating expenses	592,418	74,058
Net earnings	$614,082	$98,140
Charges and pfd. dividend	329,125	37,151
Surplus	$284,957	$60,990

The common and preferred of the Paducah Traction and Light Company were listed on the local Stock Exchange to-day. The company has $1,000,000 common stock, all outstanding, and $1,000,000 preferred, of which $600,000 is out. The company is under the management of Stone & Webster, of Boston. The Fidelity Trust Company is the local transfer agent.

Stockholders of the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago Railway Company, the Elgin, Aurora and Southern Traction Company and the Cook County Railroad Company may now present their securities at the office of the Cleveland Trust Company, of Cleveland, O., and receive the new temporary securities of the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago Railroad Company. Under the terms of the consolidation of the three companies, owners of Aurora, Elgin and Chicago preferred will receive 120 per cent. in the preferred stock of the Aurora, Elgin and Chicago Railroad Company. Elgin, Aurora and Southern stockholders will receive 65 per cent. in the new preferred stock, while Aurora, Elgin and Chicago common stockholders will receive 100 per cent. of common stock in the new company. The common stock of the Cook County Railroad will be exchanged on the same basis as the Aurora common.

A start has been made to build the city of Gary, in Indiana, which is planned to accommodate 100,000 people, including the employes of the United States Steel Corporation, who will be required to run the largest steel mills in the world, which the trust is to build there.

BROKERS' MONTHLY LETTERS.

J. M. Sharp & Co., in their monthly review of the local market, have the following:

"Throughout the past month the local market has been sluggish, with a downward tendency noted in several of the more active issues. Springfield Railway and Light and St. Joseph Railway and Light have held their advances fairly well, and the news relating to both is more bullish than bearish. Louisville Traction common has scored a wide decline on comparatively small transactions, about 500 shares in all coming into the market. The earnings of this company are showing handsome increases from day to day, but the common stock has had a big advance, and it was but natural that this security should be selected when profit-taking became necessary. It seems that the low point on this stock has been touched for the present. Industrial issues have been dormant, but a fair market was noted for bonds, several of the street-railway issues being in rather good request.

"In the past few months a great many new traction issues have been introduced into this market. While their distribution has not been wide, it has, nevertheless, resulted in tying up considerable capital, with no early prospect of large profits for holders. Some of these issues doubtless possess real merit. Though the general market does not seem altogether favorable for new flotations, we cannot but regard the proposed reorganization of the public utilities of Portland, Ore., including the Portland Railway Company, with favor. Messrs. E. W. Clark & Co. are dominant factors in this merger, and the earnings of the several companies to be consolidated under the Clark stamp of approval make it reasonably sure that the new securities when issued will prove attractive. Negotiable receipts have been issued for East St. Louis and Suburban stock, and the outlook for the new company, which is to take over the East St. Louis and Alton, is believed to be very bright."

The April review of Almstedt Bros. follows:

"The market for the past month was not up to its usual activity and was characterized by reactionary tendencies. Considering the continued advances which the market enjoyed during the past six months, a reaction was not only due, but from a market viewpoint rather to be desired, in that it puts the market in a healthier condition. Every possible atempt was made to produce a sharp decline in the price of Louisville Traction common. Although the stock suffered a ten-point break during the month, steady support has been given to it at the lower level, with the selling pressure having spent its force at this writing. We are hearing very favorable reports of increased earnings in connection with the International Traction Company. Although the preferred and common stocks have not made any special movements, they are being quietly absorbed by the knowing ones. As the floating supply of both stocks is limited, we would not be surprised to see a movement on foot later on which will carry both stocks considerably higher. The disaster which has befallen San Francisco has necessarily caused a great decline in the price of both the preferred and common stock, but as the city, from all reports, is to be rebuilt on a greater and grander scale than heretofore, the patient holder will be amply repaid for waiting. Kansas City Railway and Light common has held remarkably steady. It is rumored that a dividend is under consideration and may be acted on within the next few months. St. Louis United Railways common has suffered a seven-point decline, but with continued good earnings is destined to sell higher. St. Joseph Railway, Light, Heat and Power common is a promising proposition, and its recent showing of gross and net earnings should merit higher prices for it. There has been a quiet absorption of both the common and preferred stocks of the new East St. Louis and Suburban Company, and as they are regarded with great favor they will do better later on. The only local industrial stock which showed any sign of activity was Louisville Tobacco Warehouse common. We are informed that one-half of the bonded indebtedness of the company has been paid out of the earnings and that valuable real estate has been recently acquired. This, together with the unparalleled earnings of the company, should place the common stock on a safe footing. Bank stocks continue in good request, but the demand for trust company stocks is only limited. The bond market remains dull and featureless."

W. L. Lyons & Co. review the local market for the month of April as follows:

"The market for local securities this month was until the San Francisco earthquake marked with firmness, but inactivity. Springfield Railway and Light was perhaps the feature before the disaster, selling as high as 90½. It is now as is the rest of the local list—decidedly easier. The securities of the United Railways Investment Company of San Francisco suffered the greatest decline, the common selling as low as 50 and the preferred 55. The common is now ruling around 65 and the preferred 70. Louisville Traction common likewise sold off sharply, being offered and selling as low as 124. However, at the moment it shows decided strength at 125½ bid, with but little stock offered at 127. Detroit United and Toledo each declined about 6 points, the former selling as low as 90¼ and the latter as low as 29¼. Louisville and Southern Indiana Traction common, though at the moment rather lifeless, will bear watching. It is nominally quoted at 35 to 37. United Railways of St. Louis also sold off in sympathy with the New York market and at present is offered at 54¾, with 53¼ bid. This stock looks to us a purchase on any further decline. The preferred shows but little change and is well taken around 84. Paducah Light and Traction common sold in round lots at a range of from 26½ to 29. New Orleans Railway and Light common is offered at 33¼, with 33 bid, and at this figure looks very attractive, as does the 5 per cent. preferred around 80. Local industrial stocks are dull and unchanged. City bonds, as is generally the case with other bonds, are easier. Government bonds are firm, but inactive."

MARKET LETTERS.

New York.—The rise may go for two points further, after which we think it will be about time to sell. A great deal will depend on the selling to-morrow. If corporate interests try to dispose of much—or, differently put, if it should prove that there is a great deal more long stock to come out—we will get another setback soon. But it will be a good trading market within a range of 3 to 5 points for some time to come. People were altogether more cheerful to-day, which indicated that the worst is over—temporarily at least. The money market will cease to disturb for some little time. Ample funds are obtainable in Europe for insurance settlements, about which for a time there was serious concern. Bankers took a more hopeful view of things at San Francisco.—(C. I. Hudson & Co. to S. C. Henning.

New York.—It was evident to the bears, when the irregular tone did not bring out a renewal of liquidation, that the selling pressure had been exhausted for the present. There seemed to be buying of an excellent character and sharp advances in stocks like Amalgamated, Smelters and Reading caused general short covering movement in the last hour of trading. The close to-night would indicate some further advance in the general list.—(W. L. Lyons & Co.

New York.—To-day's results in the stock market were quite logical after the heavy liquidation of last week. Several large operators, carrying as high as 150,000 shares each, were compelled to throw their commitments over at the market, which was the cause of extreme low levels made Saturday. This morning's selling represented the few weak holders left that were compelled to let go for lack of funds. A strike is imminent in the anthracite fields the end of the week, and it is quite likely that insiders will let go stocks again and pound the market to dislodge any Reading common that may be held speculatively by an undesirable following. It is not improbable that a further demonstration will be made against the shorts to-morrow, but on a much further rally we advise the sale of stocks.—(Hutton & Co. to John L. Dunlap.

New York.—This better feeling will probably continue for some little while, and after that we are sure to have a dull period, awaiting developments, with probably a sagging market. The thing to watch at the present moment is time money, and we reiterate what we have said so often of late, that while time money stays at 5½ to 6 per cent. a bull market is out of the question. Should the figures get down below 5 per cent. the situation would be very different, but as it is now our investment market, which, after all, is the important factor in financial circles, is in a very precarious position, for large amounts of securities must be sold, not only by the fire insurance companies, but by the life insurance companies also. The dealers who ordinarily take these securities are not now able to do so on account of the prohibitive rates they would have to pay for money with which to carry them. Unless this situation changes it means lower prices for the high-priced issues, and the speculative ones must follow, but, as we have stated above, with easier time money things should improve materially.—(Post & Flagg to John W. & D. S. Green.

New York.—This market has had a good rally and cannot be expected to do more for the present. It ought to be a sale on strength to-morrow. The call money market stays pretty stiff. The scarcity of Consolidated Gas on the movement to cover this afternoon was a feature. It looks as if there were inside buying as well as short covering to replace stock sold out at high figures.—(Dominick & Dominick to Halsey & Halsey.

New York.—We advocate the continuance of the neutral position, but believe the rally ought to extend 5 points from Saturday's low price. This will depend, however, entirely upon how much stock is to be met on the recoveries. That some offerings will be found we have no doubt, therefore conservatism is wise for the present. In following the trading rule of selling on rallies we would be careful in view of the big decline to employ the small stop safeguard. Timid bulls may do the same when declines occur. We consider that Union Pacific, Amalgamated Copper, Reading and United States Steels have received the best support, considering all aspects, of any of the leading issues in the market, and action should be taken with regard to them in accordance with this statement. We recommend conservative action. Believing that the decline has largely resulted from artificial, and not fundamental, causes, we think the big business boom and its prospective continuance will attract investment buying on a larger scale in the next few days.—(Ware & Leland.

New York.—The support to-day was of a substantial character, causing a rally. At the close there was more confidence and higher prices are looked for at the opening.—(Amsedt Bros.

New York.—It was general comment that the market was full of both direct buying and supporting orders. So far there has been no urgent liquidation and the buying from the various sources has been more than enough to absorb all stocks offered, but some brokers have an idea that stocks will come out on the rallies again.—(Ex. Norton & Co. to J. J. B. Hilliard & Son.

STOCK MARKET REVIEW.

New York, April 30.—Money on call steady at 3¾@4½ per cent.; ruling rate 4; closing bid 3½; offered at 4; time loans steady: 60 days, 90 days and six months 5¼@6 per cent.; prime mercantile paper 5¼@5¾. Sterling exchange firmer at $4.8425@4.8430 for demand and at $4.8125@4.8150 for 60-day bills; posted rates $4.82½@4.83 and $4.85½@4.86; commercial bills $4.81. Bar silver 65¾c. Mexican dollars 50½c. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds irregular.

The stock market made an effective stand to-day against the forces that have been pressing severely upon it ever since the San Francisco disaster. The market's bad period was during the first hour, when heavy liquidation had to be absorbed in continuation of last week's movement. Vigorous supporting measures were persisted in, however, and the large additional offerings that came on the market were taken without allowing prices to break. With the success of the support once established, a considerable buying demand started up from the uncovered short interest. The resort to display advertising in behalf of the campaign of the bears was regarded as indicating an extension of the short interest to proportions which gave good promise of potential support for the market if the attack were resisted. The result justified the supposition. Buying on a large scale was attributed to bear account for some of the stocks that suffered most acutely in last week's slump. The success in arresting the decline in prices also had the effect of averting a large amount of threatened liquidation.

It was feared that the forced selling last week of weakened speculative accounts by reason of the exhaustion of margins and inability to afford additional supplies would cause other similar accounts to come tumbling after to-day. It was the perception of this danger that prompted the vigorous supporting measures in the market by powerful banking interests and capitalists with vital interests in preventing the market from falling into demoralization. The time seemed propitious for supporting the market because the liquidation of account of insurance companies desiring to realize on their assets tended to decrease as prices got away from a desirable level. Calls for additional margins sent out at the end of last week had the inevitable consequence of bringing in selling orders from widely scattered sources this morning. But there was no such unwieldy individual accounts to let go as those of some of the great speculative plungers that were hurled into the market last week and which broke prices. By the end of the first hour it was known that all clearing sheets had passed the Stock Exchange clearing-house successfully, thus demonstrating that no failure was caused by last week's break in prices. The volume of business contracted considerably on the recovery, and speculative sentiment towards a rally showed a degree of reserve and of hesitation.

Effective support has been so often followed on various occasions since the San Francisco losses by renewed liquidation that board room operators were on a constant lookout for evidence that long stocks were coming out again. The doubt whether the necessary measures of adjustment to the San Francisco losses had been completed was represented in this suspicious attitude of the speculation. The longer the rally held the more the suspicious attitude felt towards it tended to be dissipated. There was no important change in actual conditions beyond the progress made in the necessary adjustment in the San Francisco losses, the measures remaining to be taken naturally decreasing in the proportion of those that have already been accomplished.

The stream of currency movement to San Francisco out of New York continued on a large scale to-day, but is offset by a still larger stream of incoming gold imports. London discounts hardened to-day in response to the demand upon that center for gold and a rise in the Bank of England discount rate is expected in consequence. The Paris Bourse showed no lack of confidence in the outcome of May day in the French capital.

The upward movement gathered force as the absence of renewed liquidation on the advances was perceived, and considerable recoveries of last week's declines were made before the close. Last prices were but little below the best.

FOREIGN FINANCIAL.

London, April 30.—Money was in considerable demand to-day and supplies were not abundant. Discounts were firm. The United States purchased in the open market $2,500,000 in gold and $1,550,000 left Sidney, New South Wales, to-day on the steamer Sierra for the United States. Trading on the Stock Exchange was dull and inanimate, despite the expectations that the budget would prove a bull factor. The trouble in Natal caused anxiety in addition to the prospect of May-day riots in Paris, while the money market conditions and the American demand for gold accentuated the weakness. Prices recovered later and trading closed quiet. Consols opened easier, but closed with a better tone. Americans opened weak and rallied to above parity on New York buying. Union Pacific was active and Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe and Southern Pacific were features. Prices generally hardened during the last hour and after some hesitation closed strong. Foreigners were in somewhat better demand. Russians were the feature. Kaffirs hardened late in the day. Japanese Imperial 6s of 1904 were quoted at 101¼. Consols for both money and the account 90⅝; Anaconda 12⅝; Atchison 91⅜; do preferred 104½; Baltimore and Ohio 110⅝; Canadian Pacific 163⅞; Chesapeake and Ohio 56½; Chicago Great Western 20; Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul 169½; De Beers 17⅜; Denver and Rio Grande 42; do preferred 89; Erie 41⅝; do first preferred 78½; do second preferred 65½; Illinois Central 172½; Louisville and Nashville 147; Missouri, Kansas and Texas 32⅜; New York Central 139; Norfolk and Western 89⅛; do preferred 93; Ontario and Western 47⅜; Pennsylvania 70⅝; Rand Mines 6⅜; Reading 62⅝; do first preferred 46; do second preferred 48; Southern Railway 37⅞; do preferred 102; Southern Pacific 66¼; Union Pacific 151⅝; do preferred 98; United States Steel 41⅝; do preferred 109½; Wabash 20; do preferred 43½; Spanish 4s 92. Bar silver firm at 30⅛d per ounce. Money 3@3¼ per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for both short and three months' bills is 3⅝ per cent.

Paris, April 30.—The tone on the Bourse today was calm and prices were firm. The new Russians were quoted at 94.20. Russian Imperial 4s were quoted at 84.70 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 506. The private rate of discount was 2½@2⅝ per cent. Three per cent. rentes 98f 67c for the account. Exchange on London 25f 15½c for checks.

Berlin, April 30.—Trading was active on the Boerse to-day and prices were firm. Discount rates: Short bills 5 per cent.; three months' bills 3¾ per cent.

St. Petersburg, April 30.—Prices on the Bourse to-day were strong. Imperial 4s closed at 75¾ and new 5s at 89⅝.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Louisville.

(Reported by the Louisville Live Stock Exchange, Bourbon Stock Yards.)

Louisville, April 30.—Cattle—The receipts of cattle to-day were 866 head, against 1,209 last Monday, 1,268 a year ago and 819 two years ago to-day. While the supply of cattle on sale to-day was rather small for Monday, there were hardly as many buyers here as usual, and really fully as many cattle here as were wanted. Generally speaking, the market was considered just about steady; some few sales of handy-weight choice quality butcher cattle were possibly a shade better, but the medium and common butcher cattle were slow and draggy, and the heavy butcher trade showed no improvement whatever. The best feeders and stockers found ready sale at current values; medium, plain and common grades were slow to change hands and prevailing prices low. Bulls were just about steady; canners unchanged. Choice milch cows in good demand; common and light cows slow sale. Not many heavy shipping cattle here to-day; the trade on that class of cattle was slow and values no better; in fact, the condition of the Chicago market had rather an unfavorable effect upon the buyers for heavy steers. At the close this evening the pens were fairly well cleared; the market closed just about steady and the buyers were all pretty well supplied.

Calves—Receipts of calves 66 head. Market steady to a shade better on choice calves; best $5@5.50; some choice a shade better; common dull.

Hogs—The receipts of hogs to-day were 3,739 head, which included several cars bought by local packers at other points and not on sale, against 3,467 last Monday, 2,357 a year ago and 4,096 two years ago. There was a good local and shipping demand for all weights; market opened fairly active and steady prices prevailed; selected, 160 pounds and up, selling at $6.60; 120 to 160 pounds $6.40; pigs $5.60@6.15; roughs $3.50@5.85. The market closed rather slow, but the pens were well cleared.

Sheep and Lambs—The receipts of sheep and lambs were very light, 342 head, against 28 last Monday, 328 a year ago and 1,023 two years ago. The market was quiet and no quotable change in values; the bulk of the best fat wool sheep coming to this market now are selling at $4@4.50; something extra good would sell higher; best fall lambs $6@6.50; choice light spring lambs $8@9; common and medium sheep and lambs very slow sale. No demand for stock sheep; sheared sheep are selling about $1 per 100 pounds under wool sheep.

(Reported by the Central Live Stock Exchange, Central Stock Yards.)

Louisville, April 30.—Cattle—Receipts liberal. There was a fair attendance of buyers on the yard this morning, but they were manifesting very little interest for anything except the choice handy-weight butcher cattle, which were sold easily at steady prices; common and medium grades were very little sought after, and in most cases it was hard to realize steady prices for them. There were several country buyers on the yard this morning and the choice stockers and feeders were easily disposed of at good prices, and hardly enough here to supply the demand; common rough stockers and feeders were dull and hard to sell. There were no heavy cattle on sale to-day, but the feeling was dull on that class. Good bulls about steady; common bulls a shade lower. Canners dull and draggy. The choice milch cows are still selling readily; thin, small cows slow sale.

Calves—Receipts liberal. Market unchanged; the bulk of the good calves are selling from $5 to $5.25; something extra a shade higher; common calves dull and hard to sell.

COTTON MARKETS.

New York, April 30.—The cotton market was very quiet during to-day's session, but prices ruled steadier and closed at a net advance of 9@11 points. Sales for the day were estimated at 175,000 bales.

The opening was steady at a decline of 1 point to an advance of 1 point on steady Liverpool cables and large spot sales in the English market. There was further apprehension regarding Wall street conditions, but the stock market was steady, there was no renewal of Wall street liquidation, local bulls seemed to be supporting the near months in a moderate way, and there was some scattered covering of the new crop shorts, on which the market ruled generally steady and gradually advanced until near the close, when there was some realizing. Final prices, however, were steady and within a point or two of the top. Weather and new crop reports continue favorable on the average, but local bulls expect that the weekly report of the Weather Bureau to-morrow will again complain of lack of sufficient moisture in the Eastern belt. A local authority issued an estimate calling for an increase of 6.2 per cent. increase in acreage, which seemed to attract little attention, as the season is still considered too early for a conservative view of the area. Port receipts for the day were liberal, but were exceeded by the exports, and interior sales were light. Southern spot markets were generally unchanged.

Estimated receipts at the ports to-day 16,000 bales, against 17,224 last week and 17,497 last year; for the week 78,000 bales, against 84,482 last week and 173,333 last year; to-day's receipts at New Orleans 4,216 bales, against 2,-772 last year, and at Houston 981, against 3,-385 last year.

Spot cotton opened quiet; middling uplands 11.75c; do gulf 12c. Closed quiet and unchanged; no sales.

The following is the range of prices for futures on the Cotton Exchange:

New Orleans, April 30.—The spot cotton market, influenced by scarcity of offerings, and the improved conditions in Liverpool, was much firmer to-day, the scant offerings being readily purchased at an advance of 1-16c. Sales 850 bales, including 400 to arrive and 50 f. o. b. Quotations: Ordinary 8⅝c; good ordinary 9 15-16c; low middling 10⅝c; middling 11⅝c; good middling 11⅞c; middling fair 12½c. Receipts 4,318 bales; stock 170,297. The future market was unchanged at the opening, but later a prominent bull operator offered 11.50c for 40,000 bales of May cotton. There were no sales at these figures. However, the aggressive action of the bull leaders had the effect of holding prices up. The trading was light. The closing was firm and within a point of the top, the list showing net gains of 9@18 points June having improved 5 points more than any other month. The range was as follows:

MONTH.	Opening.	High.	Low.	Close.
May	10.98	11.11	11.01	11.11

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, April 30.—Wet weather in the Southwest induced free selling of wheat on the local market to-day and caused general weakness. At the close wheat for July delivery was off ⅝@¾c. Corn was unchanged and oats were up ⅛c. Provisions were 10@12½c higher.

Sentiment in the wheat pit was bearish all day, but because of moderate buying of the May option by shorts prices held fairly steady early in the session. When this demand had been satisfied the market became heavy and closed weak, with prices almost at the lowest point of the day. General rains were reported in Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma, where the crop will be greatly benefited by the moisture. In the Northwest the weather was favorable for seeding. The weekly statistics were largely in favor of the bears. World shipments were larger than had been expected, and the amount of breadstuffs on ocean passage showed an increase of 1,656,000 bushels, compared with a decrease of 1,464,000 bushels last year. A dull demand for flour was reported from Kansas City, and it was rumored that a number of mills in the Southwest would soon close because of poor business. Primary receipts today were 293,000 bushels, against 228,000 bushels for the corresponding day last year. The principal trading to-day was in the July option. It opened ⅛@¼c to ¼@⅜c lower at 79⅝@79½c, sold off to 78⅞c and closed at 79c. May ranged between 78½@79⅞c and closed at 78⅛@78⅝c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 145,000 bushels. The visible supply decreased 2,722,000 bushels. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 374 cars, against 404 cars last week and 253 cars one year ago.

Trading in the corn pit was very quiet, and the market was easy all day. The chief business consisted of changing from the May delivery to the more distant options. Unsettled weather throughout the corn belt steadied the market somewhat. The close was steady, with prices unchanged from the final quotations of Saturday. July opened a shade lower to a shade higher at 46⅛@46¼c, sold between 46@46⅛c and 46⅜c and closed at 46⅛@46¼c. Local receipts were 287 cars, with 88 of contract grade.

The oats market was firm all day, but the volume of trading was small. The best buyers were commission houses and local shorts. The price of options was strengthened somewhat by a fair demand for cash oats. July opened unchanged to a shade higher at 30⅝@31c to 31c, sold up to 31⅛@31¼c, where it closed. Local receipts were 174 cars.

The provisions market was easy early in the day because of selling induced by a 5@10c decline in the price of live hogs. Later the market became firm on active support by local packers. At the close July pork was up 12½c at $15.90. Lard was up 10c at $8.75. Ribs were 10c higher at $8.70.

Estimated receipts for to-morrow: Wheat 3 cars; corn 385; oats 248; hogs 20,000 head.

COFFEE MARKET.

New York, April 30.—Spot, Rio quiet; mild steady; Cordova 10@12⅝c. The market for futures opened steady at a decline of 5@10 points, in response to rather disappointing European cables and heavy Brazilian receipts and a little selling for Wall street long account, which was supposed to result from the unsettled conditions of affairs in financial circles rather than from anything in the coffee situation. Trading was very quiet at the decline, and toward the close the market steadied up on near positions as a result of covering. The close was steady, net unchanged to 10 points lower. Sales were reported of 38,750 bags, including May at 6.45c, July at 6.60@6.65c, September at 6.80c, December at 7.05@7.10c, January at 7.15c and March at 7.25@7.30c.

New York.—The coffee market opened steady, but at a decline of 10 points on March and 5 on other positions as a result of somewhat disappointing cables and selling by Wall street longs, which was supposed to result more from the unsettled state of affairs in financial markets than from any less favorable opinion of the coffee market. Havre was ¼ franc lower at the hour of local opening and Hamburg declined a partial ¼ pfg. The rate of Brazilian exchange was 3-32d higher, but Rio declined 75 reis. Santos remained unchanged. Receipts continued full, with the two ports reporting 20,000 bags, against 9,000 last year, and Jundiahy receipts were 8,000 bags, against 3,000 last year. The warehouse deliveries for the week were heavier than for the previous period, but ran behind last year's figures, reaching 108,001 bags, against 167,124 last year. Receipts of coffee at two Brazilian ports for the week were 105,000 bags, against 46,000 for the same week last year and 77,000 for the same week two years ago.—(Ware & Leland.

It was decided to hold the reunion on June 12 in order not to conflict with the entertainment provided for returning ex-Kentuckians by Home-coming Week Executive Committee. In addition to the invitations issued by the Commercial Club, the Reunion Committee, of which John D. Askins is chairman, has had printed on Home-coming Week letterheads a special invitation which has been mailed to about 750 former inmates of the home.

The reunion will be the occasion of the first visit to the home for many years of George S. White, former superintendent. Mr. White has been in England since severing his connection with the Masonic Home, but is now in the United States. Those who return to the reunion will be entertained at the dormitory, and in addition to the formal exercises arranged Louisville Lodge No. 499, F. and A. M., has chartered a boat and extended an invitation to the boys and girls who have left the home to accompany the lodge on a river excursion to be given Friday, June 15.

The programme for June 12 includes supper with the children at 5:30 o'clock with an address by Mr. White. At 7:30 o'clock exercises will be held in the chapel, and addresses will be made by W. C. Williams, James Watson, Mark Gabhart, George Shaw and Miss Nora Kirch.

The graduates of the Masonic Home, as well as all other Masons coming to Louisville for Home-coming Week, have been requested to register as soon as they arrive at the Masonic club rooms in the Masonic building, where open house will be kept throughout Home-coming Week.

STAR FOUNDLING

GIVES GREAT JOY TO HEART OF JULIUS P. HILD.

Superintendent Board of Childrens' Guardians Exploits Its Virtues.

It isn't often that Julius P. Hild, superintendent of the Board of Children's Guardians, becomes highly enthusiastic over anything, but just now he is enjoying life. He has obtained something which is demanding all of his spare moments, and he is having a great time. It's a baby.

Mr. Hild, in his official capacity, has so many children to care for and attend to that it is not often that any particular one demands a great deal of attention, but the new foundling that is under his care is an unusual one.

"Say," he announced, in a hilarious tone yesterday afternoon at the City Hall. "You ought to see the kid we've got down there. He's just four weeks old and he weighs ten pounds. He's the healthiest baby I ever saw, and you ought to see him go after a bottle. He just grabs it in both hands and sucks away at it like an old toper. He's never been out of humor yet, and that is what makes the hit with me. Of course, I am always on the lookout for someone who wants to adopt our babies, but I'll promise one thing, that whoever gets this little fellow has to be strictly O. K. He's the prize beauty of them all, and I want to place him in some good home. I can tell by looking at him that he is going to grow up to be something, and I want him to have the right kind of a chance."

New Stop At Baxter Avenue.

For the accommodation of residents of the eastern section of this city, the Louisville and Nashville Railroad has constructed a platform at its crossing at Baxter avenue. Commencing May 1, train No. 6, leaving Union Station daily at 5:20 p. m., for Cincinnati, and trains Nos. 18 and 16, leaving Union Station at 7:00 a. m. and 2 p. m., daily except Sunday, for Lexington, will stop at this point. Train No. 5, from Cincinnati, arriving Union Station 11:40 a. m., daily, and trains Nos. 17 and 15, from Lexington, arriving Union Station 12:05 p. m. and 6:20 p. m., daily except Sunday, will also make this stop. No tickets will be on sale, nor can baggage be handled to and from this point. The leaving time eastward of all the above trains at Baxter avenue will be ten minutes later than from Union Station, and the arriving time of trains from the East ten minutes earlier.

DIGGING FOR GOLD.

NEGRO BUSILY ENGAGED IN MAKING EXCAVATION.

Tears Up Street In Confidence That His Dream Would Come True.

"Don't 'sturb me, boss; I'se diggin' fo' gold."

No amount of persuasion could make Matt Buckner, colored, believe that there wasn't a vast treasure buried under the pavement at Fifth and Green streets early yesterday morning, for he had dreamed that the bright shining metal was there, and he went on the theory that it would belong to the first person who could get it.

Accordingly he had risen early, procured a pick and hastened to the place where his vision had told him the wealth lay. He swung the pick vigorously for nearly an hour before anyone knew that he wasn't a regular street employe. Then an inspector for the Louisville Railway Company appeared and saw that Buckner was not one of the street brigade that is kept busy tearing up and replacing streets.

He accosted Buckner, who refused to be interrupted in his work and who only replied that the money was there; that he had dreamed it and that he must hurry. It did not take the inspector long to realize that Buckner probably was mentally unbalanced, and Patrolmen Hessian and Trompeter were called. They led Buckner away to jail on a charge of disorderly conduct. A lunacy inquest probably will be held on him in a few days.

FRAUD HINTED.

Mother-In-Law Wants Deed to Property Changed.

SAYS SHE SIGNED UNDER A MISAPPREHENSION.

ARGUMENT HEARD ON ROAD SUPERVISOR QUESTION.

WEIMER AND WATER CO. AGAIN

Nancy P. Moss sued Anna M. Moss, her daughter-in-law, to secure correction of a deed to fifty-five acres of land near Floyd's Fork, which it is averred was secured from the plaintiff either through fraud on the part of the defendant and her lawyer or through a mutual mistake.

The petition says that the plaintiff is eighty-five years of age, and that her eyesight is gone and her hearing bad, while her mental faculties are much impaired. It is set forth that in progress of negotiations relative to the land Anna M. Moss and her attorney went to the plaintiff while she was alone and secured her signature to the deed.

The property was left by Walter P. Moss, husband of Anna M. Moss and son of Nancy P. Moss. The widow was to have received one-half the personalty absolutely and one-third of the realty for life. However, the petition avers that the plaintiff and defendant came to an understanding by which Mrs. Moss, the younger, should relinquish her right in a five-acre tract left by the decedent and should receive as her share a life interest in the fifty-five-acre tract. The deed, it is charged, was drawn so as to give the defendant the absolute title instead of merely life interest in the fifty-five-acre tract. This condition of affairs, it is said, was not discovered until within the last week, when one of the plaintiff's sons examined the record in the County Clerk's office.

Denied Writ of Prohibition.

John Smith, driver of a water cart for Robert F. Weimer, yesterday applied to Judge O'Doherty for a writ of prohibition to prevent his trial in the Police Court before Judge John McCann upon the charge of stealing water from the Louisville Water Company.

For more than a year Weimer and the Louisville Water Company have been in litigation over certain supplies of water which Weimer says he needs to meet contracts for street sprinkling. He contends, however, that the water company wishes to discriminate against him and in favor of some one else in regard to street sprinkling, and for this reason has refused to supply the water. This is denied by the Louisville Water Company. Smith, as an employe of Weimer, is alleged to have drawn off a large quantity of water in his cart which was not equipped with a meter, and therefore the defendant had no means of ascertaining the amount taken. On Saturday the water company sued Weimer for $636.96, the alleged value of water said to have been taken in this way.

It was argued for Smith that water was not a subject of larceny, and that the water company did not exist as a corporation. This same contention was raised some time ago, when suit was brought to put the water company into the hands of a receiver. It is argued that because the water company did not accept the provisions of the new Constitution it went out of corporate existence in 1897.

Judge O'Doherty refused to grant the writ, holding that the opposing side should be given sufficient opportunity to set up a defense.

Road Supervisor Question.

The application for the temporary injunction made by R. W. Bingham, County Attorney to prevent John Dyler from acting as Road Supervisor and the Fiscal Court from operating under the present road system was argued yesterday before Judge Field. David W. Baird appeared for a majority of the Magistrates, who are resisting the appeal.

The case was taken under submission by Judge Field, who will give a decision at the earliest practicable moment, because as the matter stands now work on the roads is practically at a standstill.

Mr. Bingham asserts that the Fiscal Court did not proceed according to its rules in the selection of Mr. Dyler as Road Supervisor. It is Mr. Bingham's argument that the Fiscal Court is doing the road work under parts of two separate and distinct statutes instead of confining itself entirely to one.

Mr. Baird, for the majority of the court, contends that the Fiscal Court is not working the roads under parts of two statutes, but that it is operating under the so-called taxation method, the only substitute for which is for the people to work the roads themselves by allottment. He contended that the choice of a supervisor was entirely legal.

Will of James Joyce.

A copy of the will of James C. Joyce, which was probated April 20 in Fayette county, was admitted of record yesterday in the County Court. The testator, after giving $1 to each of his three sons, Thomas, Walter and Frank Joyce, bequeathes all his property, including a house and lot in this city, to his daughter, Mrs. Matilda Krieger. No executor is named. The will is dated April 3, 1906.

Court Paragraphs.

—The administrator of the estate of Mrs. D. A. Lutes sued C. H. Bostic for $500, alleged due on a note.

—Minnie Adams Holmes sued William Holmes for divorce, charging cruelty. They were married February 8, 1905.

—Spencer Price sued the Louisville Railway Company for $500 damages, alleging to have been struck by a car and injured.

—William R. Gregg sued the Louisville Railway Company for $850, alleging to have been injured in a collision with a car.

—C. Cann sued the Louisville Railway Company for $500 damages on account of injury alleged to have been done to two horses of the plaintiff which were struck by a car.

—Luther A. Williams sued the Louisville and Southern Indiana Traction Company for $1,900, charging that he was injured while at work on the defendant's roadbed near Jeffersonville.

Court of Appeals Decisions.

Caleb Wilson vs. I. C. R. R. Co.—Filed April 20, 1906.—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Ohio Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge O'Rear, reversing.

Railroads—Reservation as to Crossings in Deed—Estoppel.—Dan Wilson conveyed to the Owensboro, Falls of Rough and Green River Railroad Co., in 1882, a strip of land as right of way, reserving certain crossings. Subsequently he conveyed to his son a part of the land through which the road ran, and in an action by Dan Wilson against appellee, who has acquired the road, for damages because of its refusal to permit him to use crossings that he had made and for its failure to put in a switch, a judgment was had for $2,000. This suit was then begun by appellant because of the closing of the passway described in the former action. Held—Appellant was entitled to the crossing at the point to which he had opened it, but as he had once recovered of appellee the cost of constructing it, it was incumbent upon him to build it at his own expense. The former action does not work an estoppel here, but in view of it and the plea of the judgment in it, the appellant is limited to such sum as will compensate him for denied reasonable use of the passway in litigation since the date of the trial in the former action.

Heavrin & Woodward for appellant; J. M. Dickinson, Trabue, Doolan & Cox and H. P. Taylor for appellee.

C. M. Hughes vs. M. W. Owens, etc.—Filed April 19, 1906.—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Edmonson Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by John D. Carroll, Commissioner, affirming.

First—Lands—Adverse Possession—Evidence.—In order to hold land by adverse possession it is necessary not only that the claimant should have been in possession of the boundary for fifteen years, but that this possession was adverse, open and continuous to a well-defined marked boundary, and appellants failing to establish these essentials were not entitled to be adjudged the land in controversy.

Second — Instructions. — An instruction which directed the jury to find for the defendants "if they believed from the evidence that the defendants or either of them or those from whom or under whom they claim possession" * * * while inaccurate in the use of the word "or" instead of the word "and," could not have misled the jury because it does not appear that the persons under whom appellants claimed had ever asserted an adverse possession to entitle them to hold the land.

Third—Deeds.—The burden being upon appellants to show in what particulars appellee's deed was defective, and having failed to introduce any such evidence, the presumption must be indulged that every requisite essential to its validity was complied with in executing.

Milton Clark, J. S. Wortham for appellant; M. M. Logan, Ora E. Hazelip for appellee.

James G. Brown's Administrator vs. C., N. O. and T. P. Railway Company.—Filed April 19, 1906.—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Pulaski Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Chief Justice Hobson, reversing.

First—Railroads—Pleading.—In this action by appellant against appellee for damages for the death of her decedent, it having been brought under the statute, it was unnecessary for the petition to aver that deceased did not know or could not have known of the danger by the use of ordinary care on his part. This is a matter of defense to be pleaded by defendant.

Second—Same.—The petition setting up a cause of action, as it did in alleging that deceased was killed by reason of the negligence of defendant, it was error to sustain the demurrer to it.

W. A. Morrow, J. W. Colyar for appellant; John Galvin, O. H. Waddle for appellee.

Millard Keith vs. Commonwealth.—Filed April 20, 1906.—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Larue Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Chief Justice Hobson, affirming.

First—Criminal Law—Evidence. — The evidence showing that appellant went to the house of J. as a procurer to get the latter's daughter out for B.; that he was asked to leave and, refusing to do so, fired the first shot, wounding J.'s wife so that she died the following day—Held, That his conduct was without extenuation or excuse, and the instructions fairly submitting the issues to the jury and they having found him guilty of murder and fixed his punishment at confinement in the penitentiary for life, their verdict will not be disturbed.

Second — Dying Declarations. — The court below properly allowed in evidence the dying declarations of J.'s wife as to the circumstances attending the shooting, the proof clearly showing that at the time she made it she was beyond all hope of recovery, and that she made them under a sense of approaching dissolution at a time when she was rational and showing no signs of delirium.

Sam Y. Jones for appellant; N. B. Hays, C. H. Morris for appellee.

Fred Haase, Jr., vs. A. V. Schickner, etc.—Filed April 11, 1906—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Campbell Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by John D. Carroll, commissioner, affirming.

First—Landlord and Tenant—Forcible Entry and Detainer—Where appellee in May, 1900, let certain premises to Haase, Sr., the contract providing that if the rent was not paid monthly as due, or if the premises were underlet, the lease should terminate and the lessor have the right to re-enter, upon the trial of forcible detainer, a peremptory instruction in favor of the lessor was proper, where it appeared that the premises had been relet and no rental had been paid for about three years.

Second—Same—Appellant having taken possession of the premises under the original tenant, his occupancy under the assignment from him does not entitle him to any more rights and privileges that the tenant originally enjoyed, and having entered in virtue of the lease of the tenant, he will not be permitted to deny that he is a tenant and thereby defeat the right of the landlord to obtain possession of the premises by this proceeding.

A. M. Caldwell, Mat Moore, for appellant; Hall & McLean, Greene & Van Winkle, for appellees.

Shoemaker vs. Shoemaker. — Filed April 18, 1906.—(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Pendleton Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge O'Rear, affirming.

Partnership Settlements — Suit to Surcharge—Voluntary Settlements.—Where a partnership firm had a crude system of bookkeeping, and annual settlements were made by which the profits were then divided, in this action after the lapse of more than a year by one partner to surcharge the settlement, claiming that the books are incomplete, the burden being upon him to show the alleged errors, it is not shown satisfactorily that the sums claimed were not included in these settlements, and his action, therefore, must fail.

Applegate & Clark for appellant; John H. Barker for appellee.

Ben H. Brumley vs. Nicholls & Shepherd Company, etc.—Filed April 18, 1906. Appeal from Spencer Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Judge O'Rear, affirming.

First—Lands—Description of.—While it is a better practice to so describe land in the pleadings and judgment that it may be identified by the Commissioner executing the judgment and by persons interested, without reference to any other paper or record, still if it can be identified from the description given, the judgment is not void.

Second—Exception—Not Relied on in Circuit Court.—Where a fact was not made a ground of exception in the Circuit Court, it will not be considered upon appeal.

Chas. Carroll, Baird & Underwood for appellant; Greene & Van Winkle, L. W. Ross for appellee.

Ed Callahan, Sheriff, vs. Singer Manufacturing Company.—Filed April 19, 1906. —(Not to be reported.) Appeal from Breathitt Circuit Court. Opinion of the court by Chief Justice Hobson, affirming.

First—Construction of Statutes. — In this action by appellee seeking to correct its assessment of intangible property, the appellant, Sheriff, relies upon the act of March 19, 1894, and the act of March 19, 1900, amendatory of that act, but these acts were repealed by the general revenue law of March 29, 1902. (See Ky. Stats., page 1414.)

Second—Same.—The tangible property of a nonresident is taxable in this State (see Ayer & Lord Tie Company vs. Kentown, 28 R., 201), but until the Legislature provides for the taxation of intangible property and gives it a situs, it is not liable to assessment.

N. B. Hays, C. H. Morris, Hazelrigg, Chenault & Hazelrigg for appellant; Kelly Kash for appellee.

FACTS IN NATURE.

Not Only Do We Get Inspiration From Nature, But Health as Well.

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, or torpid liver, coated tongue with bitter taste in the morning and poor appetite, it becomes necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthener which will assist Nature and help them to get on their feet and put the body into its proper condition. It is becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable healing-giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce, now consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., discovered that by scientifically extracting and combining certain medicinal principles from native roots, taken from our American forests, he could produce a medicine which was marvelously efficient in curing cases of blood disorder and liver and stomach trouble as well as many other chronic, or lingering ailments. This concentrated extract of Nature's vitality he named "Golden Medical Discovery." It purifies the blood by putting the stomach and liver into healthy condition, thereby helping the digestion and assimilation of food which feeds the blood. Thereby it cures weak stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, or biliousness, and kindred derangements.

If you have coated tongue, with bitter or bad taste in the morning, frequent headaches, feel weak, easily tired, stitches or pain in side, back gives out easily and aches, belching of gas, constipation, or irregular bowels, feel flashes of heat alternating with chilly sensations or kindred symptoms, they point to derangement of your stomach, liver and kidneys, which the "Golden Medical Discovery" will correct more speedily and permanently than any other known agent. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed in plain English on wrapper.

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make a little more profit. He gains; you lose. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a laxative: two or three are cathartic.
